BLAME WASTE FOR LIVING COST

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 .- President John Russell of the Master Butchers' Association, addressing the packers on the subject of the high cost of living. said:

"The American, even the poor one, demands the choicest cuts of meat. His wife, trimming it, throws 25 per cent of it away instead of saving it and putting it to some other use. The butcher does the same thing. He throws away unsable meat and in the end the consumer pays for our carelessness as well as his own. "Wastefulness in the butcher shop and in the home tends to decrease the meat supply and increase prices."

LOWER LUMBER RATES TO CALIFORNIAL POINTS

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 24.-To stimulate the lumber industry in the Willamette valley, Southern Pacific officials are today considering a reduction in rates from points to points in California north of San Francisco bay. If the reduction is made it is understood millowners of Portland will appeal to the interstate commerce commission on the grounds that they will be discriminated against.
