

THESE ARE THE PLAYERS WHO WILL CLASH IN THE WORLD'S SERIES TO-MORROW.

PLAN SCENIC ROAD TO SCALE SUMMIT MOUNT ROXY ANN

A party of Medford citizens made a trip up to the top of Roxy Ann yesterday and returned filled with enthusiasm over the proposal to establish an auto road to the top of the mountain. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Vawter, J. A. Westlund, Vernon Vawter, J. A. Anderson, J. J. Baker and C. Y. Tengwald. The party made the trip by auto from Medford, over the road through the Westlund orchards and up to the homestead of Mr. Baker. From that point, where the present road ends, teams took the party over an easy, practicable route through Mr. Baker's property up the ridge to a point a few hundred feet away from the summit.

The view from the top is magnificent. Mt. Shasta, Mt. McLaughlin and the rim of Crater Lake, and other peaks are in plain view, and the whole of the Rogue river valley spread out as it can be seen from no other one point in Jackson county.

The expenditure of a few hundred dollars to complete the road beyond Mr. Baker's home would provide easy access to the summit by auto through the entire dry season. The route would pass the Hillcrest orchard on the way to Westlund's gate which is now a good all-the-year-round road; the road through the Westlund orchard, (for the first mile and a half through "Cherry Lane.") is kept in prime condition for auto travel during the dry season; from the end of "Cherry Lane," it continues through the rest of the orchard, and on to Baker's homestead; Mr. Baker has made a fine road, on easy grade, except for a few short rises, all the way from the Westlund line to his own door.

Two fifty or three hundred dollars could be raised by popular subscription to finish the road to the top, and the valley would then have easy access, one of the most beautiful scenic drives to be found anywhere in America.

MRS. SINCLAIR'S AFFINITY DEPORTED AS UNDESIRABLE

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 6.—Preliminary to his deportation, Harry Kemp, who arrived here as a stowaway from New York, was sentenced today to twenty-one days' imprisonment at hard labor. It was Kemp who eloped with Mrs. Upton Sinclair.

ART STUDENT KILLED BODY DISCOVERED CHICAGO SUBURB

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Positive identification of the woman's corpse, found Sunday on the prairie near the suburb of Argo, as that of Miss Ida Leegson, an art student, was secured by the police today.

That the woman was strangled was also proven definitely. The authorities were seeking a "Mr. Wilson," who, it was learned, telephoned to Miss Leegson at her boarding place in Chicago, offering her a position as nurse, which she accepted. The police believed the offer was simply intended to lure her from home.

The body was found by Charles Kluck, a hunter. About the neck was the mark of a strong cord, which lay nearby. The body was almost nude and the woman's clothing, torn to shreds, was scattered about the spot. Automobile tracks indicated that the crime was committed elsewhere and the body brought to a lonely place on the prairie, tumbled out and abandoned. Physicians said the woman had been dead four or five hours when her corpse was found.

Miss Leegson, who was about thirty-five years of age, formerly taught school in Mason City, Iowa. She had been a student at the Chicago Art Institute at intervals, however, for several years, and her instructor, Lorado Taft, said had much talent as a sculptress.

BARBARY COAST GIRLS ATTEMPT SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 6.—"We are just two of the 500—two of the dancehall girls who eked out an existence on the Barbary Coast. Society and club women closed up the resorts, thinking it was best for us. But was it? We've gone hungry for days. Why didn't these women stand behind us until we got on our feet? They took the food from our mouths and threw us out on the streets—some of us to starve."

This joint note was found here today beside Lottie Lane, aged 25, and Lizzie Hart, 25, who attempted suicide by inhaling gas. They were rushed to a hospital, where it was said they would recover.

PRISON SYSTEM BAD SAYS OSBORNE

AUBURN, N. W., Oct. 6.—Thomas Mott Osborne, chairman of the state commission on prison reform, was recuperating today at his home here from the effects of his week's "stretch" in Auburn state penitentiary, undertaken voluntarily to find out what it really is like to be a convict.

The whole prison system is bad, he declared, but he might have gone through a week of it without serious physical suffering if, near the end, he had not tried the experiment of refusing to work and consequently spent his last twelve hours in the "dungeon." It cost him several pounds in weight and gave him, he said, a glimpse into "the innermost recesses of the inferno."

Osborne shortly will begin his report to the commission, and said he hopes to translate his experiences into "something of great value to every citizen of New York state."

JONQUIL GIRLS SUE BIXBY FOR DAMAGES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 6.—Damage suits brought against Geo. H. Bixby of Long Beach by Cleo Helen Barker, Jeanette Ellis and Irene Marie Brown Levy were set today for trial before Superior Judge Yorke February 28, 1914. Each girl asks $50,000. Bixby, a millionaire banker, recently was acquitted of a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Miss Barker.

