

COLONEL TENGWALD CANNED FROM RANK OF SLEEPY SEVENTH

There is trouble and turmoil in the ranks of the "Sleepy Seventh." Medford's valiant defenders are reported to have dispersed into the hills upon report that the company would be ordered to service in Mexico. Some are said to have been so scared that for several nights they could not slumber peacefully. However, it is reported that six of the untried appeared for drill Tuesday night and proceeded to make "Colonel" Tengwald the company goat by tying a can to his tail.

It may have been envy of the colonel's rank and title. It certainly did seem incongruous to have a colonel in the ranks when the commanding officer was only a captain. And it may have been because the colonel was almost the only one in the company anxious for active service—and the six wanted it unanimously for mother and peace. But the probable reason is the lack of humor possessed by the untried six in being unable to take a joke.

A few days ago a cub reporter on The Sun inserted as a joke, following a talk with a badly scared veteran, the following local:

"A number of the members of the Seventh company were frightened out of a year's growth Tuesday by the report scattered by Colonel Tengwald that the squad had been ordered to the Mexican border for active service."

Thursday Colonel Tengwald, who from patriotic motives occupies the humble birth of first sergeant of the Sleepy Seventh, received the following:

Headquarters Seventh Company, C. A. C. Oregon National Guard, Medford, Dec. 3, 1913.

Sergeant C. Y. Tengwald, Seventh Company, C. A. C., Medford, Ore.

At a meeting held last evening of the members of the Seventh company at the armory, a unanimous vote was taken requesting the captain to relieve you from the duties of first sergeant because of certain military actions and talk with the enlisted men regarding possible service in Mexico and of publications that have appeared in the papers of the town over the signature of Colonel

Tengwald, reflecting directly upon the courage of the men, and it is believed that the best interests of the company will be served by relieving you from the position of first sergeant.

ARTEMAS W. DEANE,
Captain Seventh Co., C. A. C.
Colonel Tengwald is highly indignant. He demands a hearing—a courtmartial. He will probably fight—and he shot at sun rise.

VILLA MEETS NO ENEMY ON MARCH

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 4.—General Villa telegraphed to Juarez today that he and his rebel followers were meeting with no opposition to their march on Chihuahua city. He left Montezuma, 115 miles south of Juarez, this morning and said he expected to reach his destination tonight or tomorrow.

The federal refugees from Chihuahua city were expected to reach Presidio Viejo, on the border, about seventy-five miles south of here, this afternoon. Several were rumored to have died on the road. Food and clothing for the survivors was sent from here to Presidio Viejo.

Reconstruction of the Mexican Northwestern railroad was in progress and it was expected business in general would soon be resumed throughout northern Mexico.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

"Pape's Cold Compound" Makes You Feel Fine at Once—Don't Stay Stuffed-up! Take It Now.

Relief comes instantly.

A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

CHAMBERLAIN TALKS ON CANAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Prediction that the opening of the Panama canal would result in the development of a strong sentiment for a national policy of improvement of rivers and harbors was voiced before the river and harbor congress here today by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. He declared that fear of criticism of "pork barrel" methods must be overcome before the proper legislation could be secured.

Secretary of War Garrison, who was scheduled to address the congress today, was unable to attend.

E. M. Clendenning declared that Kansas City, by establishing a boat line in 1910, already had saved shippers $100,000.

Coffee

A roasted coffee bean is as porous as a sponge; it can't keep in its aroma or keep out odors, if exposed to air. Leaving it whole, to be ground as used, doesn't keep it fresh.

The modern scientific way, as used with Schilling's Best, is to granulate it promptly after roasting and preserve it in aroma-tight cans.

1 lb., 2 lb. and 2 1/2 lb. cans—and moneyback.
