TESTING PROCESS AT THE CORUM SMELTER

CORAM, Cal., Sept. 23.—This will be an eventful day in Coram. Some time during the day the actual starting up of the Hall process experimental plant will be made by the feeding of twenty tons of ore into the McDougal furnace, which may be described as a roasting oven. The Hall process consists essentially of burning the sulphur from the ore and the collecting it between certain temperatures, above which the furnace must not go. The oil burners and gas generators are in good shape. The McDougal furnace was warmed up yesterday. It has a capacity of twenty tons a day. Actual results will not be determined for several days. Twenty prominent citizens and mining men of Redding and Kennett are on the ground today to witness the starting up of the experimental plant that has been under construction for nearly two months and which has cost $75,000. The process is one of eliminating sulphur from ore before it goes to the smelting furnace proper. Having proved so satisfactory in East Tennessee, the management here has the utmost confidence that the test being made today will prove a success. The company's million dollar smelter has stood idle two years because of the death angel has called from this earth, our beloved brother, W. W. Elfert, therefore. Be it resolved, that Talisman Temple No. 46 does hereby extend to our bereaved members, Sisters W. W. Elfert, Frank Isaacs, and J. J. Buchter and to each member of bereaved family, the heartfelt condolence of all members of this temple, and Be it further resolved, that we commend them and each of them, to the Divine guidance of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, and that in addition to the remembrance of a great love and devotion of a dear husband and father there may come to them as further consolation in their bereavement, a firm faith and purpose to reunite with him in the supreme temple above where all the mysteries of life and death are solved and where all wounds are healed. Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy to the daily papers and a copy spread upon the minutes of this temple. Dated Sept. 16, 1913. MRS. JOHN A. PERL, SADIE VAN DYKE, MRS. R. R. EBEL, Committee.

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

Look Young! Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell. Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
