

WALDO LEADS RAID UPON CHINATOWN GAMBLING JOINTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—"You can never tell from where you sit." That expresses the feelings, just now, of New York's half world. Immediately after all the newspapers carried stories that the new mayor, Adolph Kline, proposed to "take the lid off." Police Commissioner Rhinelandt personally led a raiding squad into Chinatown and "pulled" a bunch of gambling joints. Not only that, but he went to the police station, supposed to govern the welfare of Chinatown, and stripped the shields from a police captain, a sergeant and several detectives. Of course Mayor Kline never said he was going to tolerate gambling or any kind of lawlessness, and the gamblers had no right to think that he would, but the new mayor did say that he would grant all-night liquor licenses to some of the restaurants and not enforce the I. a. m. closing that was the hobby of the late Mayor Gaynor. The tenderloin jumped at conclusions. They were mistaken when they thought that Mayor Kline accompanied his statement with a wink.

Commissioner Waldo's activity came as a double jolt to the gamblers, and perhaps some of the police who are supposed to be in the "system" for the first Chinatown raid came after a report that District Attorney Charles S. Whitman had consented to help Mayor Kline run the police department. It was said that at the mayor's request Whitman agreed to keep an eye on the police. Waldo, it was said, was not to be removed, but he would be a mere figurehead, the mayor and the district attorney bossing his department. To demonstrate that he is still alive, Waldo at once swooped down on Chinatown and juggled several wagon loads of fanton playing Celestials. He did not make a spectacular raid like those that William Travers Jerome was so fond of when he was district attorney, such as breaking into upper tenderloin gambling resorts with an ax, but Waldo was there in person and was the first man to enter the raided places. The next night he conducted some more raids, until both the gamblers and Waldo's subordinates never know where the commissioner will turn up next.

FIND CONTINENT AT NORTH POLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Scientists here expressed surprise today at the news of the discovery by the Russian Arctic expedition under Commander Wilkitzky of a body of land in the far north large enough to be referred to as a possible continent. That a hitherto undiscovered land lies in the position described by Wilkitzky they said they thought likely enough, but if "Nicholas II land" proves to be of continental proportions they admitted they would be astonished.

THAW RE-INDICTED IN DUCHESS COUNTY

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 13.—Harry Thaw grinned when asked today for some comment on the published statement that there was no record of the rescinding of an indictment against him in Dutchess county, New York. That's true enough," he said, "and for the excellent reason that no indictment was ever returned against me there. The alleged certified copy of one sent to Governor Felker of New Hampshire was a misrepresentation."

CHINESE GIRL MEMBER OF AMERICAN SORORITY

WELLESLEY, Mass., Oct. 13.—The distinction of being the first Chinese girl ever to enter an American sorority today belongs to Miss Chi Che Wang of Soo Chow, China. Miss Wang has just been elected a member of the Beta Epsilon society at Wellesley college.

FEDERAL AGENTS HUNT FOR SUSPECTED HINDU

RICHMOND, Cal., Oct. 13.—Federal agents today aided in the search for Said Ali Khan, the Hindu suspected of the murder of Rosa Domingo. Sheriff Veale of this county believes Khan will attempt to flee to Canada.

FEDERAL SUPREME COURT MEETS IN OCTOBER SESSION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—With all the pomp and judicial dignity of precedent, the supreme court of the United States today met promptly at noon for the October term. In accordance with tradition which decrees that the court shall conduct no judicial business on the first day, the session was brief. Following the ceremonies and presentation of Solicitor General Davis by Attorney General McKeen, the justices repaired to the white house and were greeted by President Wilson.

Chief Justice White, led the associate justices garbed in their long black silk robes into the chamber promptly on the minute of twelve o'clock today. The justices marched in in the order of their service on the highest bench as follows: Justices McKenna, Holmes, Day, Lurton, Hughes, Van Devanter, Lamar and Pitney. A respectful hush overspread the chamber as the procession entered and all arose and remained standing until the court ascended the bench. At a given signal from Chief Justice White spectators and court officers, including the attorney general, were seated and the session began. Following the solicitor general's presentation court adjourned for the visit to the white house.

Following ancient custom, Chief Justice White was the first to enter the executive mansion and grasp the president's hand. Seniority is one of the strict rules of the highest judicial body. The chief justice chatted for a moment with the president and passed on. Justice McKenna followed and the remaining justices were formally greeted by the chief executive. The more formal greeting preceded an informal exchange of pleasantries between President Wilson and his visitors before the latter returned to the Capitol where work incident to disposing of the heavy October term docket was immediately begun.

