

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A. K. Earhart of Rogue River has returned home after a several day's visit with his mother, Mrs. Stevenson.

A. L. Simmons and family have moved to Central Point.

Miss Rose Hayes of Sam's Valley is visiting friends and relatives in this city for a few days.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church give a chicken pie dinner Friday, Feb. 20, from 6 to 8 p. m. in the church parlors, price 50c.

Miss Lovet Snyder of Glendale is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jacobson, who is convalescing from a recent operation for appendicitis.

Carlin & Taylor, lawyers. (John H. Carlin, Glenn O. Taylor), Haskins-Hoyden Bldg., Main street.

Walter Merrick assumed control this morning of the Central Point Hotel, which he will operate.

Earl Hansen of Big Butte is attending to business matters in this city this week.

Highland Blend flour $1.25 at Hutchison & Lumsden's. 283*

James Fleming and wife of this city visited with friends and relatives in Grants Pass Sunday and Monday.

The police have received warning from the Sells-Floto circus against a man giving the name of McDonald who is traveling about the country posing as an advance agent for the show, and fleeing the people.

M. Purdin, lawyer, rooms 4 and 5 Rialto building, opposite First National Bank.

Arthur Fraser of Montague, Cal., is in the city this week attending to business matters.

Earl Ulrich left the first of the week for his stock ranch on Union creek by auto.

Your insurance is right if Holmes writes it, let him write it right, right away.

R. N. Foster returned this morning from a business trip to Astoria, Ore. He says the big town is not as lively as it used to be. He also reports that Bud Anderson, according to street talk is getting fat and flabby, and that there is no interest in his fight with Red Watson tomorrow night.

J. F. Spencer of Salt Lake City is registered at the Nash.

See Tomy for fire insurance.

J. A. Robinson of Merced, Cal., is spending a few days in the city attending to business matters.

H. N. Willard of San Diego, Cal., is in the city attending to business matters.

J. O. Gerking, the best all around photographer in southern Oregon. Always reliable. Negatives made anywhere, time or place. Studio 228 Main St. Phone 320-J.

Attorney George Cherry made a trip to Jacksonville this morning on legal business.

D. P. Young of Bingham, Utah, is spending a few days in the city on business.

Kodak finishing, glossy or dull finish at J. O. Gerking's studio, 228 E. Main St. Phone 320.

A brisk wind sprang up late Tuesday night and blew with some force throughout the night. Rain is predicted to follow in its wake.

Frank Farrell is in from his ranch for a few hours this morning attending to business matters.

Sugar Pine shakes. Medford Lbr. Co.

Mose Barkdull who has been spending the last ten days in San Francisco is expected home tomorrow.

A force of men under Ralph Cowgill are putting in culverts on the Central Point road, preparatory to the beginning of work on that highway.

C. A. De Voe, Medford agent for the Portland Oregonian, 418 W. Main. Phone 122-R.

Mrs. George Nueber of Jacksonville and daughter, Laura, visited friends in Medford Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The last word received from Frank Edwards the wandering Jew, says that he is in New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras, and sell a line of goods.

J. Cross of Butte Falls spent Monday in the city on business.

Milk and cream at DeVoe's.

The Rebecca lodge held a social session at their hall last night in which was largely attended. A banquet was served and a musical program given.

Don Rader has received no word from the White Sox to report for spring training, and he may play independently ball this year.

Remember Tomy writes fire insurance.

E. H. Rice of the Little Applegate district is in the city today on business.

"Pug" Isaacs who has been under the weather for some time owing to an affliction of 54 bolts, one after the other, is contemplating a trip to northern California springs for a cure. He thinks the trouble is caused from infection from handling spraying material last spring.

Fresh lime. Medford Lbr. Co.

An unknown motorcyclist crashed into the railing of the Bear creek bridge Tuesday night, while running at a high rate of speed without lights and smashed his machine.

Harry Howells made a business trip to Ashland this morning.

Try our flour, Johnson's Best. $1.15; Blue Stem, $1.35; None Better. L. B. Brown, Russ Mill, Flour and Feed.

W. W. Usher of Ashland, filed his papers Wednesday for the republican nomination for coroner, subject to the primary May 15.

Tomy writes better fire insurance.

E. D. Weston, commercial photographer, negatives made any time or place by appointment. Phone M 1471.

Model Bakery goods at De Voes.

To accommodate those who desire to attend the Development meeting at Eugene on the 19th, the Southern Pacific company will run a sleeper on number 16 of the 18th to be set out at Eugene, returning, this car will be ready for occupancy at Eugene at 9:30 p. m. of the 19th and return to valley points on train 13 reaching Medford the morning of the 20th. In making reservations kindly mention this car. 282*

Game Warden Hubbard states that bounties have been paid so far this winter by Jackson county upon 109 bobcats, 93 coyotes and 14 cougars. In addition, quite a number of pelts were shipped without attempting to secure bounty.

