

ATHLETICS DEFEAT GIANTS 6 TO 4

HOME RUN BY BAKER IN FIFTH DECIDES GAME

Athletic Sluggers Light on Marquard, Who Is Followed by Crandall and Tesreau—Bender Pitches Entire Nine Innings for Phillies.

Official Attendance 36,291 and the Receipts $75,255.50—Play in Philadelphia Tomorrow.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"Home Run" Baker, the Trappe, Md., boy, made good again today with the usual result.

The Athletics beat the Giants in the opening game of the 1913 world's series by a score of 6 to 4.

History not only seems to repeat itself with Baker and the Giants. It fairly stutters. Mack's mighty swatter, chief factor in the Athletics' victory of 1911, and the man who is credited with doing more damage to McGraw's championship hopes in recent years than any other individual, poked a homerun into the rightfield bleachers in the fifth stanza of this afternoon's game, and the result is that the Philadelphia are one up on the Giants at the first sundown.

While the box score shows each of the contestants credited with eleven safe slams, the difference in the scoring is more readily accounted for when it is remembered that of the safe connections by the Mackmen, two were for doubles, two for triples, while another was a round-up. Three Giant slammers essayed the role of Athletic-killers, Marquard, Crandall and Tesreau being trotted out in order. But of the three, only the latter escaped with exitus intact. On the other hand, Bender, the veteran Indian, mainstay of Mack's delivery counter, went the full distance, and while he was touched up rather freely by the Giant men, breezed in at the finish with something to spare.

Three Pitchers Used
Marquard's finish was forecasted in the fourth inning when Collins opened with a smashing triple and Baker, Barry and Schanz added to the safety with a single, a double and triple in order. Crandall made a splendid start in the sixth after Baker's home run in the fifth had sent Rube to the bench and again in the seventh retired the side in order, but in the eighth frame the Mackmen got to him, when Collins, in his third accredited time at bat, started the inning with his third hit of the game, and Baker and McInnes followed with a single and double.

The official paid attendance at today's game was 36,291, and the receipts $75,255.50.

The National Commission received from today's game $7,325.55; the players' share amounts to $40,637.97 and each club receives $12,545.99.

NEGRO SUSPECTED IN MURDER MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The police suspected today that it was a negro who murdered Miss Ida Leegson, the art student found dead on the prairie in the outskirts of town Saturday morning.

A young woman answering her description was seen walking with a black man on the west side Saturday afternoon and a general order was issued today for a hunt for him.

An abandoned automobile also was found not far from the spot where the corpse lay, and it was in this machine, the authorities conjecture, that she was taken to the place. The car was stolen Saturday afternoon from Jackson Park.

Miss Leegson seems to have fallen into her captor's hands about 6 o'clock Saturday night, and as she had been dead but a short time when found, Coroner's Physician Sprinckers expressed the opinion that she was tortured from soon after that hour until 5 on 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

MR. MARSHALL, WHO ARGUED BEFORE JUDGE CULLEN AGAINST VALIDITY OF SULZER'S IMPEACHMENT.

LOUIS MARSHALL

CHIEF JUDGE EDGAR M. CULLEN

SULZER TRIED TO COMPROMISE WITH MURPHY

Impeachment Court Overrules Cullen's Decision, Recalls Ryan and Hears More of Governors' Double Dealing.

Sulzer's Doom Foreseen—Has Angered All Parties by Efforts to Save Himself From Impeachment.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The Sulzer impeachment court, in executive session, voted, 41 to 14 to overrule Chief Justice Cullen's decision that Allan A. Ryan's testimony before the court yesterday was inadmissible.

The vote indicated an overwhelming anti-Sulzer sentiment. The Tammany members of the court of course, have been against the governor from the first. Ryan's story that the executive tried to make his position secure through them evidently has infuriated the republicans also.

The outlook for Sulzer was, in consequence, considered extremely dark.

Ryan, recalled as soon as the court had voted against striking his testimony from the record, considerably amplified the story he told yesterday.

Not only, he said, did Sulzer try to influence the republican senators through Root and Barnes, but he also wanted Ryan to have Delancey Nicol see "Boss" Murphy of Tammany and persuade him to call the impeachment trial off.

The method the governor suggested, Ryan explained, was to have the senate vote that the lower house had exceeded its authority in impeaching him at an extraordinary session of the legislature.

VOLIVA SEEKS TO PURGE ZION OF NICOTINE FUMES

ZION CITY, Ill., Oct. 7.—Dowieites and anti-Dowieites in this city founded by the prophet John Alexander Dowie, are primed for the battle to be fought before the state supreme court at Springfield this month, by which Overseer Voliva hopes to purge Zion City of the vapors of nicotine.

Voliva will seek to oust the F. B. Cook Electrical company and its tobacco smoking employees from Zion City on the ground that they violated their contract with the Dowieites by failing to employ the number of men specified in their contract, and by beginning operations twelve months after the specified date. This will be the technical objection raised by Voliva to the presence of the company on Zion City land. The real motive behind the fight is the fact that the electrical workers employed by the Cook company have persistently defied the Dowieite authorities in the enforcement of the ordinance forbidding tobacco smoking in Zion City.

For fifteen months the elders of Zion City have sought in vain to convert the "heathen" electrical workers. They erected a little platform across the street from the plant and held two religious meetings daily, regardless of weather conditions. Street parades were an additional feature, the Dowieites descending upon the plant by hundreds, and several riots occurred. Two of the elders were beaten and lay at the point of death for several weeks, but the daily meetings continued.

BROKEN FLASK CAUSE OF WOMAN'S ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 7.—After pleading with J. J. Linehan, saloonkeeper, to sell her husband no more drinks, Mrs. James Conkley found a flask of whisky in his pocket. She smashed it in the street in front of Linehan's saloon. Although she is the mother of a five weeks' old child, Linehan insisted on her arrest for disturbing the peace. Hardened police court habitués cried when she told her story to a magistrate today. The judge dismissed the case and gave the woman $20. Linehan will appear before the police commission and may lose his license.

REACTION IN PRICES ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Reaction in prices marked the opening of the stock market today. Later speculative interest toned down and the market lost some of its stability. American Telephone declined 1/2. Bonds were steady.
