

Jeff Says: "Faint Heart Never Went to Sing Sing"

By "Bud" Fisher

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Mr. and Mrs. David Duncan formerly of Jacksonville, came out the first of the week and engaged a room at the Sunny Side. They are going onto the old Dr. Coglin place just above town, now owned by W. A. Laidlow of Portland, and will have the management of the orchard. I have not learned yet where Mr. Herin, the former manager of the orchard, is going. Mr. Herin had four apple pickers come out this Friday morning, to finish up the packing and then Mr. Herin will move and Mr. Duncan will move in and take charge.

Mr. Peyton and wife were on the car a day or two ago on their way to Medford as witnesses for Mr. Vaughn to prove up on his homestead. Mr. McCloud who has a store on the road from here to Prospect via Trail, was also on the same car for Medford. Mr. Ragsdale of Lake Creek and one of his daughters were also passengers for Medford.

To show that business is improving Ray Ashpole has bought a fine lot of china ware for the Christmas trade.

One of our civil engineers, Mr. Lee, and one of his helpers, spent the night with us on their way from Crater Lake where they have been engaged during the summer.

Among the callers so far since I wrote last were Miss Maria Newstrom of Lake Creek, on her way to Medford and E. E. Phillips and W. M. Lewis of Florence Rock.

W. B. Duncan, a food inspector of Salem, spent the night with us Wednesday. He had been up in the Lake Creek country looking through the dairies in that section and while on his rounds stopped at the Sunny Side to taste the fare there. He said that when he came back he was coming here again.

Wednesday night B. L. Dodge, Jr. and his mother, Mrs. B. L. Dodge, Mrs. W. K. Ingersoll, Mrs. L. G. Fish and Miss Sybil Fish of Medford, came in about six o'clock for supper and after seemingly enjoying a good square meal they repaired to the parlor and spent a couple of hours with music and social converse, then went on their way to their homes in Medford.

Wednesday afternoon G. W. Wamsley, one of our carpenters was on the top of his shed on a ladder trying to fix a place around the flue and the foot of the ladder slipped, causing him to fall, and in falling he received a serious cut on the forehead, one on his hip, skinned his nose quite badly and wrenched his right arm so that he has to lay off for a few days.

Miss Inez Willis came out from her home, Persim, with her brother Roy, the mail contractor, to attend a meeting of the lodge of Rebekahs, returning the next day.

During the past week Ray Harnish, George Fisher, Mr. Hess, J. W. Grover, Jake Jones and Chauncey Flory have returned from their hunting trip. They report that game is quite scarce and hard to find on account of everything being so dry.

Well since I last wrote for the Mail Tribune I have been doing some riding trying to do something for the Mail Tribune company and succeeded fairly well considering that money is so very scarce. I visited the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Haak and found them just as busy as they could be packing apples. He told me that he had calculated to have about five or six hundred boxes of apples but instead would have eighteen hundred boxes and they are fine ones at that. I then went to Mr. Corbin's orchard but he was not at home, but Mr. Quackenbusher showed me around. They have their apples all packed, nine thousand boxes and all hauled off except three or four hundred and by the time this is in print the apples will be on the cars for shipment. From there I went to Mr. C. Edgell's. He has a fine young orchard joining the Corbin orchard and everything fixed up in good shape. He was covered with red paint when I arrived as he was painting his wood shed. From there I went to Dr. W. H. Nuding's, he has not much of an orchard, but is turning his attention to raising fine hogs, and he has some as nice as any one needs to want. From there to A. H. Horton's, but I did not see him, but saw a neat substantial wagon bridge that he has just built across Little Butte creek. From there to George B. Brown's on my day's work. I did business with all of them except one and he will be prepared to do business in a few days. But I see that I am getting my letter too long again and I did want to tell the readers of the Mail Tribune what I saw on my round, but will have to stop right here.

PHOENIX

The citizenship meeting held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. S. P. Cope was largely attended. In compliance with her request of the county W. C. T. U. president special prayer was made for the success of the cause of Temperance in Eagle Point at the polls next Tuesday. The referendum measures were then taken up. Mrs. C. C. Scott presented the university measure in an able and interesting manner. The discussion was led by Mrs. F. Malmgren, who voiced an earnest plea for the support of the measure in the name of the College club organization. Mrs. W. V. Barnum effectively presented the county attorney measure and made a strong plea for home government. The discussion on this was in a general manner.

Mrs. Schurman is soon to leave to make her home in California and it is hoped that a large number will be present. The meeting is open to all.

