EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett.

Mr. Hughes one of the leading merchants of Butte Falls was a guest at the Sunny Side last Friday night and so was Bert Higginbotham and Ed Hollenbeck of Prospect. Mr. Higginbotham had been out to Medford to prove up on his homestead claim and Mr. Hollenbeck was one of witnesses.

Ed Dutton, our new road supervisor came in town limping and on inquiry I learned that his horse had got scared and jumped into a ditch and in the act fell on his leg and came near breaking it.

I saw some time ago what purported to be a report of the different schools in the valley, in the Mail Tribune and in the report stated that there were but 60 pupils in attendance in our school and so I called the attention of the principal to it and he informed me that the average attendance is 72, and that the report was made by a lady who was traveling over the country visiting the schools and that she simply ran her eye over the school and decided that there was about 60 without going to the trouble to examine the register.

Last Saturday J. G. Miller of Ashland called for dinner and showed Mrs. Howlett his samples of Brooms. He represents the Southern Oregon Broom Mfg. Co. of Ashland. He had visited the leading merchants of our town and taken orders for several dozen brooms at each place. He is also interesting the farmers in raising broom corn in the valley and wants them to put in at least four hundred acres this coming season.

Ed Higginbotham came out from Derby last Saturday on horseback, returning the same day.

Gus Nichols one of our leading stockmen, was among us Saturday.

Last Saturday night the good people of the Lone-Roose creek school district gave a box social and notwithstanding the inclement weather and the mud they had a full house, a fine program and the teacher, Miss Rose Nealon simply brought down the house in reciting a comic piece on love and marriage, so my reporter tells me. The result of the sale of the boxes, with Eugene Hellos, auctioneer, was $51.10, the money to be applied to the Sunday school fund.

Now I have a bunch of news that is not so pleasant to relate. Last Sunday during the heavy wind storm the wind tore about two-thirds of the roof off of George Brown & Son's store building and the debris went with such force that it carried it clear across the street and crushed one of the large windows in Von der Hellen brother's hardware store, and at the same time partly demolished a knock-down tent belonging to George Wehman, Thomas Riley and Mr. Wiena. While the wind was blowing such a gale the rain was pouring down in torrents. In the course of a few minutes the word was phoned over-town and almost everybody turned out to save the goods. A part of them were carried into the bank building, some into Von der Hellen's store, some into the old Model store building, etc. The entire building was exposed to the rain, but they managed to cover up quite a lot of the goods so as to keep them dry. This Monday morning, about all of the carpenters in our town were at work besides such help as could be secured and quite a lot of volunteer help and by tonight they think that they will have the roof on so as to protect, not only the goods but the interior of the building. It will be hard to estimate the amount of damage done but it will be quite considerable. The Brown brothers have the sympathy of the entire community in this, their misfortune.

R. A. Seaman and wife of Rogue River, have been up about Brownsboro visiting the families of Charles Terrell and Mrs. Mary Terrell and came out Monday morning and took dinner at the Sunny Side on their way home.

I have learned that the wind yesterday blew down W. J. Winkle's barn just outside of our town and I expect that if I should take the pains to collect an account of all the damage done by the storm that I would have a long dismal letter for the Mail Tribune.

PHOENIX PARAGRAPHS

S. G. Van Dyke, who has been hovering between life and death for the past week, is slightly improved and if no further complications set in has a fair chance for recovery. That Mr. Van Dyke has a fighting chance is gratifying news to his many friends throughout the valley.

W. Worthington and wife of Jacksonville have been spending the past week with H. Shafer and family.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Brown has been quite sick but is much better at present.

Ira Danlap has traded his property in town for a ranch near Trail and will move in the spring.

The Phoenix band will repeat their play, "Tompkins' Hired Man," at the W. O. W. hall Friday evening.

The ladies of Phoenix are planning to organize a civic club Friday afternoon, January 30, at the W. O. W. hall. Mrs. E. Gore of Medford has promised to be present and assist them in organizing. The ladies of Phoenix and vicinity are urged to attend and become members of the club.

The Rex Spray plant began work Monday morning. At present it is operated by six men under the management of Superintendent Johnston who came here recently from San Francisco.

4 room house for rent, $6.50, water paid, on paved street. Other houses for rent.

My specialty is looking after non-resident property.

NEWS FROM ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Ashland citizens are preparing to get back of the campaign for the reopening of the Southern Oregon State Normal School and a general citizens committee of forty was appointed to arrange the details. The committee met Wednesday evening and discussed various means of reaching the people of Oregon and there was much enthusiasm manifested and arrangements made toward perfecting the organization. The alumni association of the school met annually after the state senate voted down the appropriations for its maintenance and has been in season and out of season laboring for its reestablishment and has been conducting a preliminary campaign for many months.

Miss Nellie McIntosh of Eugene is visiting old friends in her former home while en route for San Francisco.

The Ben Hur lodge was organized in Ashland Wednesday evening with a large membership. The Medford lodge assisted, coming up in a special train 150 strong.

Mrs. Alberta Rogness Fawcett, wife of Dr. A. J. Fawcett, formerly of Ashland, died at Springfield. The funeral took place at Roseburg Wednesday.

Postmaster J. R. Casey celebrated his 76th birthday Tuesday.

Ex-Councilman J. C. Barnard is suing the city for 2368 hours of overtime while employed at the electric light plant. The amount is $1705. It is alleged that the eight hour law was in vogue and that the city is responsible though the city claims to have had a salary agreement on a monthly wage basis.

On Sunday Deputy Game Warden Arthur Hubbard received from the state game farm at Corvallis eighteen pairs of Hungarian partridges and took them down to Talent and released them on the Harley Davis refuge. A dozen pairs have been received heretofore. They are reported as doing very well. One mother young, two with fourteen and three with six.

Benton Bowden addressed a Polk county good roads meeting last week. He owns some ranches in that county and took from the county records the expenditures of road funds for five years and compared them with estimates from contractors which showed that the county could pave a road through the county for that sum and thus have good roads in place of no roads.

W. E. Glendinning, one of the attaches of the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture, returned last week from Parker's station in the Pokegama district, where he was making preparations for beginning work on a large scale for the eradication of forest tree insects in the Weyerhaeuser and other timber tracts in that locality. A crew of fifteen men were to have begun work last Monday morning. The heavy snows of the past week, however, made this impossible. Mr. Glendinning reported four feet of snow on the level at Parker's and six and seven feet on the higher points. Four of the fifteen men had already arrived—camps had been made and everything in readiness for beginning the work. The delay will not be long, however, as Mr. Glendinning thinks the snow will have melted enough within the coming week to allow the men to return to work.

He reports that the infestation of timber in that locality is very bad, and asserts that fully a million feet to every six sections is a fair average of timber ruined by the ravages of the insects. From a financial standpoint this would be a greater drain upon the purse of the owners than all that is paid for taxes and damage sustained through loss by fire.

The work of eradication of these insects will be directed by Mr. Glendinning, who will be assisted by three men from the state forestry office and the crew of men furnished by the Timberland Owners' Association of Kinmath and Lake counties.