POSTAL WINS OVER WESTERN UNION

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 6.—The Western Union Telegraph company was enjoined by Federal Judge Wolverton in a decision today from interfering with the operations of the Postal Telegraph company in the maintenance of a pole line along the right of way of the Southern Pacific from Eugene to New Era, Ore., a distance of 103 miles.

The Postal had entered into an agreement with the Southern Pacific company by which the cross arms of its poles should be over the right of way. The Western Union, which also had a line along the right of way, refused to accept the clauses of the agreement on the ground that it had an exclusive contract with the Southern Pacific company.

Judge Wolverton held that such an exclusive contract was unlawful.

PITCHER COOMBS ILL; ATHLETICS WEAKENED

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Jack Coombs, one of Mack's best twirlers, and the hero of the 1911 series with New York, is in a hospital here with a fourteen pound weight on each foot and eight pound weight attached to his head dragging his vertebrae apart. He has arranged for his wife to sit at his bedside, a telephone in her hand and get the accounts of the games played.

Coombs is the idol of his fellow-Athletics. When the club was in a slump several weeks ago, Manager Mack had Coombs, then partially recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, get into his uniform for the moral effect it would have on his teammates. The plan was a success and the Athletics started at once to win. It was learned today that Mack planned to use Coombs in the same way during the world's series, but he suffered a relapse.

REDDING, Cal., Oct. 6.—The police were having more trouble than they expected today to find the men who tried to wreck the Portland Express Saturday night on the Southern Pacific by piling ties on the track in Hobo Gulch. The only footprints they could find matched the shoes worn by J. F. Johnson, an employe in the pumping station, who himself flagged the train and prevented an accident.

NOT GUILTY PLEA BY CUSTOMS GUARDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 6.—"Not guilty" was the plea entered today before United States District Judge Dooling here by thirteen former government employes, including nine customs guards, under indictment on charges of conspiring to smuggle opium into the United States.

"These men," said Special Agent Tidwell of the treasury department, "were the head and front of the most gigantic smuggling ring ever operating on this coast. We have a dead open and shut case against them."

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Prices declined sharply under heavy pressure against the leading issues when the stock market opened today. Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Agricultural Chemical each fell 1, Canadian Pacific 1 5-8, New Haven 2 and American Tobacco 3 points, while Steel was hammered down two points or more. Bonds were easy.

BEND TO MEDFORD IN FOURTEEN HOURS

Seely Hall, in his 1913 Cadillac six made a record run from Bend, Or., to Medford, covering the distance of 215 miles in fourteen hours, leaving Bend at 1:30 a. m. Saturday and arriving in Medford at 3:30 p. m. In all this distance the engine was not stopped once or water put in the radiator.

YUAN ELECTED PRESIDENT

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6.—Government troops were reported today as furiously attacking Tsao Yang, in the north of Hupeh province, where a big force of bandits is entrenched. It was this band which recently captured several American and Norwegian missionaries, residents of Tsao Yang, killing one and dreadfully mistreating the rest.

The troops' orders were to parley for the missionaries' release before attacking, but the bandits opened the fight.

POLICE BATTLE

In their midst, the police rushed for the exit. A taxi cab was waiting for them. They tumbled Miss Kenny into the vehicle, the chauffeur put on all speed and a quick run was made.

MELANCHOLY, DESFONDENT WOMEN are always afraid "something is going to happen," and will naturally see the dark side of everything when tormented by headaches, backache, dizziness, nervousness, the tortures of a displacement, or an ulcerative, inflammatory condition. Such women should remember that for more than thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the safe-guard of woman's health and restored more women to health and happiness than any other remedy and where there is health there is no melancholy.

to the prison. Hundreds of screaming suffragettes chased the cab through the streets until it outdistanced them.

Clad in Underwear Besides Miss Kenny there were arrested five women and two men, including a clergyman.

O'Brien's hat and stick were sold at auction after the meeting, the former for $25 and the latter for $31.50. Miss Kenny's outer clothing was torn off during the struggle in the pavilion and she reached Holloway prison clad only in her tattered underclothing.

HOTEL SWINDLER HELD

ing evidence of a magical nature, that returned. White testified that he turned over a shirt box to a Postal Telegraph messenger full of shirts, and when it reached the Medford Hotel it was full of Sacramento papers of an old date. In explaining the transition from shirts to news Mr. White told a tangled tale that the court did not believe.

Evidence was introduced proving conclusively the movements of White, including his operations in Grants Pass and Ashland, where he is alleged to have swindled, and attempted to swindle. The sheriff's office will take a picture of White and send it to the Burns and Pinkerton detective agencies for identification, the local authorities believing that he has a long criminal record. He is the shrewdest gent the local police have had anything to do with in a long time.
