Feet

Of all the vehicles we meet, In air and sea and on the street, I humbly sing the praise of feet. It is not widely understood How safe are feet, how soundly good;

How firm with supple hardihood, Consider; feet run not away; Where feet are put, there feet will

Or, turned, feet promptly will obey Feet need no license; feet may go In narrowest pathways to and fro The fairest hidden nooks they know. Feet linger through a pleasant scene Feet run not out of gasoline. A handy brook, and feet are clean, Feet in all weathers boldly run, Heedless of mud, their miles are

A SOUTHERN PACIFIC OPPORTUNITY

I N his annual report, Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the department of the interior advocates the creation of a bureau of national parks to control the nation's playgrounds. The idea was first suggested by Secretary Fisher in 1911 and recommended by President Taft. A bill to this end is now pending in congress.

Some idea of the importance of the parks and what they mean in an economic way is shown by the financial reports of concessions in three of the larger parks, to-wit, the Yellowstone, where receipts for 1912 total $1,067, 161.34, as against $1,050,039 for 1911; the Yosemite, $311,-444.32 for 1912, as against $295,500 for 1911; and the Mt. Rainier, $56,735.93 for 1912—exclusive of money spent in railroad fare or traveling expenses to the parks.

With proper facilities at the Crater Lake park, with the system of highways now under construction completed and adequate highways connecting therewith, with the park advertised by the railroads, the receipts at the park should approximate a million dollars a year, with another million spent at Medford and Klamath Falls by tourists. It will some day, for in addition to the railroad tourist, will come the auto tourist from all coast points.

It can readily be seen that Crater Lake is one of the great resources of the state, that, properly developed and exploited, it can be made a great income producer and a source of constantly increasing wealth.

During the past year the total number of visitors to all the parks aggregated 251,703, as against 229,084 in 1912, 224,000 in 1911, and 198,506 in 1910. Secretary Lane says that travel to the parks will doubtless be greatly augmented hereafter, particularly during 1915, when the Panama-Pacific international exposition will be held in San Francisco, at which time the various transcontinental railroads will doubtless provide a transportation rate calculated to attract tourists to these parks, as well as to the exposition.

If the Southern Pacific would take hold of the Crater Monday came forth with a veritable Lake park with the same spirit as the Great Northern has deluge of cattle and buyers prevented of the Glacier park, or the Northern Pacific has the Yeldisaster by cleaning up the supply lowstone, it would be but a few years until 50,000 persons + outlet, however, has been narrow a year visited the park.
