

BEES BUZZING FORCES HANLEY TO QUIT PRESIDENCY

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.—The opening session of the third annual Oregon irrigation congress was given a sensation today when William Hanley, after Mayor Albee had delivered the formal address of welcome, submitted his resignation as president and invited Asa B. Thompson, first vice-president, to take the chair. The resignation was accepted.

"I've got this political bee buzzing in my bonnet," said Hanley, referring to his candidacy for United States senator, "and I don't intend to head any of these organizations until it leaves me."

This year's meeting of the congress will chronicle the definite turning of Oregon irrigation forces from the boosting and speculative to the constructive and permanent, according to delegates.

Not a dissenting word was given the proposition that union of federal, state and individual strength in getting water to arid lands for the benefit of real settlers is the proper present policy.

Words were spoken favorable to Governor West's plan of state or federal and state co-operation in developing irrigation projects. Other expressions were heard advocating strong support of the bill for $100,000,000 to be used in reclamation which Secretary of the Interior Lane desires congress to pass.

Died

WORTHINGTON—At the home of her brother, Henry Shafer, Phoenix, Oregon, Mrs. Elizabeth Worthington, of Jacksonville, Ore., Feb. 12, from gouture, aged 23 years. She was a native of Oregon, and resident of Jacksonville, and had been ill for the past seven months. She leaves a husband, mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Shafer of Jacksonville, two brothers, Henry of Phoenix, Jacob of Jacksonville, and two sisters, Mary Demmer, Medford and Katherine Yonk, Charleston, Okla. Interment at Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be held at the German Lutheran church Sunday, 2 p. m., February 15, Rev. Conrad Wilker, officiating.

CALVERT—Mrs. J. C. Calvert, formerly Miss Jessie M. Gilson, died of heart trouble February 8, 1914, at her home, eight miles west of Rogue River. She was born at Sterling, Oregon, June 21, 1879, and was married to J. C. Calvert September, 1900, and leaves her husband and one son, five years of age; also seven sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Alice Ulrich, Mrs. Hattie Deniff and Mrs. Mayette Rose of Jacksonville; Mrs. Elsie Randalls of Modesto, Cal.; Mrs. Laura McFall of San Andrea, Cal.; Mrs. Letitia Jennings of Buncom, Oregon, and Mrs. Ivy Childress of Bonanza, Cal.; Ansel Gilson of Buncom, Oregon, and Harry Gilson of Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. Calvert's parents were early pioneers of Jackson county, coming in 1859, and have resided in the county continuously since that time. Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Hattie Deneff of Jacksonville on Tuesday.

SMITH—At Talent, Feb. 10, Mrs. Margaret J. Smith, for thirty years a resident of the Rogue river valley, died at her home in Talent February 10, of apoplexy. The deceased was one of the best known ladies of Talent, a woman of sterling character and devout piety, being a member of the "Church of God." The funeral arrangements await the arrival of two sons who reside in California. Interment in Wagner Creek cemetery.

Margaret Morris was born in Missouri, September 19, 1838. On March 20, 1856, she was united in marriage to Sydney S. Smith, who passed away in October, 1911. To them eleven children were born, of whom only four survived Mrs. Smith. They are Clara Smith of Marysville, Cal.; Pearl Smith of Lincoln, Cal.; Mrs. John Burnett of Ashland and Frank Smith of Talent.

Three years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Smith crossed the plains by team, settling in a California mining district, where they remained seven years, going from there to the Willamette valley. In the early eighties they returned to the Rogue river valley and settled near Talent, where they have resided ever since. Mr. Smith being interested in several saw mills on Anderson creek. Mrs. Smith also leaves one sister and one brother, both of whom reside in Kansas.

PACKY M'FARLAND AND MIKE GIBBONS, CLEVEREST BOXERS IN WORLD, WHO ARE EXPECTED TO MEET SOON

The coming fight between Packy McFarland and Mike Gibbons, the cleverest boxers in the world in any division, will be one of the most interesting contests seen in the ring for many years—if it is not a fake. McFarland is undoubtedly the cleverest boxer in the ring. Few men of the past have equalled him. Jim Driscoll the wonderful little featherweight of England, who spent several months in the United States, knocking out lightweights, and Young Griffo, the Australian, now a ruin of the bar-room, were his superiors. But it is doubtful if other clever men of the past, men like Jim Corbett, Jack McAuliffe, or Joe Gans, were clever as mere boxers.

Gibbons has been a revelation since he has shown himself out of St. Paul, his home. No middleweight in the ring now, and perhaps none since Tommy Ryan, has proved himself as good a boxer. Men like Ketchel and Walcott, and Langford—when he was in the middleweight class—might have whipped him, but they would have had to go some to do it. McFarland has faked so much that

PROHIBS CHEER WEST FOR SENATE AND GRILL SHERIFF

Prohibitionists of the city gathered at the Page theater Thursday night and heard A. J. Emerson of Albany outline the campaign plans of the party for making Oregon dry at the November elections. The demon rum was hammered, jabbed and harpooned mercilessly, and unity of all parties urged to win the victory. The speaker's remarks aroused much enthusiasm.

Governor Oswald West was boosted for United States senator by H. S. Stine in his talk, and the crowd of 1000 cheered wildly. Mr. Stine was of the opinion that the prohibitionists by a little work could carry every office in Jackson county, besides the state and nation. He lambasted the sheriff's office for alleged snail-like propensities and said: "You can't get them to look into anything. What we want is a sheriff who will be on hand if the pop bottles pop too loud and foam too long. But for the everlasting life of you, you can't get 'em to look into anything."

Cards were issued asking for contributions for the campaign, but the enthusiasm was dead. A call for $5 and $1 contributors failed to land one.

At the conclusion of the meeting, S. L. Bennett was named county chairman to fill a vacancy.
