NARROW ESCAPE AT HELL GATE FOR AUTOS

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 8.—An appalling accident was narrowly averted Sunday afternoon when three automobiles met near Hells Gate on a narrow grade overlooking Rogue river. Sam Williams and Alfred Letcher in their automobiles were returning from Galice. Mr. Williams was ahead, and in rounding a point espied Commissioner C. L. Barlow coming down the grade. He turned out against the bank to allow Mr. Barlow to pass. Mr. Letcher, thinking that Williams had turned out for him to pass, went ahead full speed and a head-on collision was in sight. Barlow applied the brakes and put on the emergency, but was unable to stop and turned out to clear the two machines. He and two companions in the car gave a leap and landed in the road. The car struck a tree and started to pitch over the bank and into the river, but hung on a balance at the verge of the precipice. Everyone was badly frightened, but no one was hurt, and when Mr. Barlow's little Brush car was pulled back into the road he continued his journey toward home.

KINLEYSIDE ROBBED ATTENDING RECEPTION

W. C. Kinleyside and family Tuesday night went to attend a reception given to the Rev. E. O. Eldridge, and when they reached home discovered that a burglar had entered the house through the back door and stolen about $3 in change. The prowler was a careless individual, for he overlooked $40. The police were notified and Mr. Kinleyside alleges that they did not show the proper alacrity in getting after clues.

During the last week there have been several small thefts reported, and the police are of the opinion that one man is doing all the work. A week ago A. C. Hollister lost a pair of pants and $6 by a burglar who entered his house while he was sleeping.

FAMED MURDER CASE IN COURT

the crown appealed, with the result that the verdict was reversed and they were convicted and sentenced to a year's hard labor each.

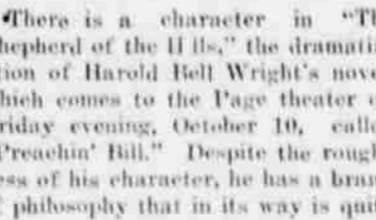

Animus Against Jews

In order to strengthen its case, the government caused widespread publication of a statement made to the examining magistrate by the Arch-mandrite Ambrosius, vicar of the Orthodox monastery at Kieff, to the effect that two monks, proselyted from the Jewish faith, had minutely described to him the practice of "ritual murder." His testimony was supported by Professor Sikorsky of St. Vladimir university at Kieff, who held that the nature of Yuschinsky's sounds gave every indication of "ritual murder," that the boy manifestly had been tortured before death, and that several persons were probably party to the crime. As further emphasizing the attitude of the government, the chief of the Odessa school district, who openly disputed Professor Sikorsky's contentions, was dismissed from his post.

In the meantime the case had attracted world-wide attention. Many prominent men in England, including the archbishops of Canterbury and York, Lord Roseberry, Auston Chamberlain, A. J. Balfour and scores of university professors, scientists and ministers of the gospel signed and sent out to Russia a strongly worded protest against the "blood accusation." In England, France, Austria and Germany, full reports of the inquest on the murdered boy were submitted to unprejudiced boards of medico-legal experts, who united in declaring that he was not tortured nor was the blood removed from the body, as alleged.

PREACHIN' BILL LIKE DAVID HARUM

There is a character in "The Shepherd of the Hills," the dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's novel, which comes to the Page theater on Friday evening, October 10, called "Preachin' Bill." Despite the roughness of his character, he has a brand of philosophy that in its way is quite equal to that of "David Harum." Some of his sayings are:

"Some fellers can do mighty big things in a dummed little way."

"Every hound has his strong points, but some has more of 'em."

"There is a bond of fellowship in sorrow that knows no conventionalities."

"God 'mighty fixed it somehow so th' birds and varmints don't make no mistake, but left hit plumb easy for men and women t' make dummed fools of themselves."

"Hit's good for a feller t' be down in the back end in a while, if hit warn't for that we'd git to standin'."

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look Mother! If Tongue Is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs" to Clean the Bowels

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ill; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again.

All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly printed on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Misery in Stomach

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quick-est, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.
