Work for the Fair which is to be given Thanksgiving week, for the benefit of the hospital is rapidly going on and great interest is being taken in it by all concerned.

The Lady Beatrice will be on exhibition in a Medford store window, and Monday will be offered as a prize to the most popular little lady under twelve years of age. No entry fee is charged. Votes are ten cents each. The contest will close the last day of the hospital fair, Saturday of Thanksgiving week.

After much effort the fair management has been able to secure the services of the Princess Zaldie, one of the noted clairvoyants of the country. She is a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, and past, present and future are to her as an open book.

The Academy booth, provided over by Mrs. Patton, sent a representative to Portland this week. She returned Friday morning bringing a trunk full of the newest and most beautiful embroidered Christmas gifts. The academy art department is preparing some exquisite hand painted china, and many cards and calendars for New Years.

The Colony club has already sold two lovely party bags, before they were completed. Mrs. H. Chandler Kegan, chairman, says the dressing of the dolls for this booth is progressing rapidly. Wednesday afternoon at the Country club Mrs. H. Y. Findley exhibited three blonde beauties, she had gowned during the week. The ladies were lost in admiration of their daintiness.

The Greater Medford club has the linen booth. Mrs. Merrick has already received many pieces of linen. The committee will be pleased to accept donations of from a doily to a table cloth from any lady who wishes to help the hospital. The committee is making a very thorough canvass of the city, but fearing it might overlook someone takes this opportunity of asking help from everyone. Mrs. Edgar Hafer and Mrs. Willard Campbell will be at home to their friends every afternoon and evening of fair week. They have charge of the "Nigger Babies," and want their friends to call and try their luck.

Mrs. Smith has received from the Elks a large donation of knick-knacks for the fish pond, and a number of small dolls from the Colony club.

The following young ladies will assist at the candy booth: Mrs. Bardwell, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Harry Gray, Miss Althea Emerick, Miss Josephine Root, Miss Trum Deuel, Mrs. Albert Brown, Miss Ida Lee Kentner, the Sullivan girls Alice, Streets, Fern, Hutchison, chairman.

Mrs. R. E. Osborne is in Portland this week looking after things for the Graduate Nurses' booth. She has already received many pretty baby things.

St. Ann's society still claims to be the best aggregation of cooks in town. Mrs. Schieffelin is looking up all the prize menus, and no one will leave the Mozzantine floor of the fair disappointed.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Vawter and the Big Bend Milling company the hospital fair will be held at Cuthbert's old stand on Central avenue, during the entire Thanksgiving week.

The regular weekly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Bruce Young, 403 N. Holly street, on Thursday, October 30, with fifteen members present, among whom was Mrs. Dora Price, who goes soon to her winter home in Arizona.

It was decided to hold the medal contest at the high school building on the evening of November 21. A paper on "Sterilization" was read by Mrs. Leonard. A committee was appointed to attend the trial of the two girls who are incarcerated in the Jacksonville jail. The meeting adjourned to November 6 at the public library building.

Miss Ethel and Gladys Curry returned this week from a ten weeks' trip through the east. They spent several weeks with their father in Washington, D. C. and visited New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other principal cities returning via New Orleans.

Mrs. Milton Ottoman entertained Friday evening for her sister, Miss Gaine, with a Halloween party.

Mrs. J. D. Skinner and family have returned from an extended visit in Texas.

The second program of the department of music of the Greater Medford club will take place in the assembly hall of the library building Monday, November 2, at 3 p. m. Mrs. Wurt Harmon will preside as hostess and is in charge of the program, the subject of which is "Italy, the Land of Song."

In no other country are the achievements in music as significant as those of Italy. Under her sunny skies almost all of the great musical forms have originated, such as the opera, oratorio, sonata and symphony and at least two of the musical instruments, the violin and piano, have found their highest evolution. All of the great violin makers were Italians and Italy has produced some of the greatest virtuosos the world has ever known.

