SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush This Through Faded, Lifeless Locks and They Become Dark, Glossy, Youthful

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

YOU'VE got to shoot quick when you are in the brush, and then with the standard shell in a choke bore gun, you usually blow your bird all to pieces.

Next time you're out, take along a few Remington-UMC Scatter Loads—Arrow or Nitro Club—for close shooting. They give the same spread at 25 yards as the standard load at 40 yards—and greater penetration. Do not mutilate your bird.

The steel lining gives the speed, and the special system of wadding spreads the pattern.

Prove it on a paper target with your good old duck gun. Get Scatter Load Shells at your dealer.

Remington-UMC—the perfect shooting combination. Look for the Red Ball mark on every box of ammunition you buy.
