

INTERPRETER FOR SCIENTISTS PRAISES MEDFORD SPIRIT

Dr. Alfred Dachnowski, a foreigner by birth, is now professor of botany in the state university of Ohio. He accompanied the photographers on their tour and also acted in the capacity of official interpreter. He will be remembered by the Medford hosts who met him as translating fluently the interesting talks given in German at the University club dinner by Dr. Engler of Berlin, Dr. Tubert of Munich and Dr. Brockmann of Zurich.

He writes as follows concerning the Medford entertainment:

"Ohio State University, Columbus, O., Nov. 10, 1913.
"Professor P. J. O'Gara, Medford, Or.—My Dear Mr. O'Gara: I wish it were possible to express to you, to the Medford Commercial club, the University club and to the people of Medford my own personal appreciation of your hospitality. Your splendid efforts have been the topic of our conversation almost every day of the international phytozoographic excursion after leaving Medford, and the letters which I am now receiving from the individual foreign members of the party still echo it. To every one of us it was a rare and great pleasure to meet so many ladies and gentlemen of broad-minded personality; genial, courteous and with capacity and outlook equally as big, massive and magnificent as is the state of Oregon in scenery and natural resources. You and your friends and the people of Medford have left the deepest impression upon us and I thank you most sincerely for the honor of having been your guest.

"With best wishes, I am, very truly yours,
"ALFRED DACHNOWSKI."

NEWS OF THE ORCHARD

ROGUE RIVER SPITZBERG SELL IN GERMANY NET $2 MEDFORD

The German apple market is now the most favorable for American apples and new record prices for Pacific northwest offerings are being made there almost daily. At Bremen the trade is rather excited over the sales of some apples shipped from this section.

The Northwestern Fruit Exchange has received a special cable telling of some of these extraordinary transactions. A carload of Peshastin Jonathans sold at an average of $1.84 per box, f. o. b. for stock of extra fancy grade, but mostly 4 1/2 tier. A carload of Cashmere stock, extra fancy and fancy assorted sold at an average of $1.68 for both grades f. o. b. Cashmere.

A carload of Rogue River Spitzbergs, consisting of over half fancy and the remainder extra fancy. The latter averaged about $2.00 a box at Rogue River while the former went at $1.60.

Another carload of Rogue River fruit that brought extreme prices considering sizes was a load of Newtowns, extra fancy but mostly 4 1/2 and 5-tier that sold at an average of $1.81 a box f. o. b. shipping station.

The entire German apple market is reported in a better condition, a fact fully substantiated by the sales mentioned.

The English apple market is reported inactive and inclined to weakness. Considerable complaint is made by the trade there of the green appearance of Pacific northwest offerings.

Apples at American points east of the Rockies is rather dull with prices lower but at the decline the market may be considered fairly steady.

WILD WEST SHOW AT FAIR GROUNDS NOV. 15-19

Have you a horse that nobody can ride? If so feed him oats or anything else to make him at his best (or worst) and bring him to the fair grounds any day of November 16 to 19. Sims & Chandler's Wild West show will be here then, and they offer $100 for any horse too mean for any of their cowboys to ride successfully.

This offer has been made by the management all season, but so far it has not happened that the $100 has been forfeited. The management is ready and willing, but so far, buck and pitch as they might, none of the horses have been unable to conquer this bunch of happy cowpunchers. The company carries 50 head of the meanest horses in Klamath county, including "Rimrock Johnnie," the unriddable outlaw. Daring exhibitions of horsemanship are to be a part of the program, which includes trick riding, roping, rope spinning and many other frontier sports. A big wild west parade is a daily feature. Don't miss it.

The horses and riders are at the fair grounds ready for the opening show Sunday.

YOUNG ORCHARDS SHOW HANDSOME RETURNS IN CASH

Among the fine young orchards that are making a good record is that of E. B. Hanley, north of Jacksonville. This is the second year his Newtowns have produced and the yield from 53 acres of eleven-year-old trees is 23 cars, or 14,500 boxes. He has received returns on six cars, which netted him $1.60 a box at Medford. The other cars are expected to bring still more, but at the rate of $1.60 a box, the returns will total $23,200, or $437 an acre.

The Austin Corbin orchard, near Eagle Point, is also a heavy yielder. From about 20 acres of old trees, Mr. Corbin has shipped 17 cars. Returns on the first car netted him $2 at shipping point. The bearing portion of the orchard is certain to average over $800 an acre or better.

A. A. Bernard in the Big Sticky country bought a young orchard last year. This year he took off the first crop from the 12 acres in bearing, harvesting 2000 boxes of Spitzbergs and 2100 boxes of Newtowns, which he sold for $1.75 at Medford. He paid $14,000 for 44 acres and will net the first year, deducting all expense, $5000.

"We" Steal Potatoes

(From Rogue River Argus.)
The above word spells big potatoes and many in a hill. Last Friday we went to the farm just across the river and while being shown around by W. H. Sisson we got into a patch of potatoes that belong to Frank Hall and we proceeded to steal a hill. We found thirteen potatoes in the first hill and we took six of them, and those six weighed six pounds, the other six were large enough to peel. We opened up one more hill and found twenty-six potatoes in it and not one but that could be put on the table.

O. C. Oden of Wilmer was in our office and he said he could do us one better and he came in again yesterday and we almost believe he did do better. He left us four potatoes that weighed six pounds and three ounces. Some potatoes, eh!

THE GREATEST PLEA IS CHRISTIAN UNION

The subject of Evangelist Putman's sermons on Thursday and Friday evenings was "The Greatest Plea in the World today." Of course, this plea is Christian union and the evangelist brought about according to the Bible. In response to the invitation, two young ladies, three boys from the Sunday school, one mother and one of the splendid young men of the city made the noble confession, making 42 added to the church during the meetings.

After services last night several were baptised. There will be no service tonight, baptism again Sunday night.

Mizzi Hajos is to appear in vaudeville.