The court will meet again tomorrow to hear arguments on the most advanced cases of the docket. A large list of these have been set forward. The first decisions of the October term will be handed down on Monday, October 29.

FOREIGNERS PLEASED WITH OUR APPLES

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 13.—So well pleased have South African buyers become over their purchases of apples in the Pacific Northwest this season that it is likely that practically all the foreign apples hereafter bought for that market will come from this section.

The Northwest Fruit Exchange of this city secured some rather liberal business this season from Johannesburg parties. This was their first experience with the fruit from this section and they are mighty glad that they made the experiment. All told the South African parties purchased 25 cars of apples in the Pacific northwest.

Prior to coming here they had purchased about seventy-five cars at Nova Scotia as in former years they had purchased all their requirements there. Hearing even in Nova Scotia of the wonderful fruit of the Pacific northwest, the Johannesburg parties took the first train for Portland and soon made their initial purchases. The last shipment of Pacific northwest apples to South Africa will be made via Montreal October 28th.

The fact that the new fruit crop of their home sections comes into the markets about the turn of the year precludes further purchases for this season here.

ROBBED TWICE THEN LOSES HIS WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 13.—Twice robbed of cash in one day, and then to lose his wife is the hard luck story told here today by Thomas Michand, a Winnipeg mining man.

Michand notified the police that he had been robbed of $170 early yesterday and then badly beaten. Later in the day he says he was beaten up again and robbed of a wallet containing $2200. Mrs. Michand, he said, had disappeared from a local hotel, and he has been unable to find any trace of her.

OIL KING HELPS GOSPEL BOAT

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 13.—The good ship Gospel Boat, piloted through the water front section and the residential district, and from which Chaplain J. D. Jones, former sailor and civil war veteran, will fish for the souls of men, is expected once more to become a familiar sight to Clevelanders. And John D. Rockefeller may be her sponsor.

The Gospel Boat was launched twelve years ago by Chaplain Jones as the Floating Bethel Mission. She is an eighteen-foot yawl, mounted on wheels and drawn by a team of horses. She made port wherever a crowd could be gathered. Within her cockpit stood an altar, a pile of hymn books and a melodeon. At her port and starboard bows hung the regulation red and green lights. A her stern floated the Stars and Stripes.

A few years ago the failing health of Chaplain Jones forced him to turn the helm over to Rev. Henry Hager, then pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, better known as John D. Rockefeller's church. It is through the rector of the Euclid Avenue house of worship that Rockefeller gives much of his benefactions. A short time later the boat was "dry-docked" in a barn and has lain there ever since. But now her original pilot has come back. A few days ago he attended services at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church and spoke to the oil king and the pastor, Rev. W. W. Bustard, concerning placing the boat again in commission. It is said Rockefeller heartily agreed to aid in the re-launching.

KING'S MALADY WAKES DEFECTIVES

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The lameness which has hampered King Alfonso's participation in the entertainments at Madrid in honor of French President Poincare is merely another symptom, it was said here today, of the illness which has necessitated repeated removals of pieces of bone from his head.

The same trouble, according to common report, was responsible for the King's father's death and has made defectives of all his children.

MANY VESSELS LOST IN ALASKAN STORM

NOME, Oct. 13.—Reports from up and down the coast indicated today that the toll of dead of the recent storm is as yet far from complete. Wrecks, it was said, are scattered along the beach for many miles and arrivals from the Siberian coast tell of several vessels lost there. The craft were small, but the total of their crews may run into the dozens.

STEAMER LA TOURNAIE WITH SURVIVORS DUE TUESDAY

HAVER, France, Oct. 13.—Wireless messages reported that the steamship La Tournaie, with its share of the survivors from the Volturno, would arrive here tomorrow.

Guy Borden, Pacer, Dead

HANFORD, Cal., Oct. 13.—Guy Borden, a five-year-old pacer, owned by P. Acuirre, is dead here today after winning a number of races at the recent Hanford fair. Acuirre was considering an $8000 offer for the horse when it died.

CHINESE OPERATE FIRST TROLLEY LINE

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13.—The first electric street car system to be financed, constructed and operated solely by Chinese was opened a few days ago in the native city. By native city is meant old Shanghai, or the section under Chinese jurisdiction as distinguished from the International Settlement which is controlled by foreign residents.