A. H. Houston has returned from the east where he has been spending the past two months with relatives and friends.

Mrs. R. Moore and Mrs. Luther Stancil transacted business in Jacksonville Thursday.

Mrs. Johnson, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is the guest of her cousin and family, Mrs. M. Sheets of North Phoenix.

Work has commenced on the ground where the spray manufacturing plant is to be located.

The discussion on the workmen's compensation measure was opened by the president of the local union. So great was the interest in this bill that early in the discussion it was apparent to all that a whole meeting or better yet, a series of meetings would be necessary to make clear and grasp its different phases. Yet the discussion apparently confirmed in the minds of nearly all present that the bill on the whole was just and humanitarian. In the straw ballot the university appropriation had not one dissenting vote. The county attorney and workman's compensation had each three dissenting votes, but they were prompted more by a lack of being fully persuaded that real opposition. Mrs. Sheets' talk on the Mormon menace was a revelation to nearly all present. She showed how that octopus was now a controlling force in seven states, Oregon being one of the number, and where it was now trying to fasten a strangle hold on several of our state institutions and industries. She was followed by Mrs. Ohnston of Salt Lake City, Utah who spoke of the danger of the Mormon church to our country. At the close of the meeting it was decided to hold a special meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Schurman Monday evening to take up the numbers on the program which had to be omitted for lack of time.

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

(From the News.)

A force of laborers and linemen under the supervision of Engineer F. W. Dodge, is at present employed in reconstructing the canal of the local power plant and wrecking the unused line to the Centennial mine. The material thus secured will be utilized in the construction of a power line to the site of the new cement plant.

J. A. Calfee, an aged resident of Ashland, was brought to this city from Toledo on Tuesday evening, in a critical condition from the effects of an accident at the former place. Mr. Calfee had driven a fishing party to its Gold, and as the wagon crossed the railroad tracks at that point, was thrown from his seat by the jar, brought on his head and neck. Unable to walk and with every movement accompanied by intense pain, he was conveyed to the Kelsey hospital in this city on the evening motor where he has since remained. It is thought that he sustained a slight dislocation of the neck, but prompt and careful attention eliminated this, and his present chances for recovery are considered excellent. His daughter, Mrs. Burnett, of Ashland, was in attendance the latter part of the week.

Little Laurence McMillan, son of Mrs. McMillan of the school faculty, came to grief on Sunday afternoon when he essayed a twenty-foot tumble from the tree into which he had clambered. The fall was a severe one, causing a slight concussion of the brain which confined him for several days.

"Rox" Messner, otherwise Raphael, passed through this city on Wednesday afternoon's train, waving a greeting to local friends. Messner, who was formerly of this city, was recently held in California, pending an examination as to his sanity, and would seem to have convinced the officials that his eccentricities were largely natural.

Frank W. Hooper, prosecuting attorney of Shastah county, Cal., was in this city Sunday collecting evidence relative to John Williams, the youthful barber who is held as the principal in a white slavery case at Yreka. Williams was formerly employed in this city, and is a native of Sams Valley. Should the state prove its case against the young man, the allegations being of a particularly revolting character, he is certain to receive a lengthy term in the penitentiary. Attorney Hooper is reported to have admitted, however, that the case against Williams was not complete.

ALONG ROGUE RIVER

Miss Clara Skyrman spent the week end with her parents on upper Trail.

Mrs. N. Garrett of Medford visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McCabe this week.

of his fingers crushed in the ensilage cutter and had to have it amputated.

Steve Smith is in Medford the guest of his father, W. S. Smith.

Pete Stowell is building a barn on his place on the river.

Miss Mary Gage and Bird Johnson took a load of chickens to Medford Friday.

Verna Matthews was a pleasant caller at his uncle's, Grant Matthews, Friday.

Fred Pettigrew has nearly completed a neat six room cottage.

A colt belonging to Phineas Mayfield of the Meadows broke through the well platform and fell into several feet of water. They worked hard to get it out and almost succeeded once when the rope broke. Then young Tyrell went down to hitch the rope on the horse and just as he had climbed out of the well the rocks which walled the well fell in and put an end to the colt.

The friends of the Biglams sympathize with them in the sad accident and death on upper Trail.

JANE ADDAMS REFUSES TO COUNTENANCE MILITANCY

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Although Jane Addams recently expressed the opinion that suffragette militancy is fundamentally wrong, and in spite of the fact that she refused to serve on the committee chosen to receive Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst here, Mrs. Pankhurst will be the guest of honor at a dinner Miss Addams will give tonight, it was announced today at Hull House.