Prof. W. C. James, who is a member of the faculty of the Medford Conservatory of Music and head of the violin department, will discourse on "Italy" who was a composer and the greatest violinist of his day. Mrs. Mrs. George Andrews will read a paper on the early and late composers. Following is the program:

(a) Duet, "Home to Our Mountains" from "Il Trovatore" — Verdi
— Mrs. Florence Halliday Height and Mr. F. Flash.

(b) "Voco di Donna," from Gioconda — Ponchielli
— Mrs. Florence Halliday Height, accompanist, Prof. Height.

Violin Solo, Sonata in G minor — Tartini
— Prof. W. C. James, accompanist, Mrs. W. C. James.

Vocal Trio, "La Cagliari" — Rossini
— Mrs. George Andrews, Mrs. La Mar, Miss Grace Josephine Brown, accompanist, Miss Flora Gray.

Piano Solo, "Giorno in Venezia" — Nivini (Alba, Gondoliers, Canzone, Ambros.) — Miss Venita Hamilton.

Nevini, though an American composer received his inspiration and wrote his very best works during his residence in Florence and Venice.

Vocal Solo, "Il Balen del Siro Sontoso," from "Il Trovatore" — Verdi
— Mr. George Andrews, accompanist, Mrs. George Andrews.

Violin Solo, selections from "Mine Butterfly" — Puccini
— Mr. C. E. Root, accompanist, Miss Ivy Boeck.

Mrs. E. M. Andrews, the director of this department and a finished musician herself, is ambitious to build up for the Greater Medford club a department of music that will not only be the pride of the club, but of Medford. She has planned that this department shall provide a piano for the use of the club and its departments and one of the means of raising the funds is to charge the non-members 25 cents admission. Members will be admitted on presentation of membership card. No pains is spared and a great deal of time is spent in preparing these programs and they are composed of the very best local talent, many of whom are finished musicians. These musicales should be well supported and every member of the club should attend and bring at least one guest. To the public a cordial invitation is extended.

Master Walter and Miss Ermina Wilson entertained a number of their playmates at a Halloween party Thursday evening at their home, 506 North Beatty street. The guests were arrayed in ghost, goblin and other spooky costumes. A variety of games were played and a delicious repast was served. Autumn leaves and old-fashioned pumpkin jack-o-lanterns were the decorations. Those present were Misses Georgia Williams, Anna Coleman, Mabel Coleman, Clara Orr, Ethel Peltermann, Vera Hutchison, Charlotte Howells, Harriett Howells, Myrtle Vincent; Masters Verne Orr, Wayne Smythe, Clarence Coleman, Valou Wilson, Clyde Bishop, Cayton Bishop, Russell Bishop, Eugene Hutchison, Mrs. A. B. Williams and Miss Francis Grobb assisted. Mrs. Wilson in the pastimes and lunch.

The Misses Thornburg, McKilligan and Moore entertained with a Halloween party at the home of the former, 105 South Grape street, Thursday evening. Fortune telling, games and dancing formed the evening's amusement. The house and yard were tastefully decorated in Halloween colors, which were also followed out in the refreshments.

Miss Mary Gore entertained her Sunday school class with a Halloween party this week, at her home on the Jacksonville road.

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Study club will be held next week.

One of the most elaborate and enjoyable social affairs ever held in Central Point, was the Halloween party given by the Wednesday Card club at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Childers Wednesday evening, October 29.

The spacious rooms and card tables attractively displayed autumn leaves, yellow chrysanthemums, witches, black cats and other Halloween suggestions, and were lighted by jack-o-lanterns and yellow shaded lights. The score cards were painted with the proverbial black cats and pumpkins and were also used to find partners for the game. The punch table was catered by a large yellow pumpkin and vivid colored autumn leaves were scattered over the cloth. An attractive and appropriate luncheon was served at the close of the games after which the scores of the invited guests were counted and prizes awarded to the lucky players. Mrs. H. H. Lindsay receiving the ladies prize, and Mr. Lindsay the gentlemen's prize. The awarding of the consolation prize afforded much merriment and was won by Mr. John Haurnum. A special feature of the evening was a beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. Guy Childers of Medford.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leever, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. James Cornutt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Childers; Misses Alice Blakford, Bertha Ellason, Florence Slocums, Pearl Ross, Etta Williams, Eva Norcross; Messrs. Merle Kendall, Henry Riley, John Barnum, Floyd Ross, William Nikoloff and Shipley Ross.