No foreigner was allowed to subscribe a cent of the $130,000 or 200,000 taels which was raised to finance the project. All the construction work was done by Chinese contractors, and the management and working staff are all Chinese. The finished job is eminently satisfactory in view of the fact that previous to this attempt the Chinese have had no practical experience in such work without foreign direction. The only foreigner connected with the enterprise was E. Kocher, a consulting engineer.

Just at present the new line is only three miles long, running from the Chinese water front from the Marche de Fiset to the Shanghai terminus of the Hangchow railroad. An extension of a half mile to the Arsenal road has already been begun, and it is planned to further enlarge the service by building a line on the boulevard which is to encircle the old native city, on the ground formerly occupied by the ancient city wall. The native city has a population estimated at 250,000. Six cars are now in operation and twelve more are being made by the Chinese car builders, the Yur Sing company. The electrical apparatus was bought in Germany.

INVENTOR'S BODY FOUND AT MOUTH OF SCHELDT

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 13.—The body of a man, believed to be that of Theodore Deisel, an inventor who disappeared two weeks ago while on his way from Antwerp to London, was found at the mouth of the Scheldt river today. Owing to the high waves the body was not brought in today, but it was said all identification marks had been removed from the clothing. Deisel's son is en route here from Berlin.

JESSE B. IRVINE DEAD OF PARALYSIS AT ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Ore., Oct. 13.—Jesse B. Irvine, aged 83, of Corvallis, is dead here today from paralysis. Irvine came here ten days ago for the benefit of his health. He filled many positions of honor and trust in the state and served for many years as mayor of Corvallis. Among the children who survive him is R. F. Irvine, assistant editor of the Oregon Journal, Portland.

SURGEON'S KNIFE CHANGES CRIMINAL INTO GENTLEMAN

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 13.—From an habitual criminal, showing at times tendencies to violent insanity, Jeff Lee, a prisoner at the penitentiary here, has been transformed into a quiet, gentle man, perfectly sane. The skill of the surgeon has made Jeff Lee a new man. Recently his skull was trephined and a pressure on the brain removed. As a result, Warden Tynan today announced that his cure had been effected.

Until the operation, half of Lee's twenty years had been replete with criminal acts and periods of insanity. He went to the penitentiary in December, 1912, to serve from two to five years for burglary and grand larceny. He was sullen and mean; he constantly defied the warden and ignored the prison rules. Two months ago he attacked a fellow prisoner and when put in a strait-jacket showed indications of insanity.

Until Jeff was ten years old he was a quiet, well-mannered, lovable boy. Then suddenly he became a veritable little demon, the terror of his neighborhood. He rapidly drifted into crime and spent most of his early years in reformatories. Recently Warden Tynan, questioning the man, discovered that his criminal tendencies followed immediately an accident which caused a depression of the skull, and he arranged for an operation. Surgeons removed splintered pieces of bone and scathed the skull where it was pressing on the brain. Almost instantly the youth's life changed. His sullenness and meanness vanished, and the sweet disposition of his boyhood days returned. Warden Tynan says his intelligence also has improved wonderfully.

"Jeff Lee's moral sense is what it was when he was a small boy," said the warden today. "He would not now consciously do wrong. What trephining might lead to none of us can tell. It might prove that hundreds of our habitual criminals are not criminals at all—merely poor, sick men suffering from a pressure on the brain."

BECKER CASE IS HEARD ON APPEAL

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Arguments on the appeal of ex-Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and his four Rosenthal gunmen from sentence of death were begun today before the court of appeals. The arguments were to have been made some weeks ago, but the Sulzer impeachment proceedings at which the court of appeals judges sat as members of the impeachment court made necessary the postponement until today.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every Mail Tribune Reader

The average man is a doubter, and there is little wonder that this is so. Misrepresentations make people skeptics. Now-a-days the public ask for better evidence than the testimony of strangers. Here is proof which should convince every Mail Tribune reader.

H. J. Durfee, 32 N. Bartlett St., Medford, Ore., says: "I was troubled by my kidneys off and on for years. If I caught a slight cold, it always settled in them, causing my back to become very lame, weak and painful. Last summer I was suffering in that way and on a friend's advice, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. I found this remedy to be exactly as represented and in a few days the trouble left me. I know of many other persons who have obtained benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

day. Speedy decisions in the Becker gunmen cases are expected. Should the court decide against the condemned men it seemed certain today that a further appeal would be taken to the United States supreme court. This would mean that the men convicted of the sensational killing of Gambler Rosenthal will not be executed for many months at least.

Under a new law in New York the industrial commission may, at its discretion, permit the construction of factories of six stories or under, which are not provided with fire-proof stairways.
