

OREGON UPHOLDS WILSON BUT READY TO FURNISH TROOPS

SALEM, Or., Nov. 21.—Speaking for the state, Governor West has today advised the New York Sun that Oregon upholds President Wilson in his efforts to bring about adjustment of Mexican affairs, but that the state is ready for war if the call should come.

The governor received a message from the Sun asking "whether or not you favor intervention in Mexico and how many troops your state can furnish in two weeks."

Governor West replied: "Replying to your telegram reference Mexican situation, will say, realizing great responsibility resting upon President Wilson, we uphold him in his efforts to bring about peaceful adjustment of the matter. However, we are all the time getting ready for business and are prepared to respond promptly to any call of the president with two regiments infantry, one battery field artillery and one ambulance company. Another regiment infantry and several troops of cavalry would be made available upon short notice."

WIFE MURDERER CONVICTED BY JURY

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 21.—After twenty-four hours' deliberation a jury here today found Almon Hallway, a contractor of Palo Alto, guilty of first degree murder, but recommended life imprisonment.

Halloway shot and killed his wife, but set up the defense that she was his physical superior, and that he shot to have his own life during a family quarrel. This was his second trial, the previous jury having disagreed.

WOMEN'S CLUB NOTES

The University of Oregon, through its extension work, is reaching interest to all parts of the state and giving to the busy men and women, who have no time to go away to school, an opportunity to hear acknowledged authorities on different subjects.

These lectures are free, since they are given by the professors of the state university, who are paid by the state, and Medford is fortunate in having an extension class in sociology with Dr. P. G. Young as leader.

Dr. Young will talk on The Forces Making for Progress in the chapel of the Presbyterian church, corner Main and Holly at 10:30 Saturday, November 22nd.

Every club woman of Medford should attend these lectures because the forces that make for progress are the very ones we want to know most about.

Dr. Bertha Stewart, whom we have had the pleasure of meeting before, will be here in January to assist Dr. Clifton P. Hodges in a series of lectures along sociological lines.

The University of Oregon has placed a number of book relating to these subjects in the public library and you are urged to avail yourself of the opportunity to learn more of the new forces that are moving the whole world.

The menu for the entire week in the dining room of the Hospital Fair has been arranged by the chairman, Mrs. Chas. Schieffelin.

A sample of the bill of fare sounds, as the small boy would say—elegant. Tuesday noon there will be olives, pickles, celery, chicken with dumplings, mashed potatoes, baked squash, fruit salad, apple pie and cheese, coffee, tea or milk.

Every thing will be home made and beautifully served. All the cooks are good cooks and all the food will be the best obtainable.

Moreover you can have a pleasant visit over the tea cups with your neighbors and friends.

Coffee

Your choice: more or money - back — when you get to the bottom of a can of Schilling's Best coffee.

No charge if you think you could have done better. Not even one in a thousand shall be dissatisfied.

Aroma-tight cans keep the coffee everfresh; it's cleanly granulated, ready for use.

VIRGINIA BERRY AS VALERIA WEST IN "THE COMMON LAW" AT THE PAGE THEATER TOMORROW EVENING, NOVEMBER 22

COMMON LAW IS NEXT SHOW

It is but natural that any book which has achieved such widespread reputation and one that has been discussed from every vantage should be selected as a vehicle for stage presentation. Therefore, it is not at all surprising that the leading managers have eyed with one another in their eagerness to secure the dramatic rights to Robert W. Chambers' "The Common Law," the novel which in all probabilities created the most profound sensation in recent years.

In the rivalry for possession of this special prize Manager A. H. Woods was their most successful and to him the author accorded every privilege, with the sole understanding that the dramatization should not allow the author's intentions to suffer as in many cases. That Manager Woods has faithfully carried out his part of the contract was fully attested in the production made last season which not only delighted Mr. Chambers but made an extraordinarily strong appeal wherever the play was seen.

It was particularly noticeable that the sensational interest which gave to the novel far-reaching command, had, instead of being lessened, become accentuated for acting purposes, and the audience, many of whom were familiar with the book, manifested no small appreciation for the admirable work performed by the play doctor.

"The Common Law" will be seen at the Page Nov. 22.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Tongue Is Coated or if Cross, Fervid, Constipated Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet. Keep it handy, mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Mix the Breakfast Biscuits the Night Before—

Set Them Away in a Cool Place and Bake them Fresh in the Morning

If the family do not all eat breakfast together, you can bake a few at a time. If you are having hot biscuits for supper, mix and cut out enough more for breakfast. They will be much nicer freshly baked than warmed over.

Of course you can't do this very successfully with sour milk and soda or with any of the old fashioned, single acting baking powders, but this convenient way of making hot biscuits and muffins for breakfast is entirely satisfactory if you use