A jolly time was had at the home of Miss Helen Brown on South Central avenue on Thursday evening, when she entertained several of her girl friends at a Halloween masquerade party.

"The Colonial Maiden," "The Old Fashioned Girl," "Night," "The Clown," "The Dude," and the "Old Witch" with her caldron brewing fortunes were represented, beside other pretty and original costumes. Refreshments of fruit salad, cheese straws, individual pumpkin pies, cake and cocoa were served. Those present were Catherine Soutter, Antoinette Kinleyalde, Josephine Koppes, Isabelle Burbridge, Elsie Lawrence, Hilda Bundy, Laura Fouts, Helen Strang, Nellie Boeck, Helen Brown.

A most enjoyable birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Mears on 738 West 14th street, in honor of their little son, Frederick and James.

James was five on October 19 and Frederick nine years old, October 23, the day of the party.

Besides the invited children, the older guests were Misses Coryell, Clayville, Mears, Catherine Mears and Madames Rowell and K. A. Mears. Games were played on the lawn after which dainty refreshments, including the beautiful birthday cake were served.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Ross Lane entertained with an informal luncheon Thursday in honor of Miss Marian Huntley of Ashland, who is the guest of Mrs. Ernest McKee of West Jackson street. Besides the above named ladies there were present, Mrs. Betty Jones, Mrs. J. M. Rader, Mrs. Royer, Mrs. Charles Lebo, Misses Sybil Fish and Maude Newbury.

The spirit of unrest is primarily the motive or basis of the splendid play known as "A Girl of the Underworld," looked to appear at the Page Theater Sunday, Nov. 2. It is a page from the life of Louise Branson, a beautiful but vain country girl, who listens to the lure of the great city, and disregarding the entreaties of her father, leaves her home and goes to New York. For a time, she is successful in a humble way. But the stage attracts her. After a time even that fails, and the inevitable

The Golden Link Bible class of the Baptist church entertained with a Halloween social Friday evening, Oct. 21. The tent was beautifully decorated in a manner appropriate to the occasion. Ghosts and a variety of realistic witch who dispensed fortunes in the form of supper favors, added to the evening's amusements. Games and refreshments were typical of the evening.

Those present were Mesdames Marlon, Stinson, Medley, Baldwin, Young MacCullough, Carlou, Hogsett, Keizar, Hoover, Wilson, Beach, Howell, Dexter, Stine, Bratney, Marsh Loder Evans, Beauchamp, Gressley; Messrs. Marlon, Stinson, Baldwin, Young, MacCullough, Carlou, Hogsett, Keizar, Hoover, Wilson, Beach, Howell, Dexter, Stine, Bratney, Marsh and Loder.

The Swastika's gave a most enjoyable Halloween dance Friday evening at the "Nat." The hall was most appropriately decorated, corn stalks, pumpkins and jack-o-lanterns being used. In the center of the hall over the dancers' heads a witch on a broomstick was suspended. All the dancers came in sheet and pillow case, until ten o'clock, when all unmasked.

Owing to the counter attraction at the theater the attendance was not as large as it would otherwise have been but all present had a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Gardner Bullis entertained Friday afternoon at bridge, at her home on Laurel street. Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Rogers won the honors. The guests were Mesdames H. T. Findley, Delroy Getchel, French.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fields of Bedford, Ind., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy. Mrs. Fields and Mrs. McCurdy are sisters.

The annual meeting of the Country club will be held this (Saturday) afternoon. Followed by a dinner and dance in the evening.

The Greater Medford club, through its educational department, will hold a reception for the teachers of the Medford schools, the members of the school board and their wives in the parlors of the Hotel Medford on Friday evening, November 7 at 8 o'clock. This reception is being given that the citizens of Medford may meet the teachers and officials of the schools and that a closer relationship may exist between the homes and schools. It is urged that every parent of Medford come to this reception and bring as many friends as possible that we may all get better acquainted.

Next Wednesday at 3 p. m. is the regular meeting time of the household economics section of the Greater Medford club. Mrs. A. A. Bird, who has been appointed chairman of this section, has returned to Medford and requests that all those interested in this subject meet with her in the library building Wednesday afternoon to discuss the work for the coming year.

A boosters' day is to be held in Grants Pass on Thursday, November 6, which to bind the different units of southern Oregon into one perfect whole, it is hoped. And why would not this be a good time for the meeting of the women also to perfect the organization of the Southern Oregon District Federation which is being talked of among club circles?

The men of the community must meet and greet each other and learn to know and love each other better, but if a closer relationship should exist among the women much more good would be accomplished, because women are the real moulders of public opinion, and don't realize it.

If every club woman of Medford would go to Grants Pass on Thursday next and put her heart and soul into the work of helping make southern Oregon one solid unit for the good of southern Oregon, she would be helping not only Medford, Grants Pass and Ashland, but she would be helping herself to a broader view of humanity's aims and incidentally to a reduced rate on the railroad.

If the meeting for the women can be arranged for on boosters' day details will be published in an early issue.

The October meeting of the Greater Medford club last Monday was "Federation Day," where the reports of the delegates from the convention at Hood River were given. There are two features of this state federation meeting that are conceded to be most interesting—the club reports to which an evening is devoted, and where the various clubs throughout the state give a brief resume of the things they are doing. Mrs. Gore reported upon this phase of the convention. The other interesting feature is the report of the resolutions committee which embodies the real work that the women of the state are doing, and where many interesting discussions take place. Mrs. Davidson reported upon this. Mrs. Schieffelin reported upon some of the talks that were given.

Proceeding these federation reports was the business meeting where it was decided by motion that only members of the club or those who come upon invitation of a member, would be expected to attend the club meetings, excepting those meetings taken charge of by the civic department, which are to be open to the general public. This means that each member must get her membership card.

An amendment to the constitution was proposed putting the club dues at one dollar and twenty cents instead of a dollar. This additional twenty cents is to cover state and national federation dues.

The educational department of the Greater Medford club, which meets regularly on the last Saturday of the month, held its initial meeting of the year on October 25th. Mrs. George Rebec, who has been head of the department since its organization, outlined the program to be followed this year, but having gone to Portland for the winter, Mrs. J. M. Root has kindly consented to take up the work. The subject of last Saturday was "Amusements of Young People," a sort of general discussion of the year's work. Public playgrounds, the civic theatre, the pageant, were some of the phases of the subject discussed. The meeting was well attended and most enthusiastic.

Among the delegates at the federation in Hood River was Mrs. Milliken who, living between Bend and Prineville, was representing both towns. She reported that there were a great many homesteaders in that region, in man appears. It would be unfair to outline the powerful plot. A happy ending is provided, through the underlying strength of character unexpectedly shown by the girl when her eyes are opened to the folly of it all. Many strong characters are shown. Jonathan Branson, the father, is admirably played by that sterling old actor John Benson. The typical part of a denizen of the underworld, is in the capable hands of Ugly L. Beach. The part of Louise Branson, the heroine, is admirably played by Vano Calvert, a beautiful and talented actress. The comedy is furnished principally by Eloda Siltzer as Sis. This young lady is also a clever singer and dancer. The important role of Bert Starkey is well performed by Harry Sweeney. The part of Detective Mills is in the hands of W. Craig, and the minor parts are well filled. It is a play that never loses its grip on the audience from the first to the last of the four acts. A large audience is sure to be present.

The College Women's club is co-operating with the high school girls who wish to exchange work for room and board, and has appointed the following committee: Mrs. F. G. Thayer, Miss Ruth Merrick and Miss Lucie Marshall to take charge of the matter. Will any girls desiring such a home, or any women desiring such help, please communicate with some member of this committee.