George Gregg of Janney creek recently presented six cougar skins for bounty payment, but although the hides were green, County Clerk Gardner refused the bounties, as the claws were missing from the hides, having been left on the carcasses when skinned.

E. L. Cranfill, a pioneer merchant of this city and valley, died at Eugene this morning about 2 o'clock of heart failure. Mr. Cranfill was interested in the Cranfill & Rohmet store at Central Point, besides business interests in this city. At the time of his death he was visiting a sister, who is ill. He was about 55 years of age and leaves a wife and son and daughter, all living in this city.

The body will be shipped to this city for burial, when the funeral arrangements will be made. Members of the family will leave for Eugene this evening.

Following rough tactics in the Chinese restaurant on Front street Tuesday, Lee Fung, a Chinaman, in self-defense pulled a pistol on Fred Reed and James Fitzgerald, two white customers. In the struggle for the gun it was discharged. Fung was badly beaten up. All three were arrested by Officers Cingrade and Crawford, Reed and the Chinaman afterwards being released on $50 bail. Before Police Judge Gay this morning fines of $10 were applied.

SIX SALOON HOLDUPS WITHIN ONE WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 18.—That Francis Fisher and James Wilson, arrested here Sunday night, were responsible for six saloon holdups within a week was the confession alleged by the police to have been made by Fisher here today. The six holdups, however, netted the two men less than $25.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 18.—General Victoriano Carranza, military leader of the Mexican constitutionalists, arrived here late today from Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora. He will go to Naco by train late today and thence to Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, by automobile.

SUSPECT NEGRO OF MURDERING YOUNG WOMAN

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 18.—Because Walter Hickman, a negro was so prompt to furnish information pointing toward Anthony Pedros as the murderer of Miss Tracy Holander, whose corpse was found yesterday morning in St. Nicholas' cemetery here with the skull crushed and a bloody club lying nearby, Chief of Police Frank Michaels was seeking Hickman himself today.

Pedros, a young Italian mechanic, had been attentive to Miss Holander but his suit was not favorably received, which seemed to the police at first to furnish some basis for suspicion against him in connection with the negro's story that he saw the couple riding home together on a street car after a lodge meeting the girl had attended, and a short time before the murder. Pedros, Hickman also asserted, left the car a block beyond the point where Miss Holander got off and started in the same direction that she had taken.

The negro, who had been detained as a witness, was released after giving this account, and the police were not sure where to look for him when they wanted him again.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

Investigation had pretty thoroughly convinced them of Pedros' innocence. Aside from the fact that the footprints in the snow about the spot where the murdered girl's body was found were those of a larger man than the prisoner, it seemed clear that the latter could never have taken such enormous strides as those with which the murderer left the scene of the crime. From the length of the steps the police estimated that the slayer must have been at least six feet tall, and Pedros is but a trifle over five.

The inquest was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon.

ASKS CONGRESS TO END BARGAIN COUNTER RUSHES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Christine Frederick of Philadelphia, representing the Housewives' League of America, demanded and secured today a hearing before the house judiciary committee on the trust bill. She pleaded with its members to urge congress to consider women buyers in small stores in framing the proposed legislation.

Mrs. Frederick said women studying business methods demanded that the trust bill abolish "cut-throat and cut-price" competition. She bitterly denounced "bargain counter scrambles," adding:

"Once I crowded around a bargain counter and suffered a twisted plexus torsion; had a sleeve torn from my waist and had my best hat wrecked. Finally I secured three yards of lace, for which I paid 78 cents. Competition and not price-cutting will work the salvation of business with Uncle Sam as the umpire."

Mrs. Frederick said women studying business methods demanded that the trust bill abolish "cut-throat and cut-price" competition. She bitterly denounced "bargain counter scrambles," adding:

"Once I crowded around a bargain counter and suffered a twisted plexus torsion; had a sleeve torn from my waist and had my best hat wrecked. Finally I secured three yards of lace, for which I paid 78 cents. Competition and not price-cutting will work the salvation of business with Uncle Sam as the umpire."

Mrs. Frederick said women studying business methods demanded that the trust bill abolish "cut-throat and cut-price" competition. She bitterly denounced "bargain counter scrambles," adding:

"Once I crowded around a bargain counter and suffered a twisted plexus torsion; had a sleeve torn from my waist and had my best hat wrecked. Finally I secured three yards of lace, for which I paid 78 cents. Competition and not price-cutting will work the salvation of business with Uncle Sam as the umpire."

PROBE FEDERAL JUDGE DAYTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Assurance that formal charges against Federal Judge A. G. Dayton of the northern district of Virginia will be fully investigated by the justice department was given by President Wilson today to a committee representing the United Mineworkers of America.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

The committee which preferred the accusations complained that Dayton had termed labor unions criminal assemblages and conspiracies against the nation's peace and welfare.

It was charged, too, that the judge discriminated against members of labor organizations.

PAYS TO ADVERTISE SAYS MRS. G. F. KING IN MAIL TRIBUNE

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

Mrs. George F. King says it pays to advertise—in the Mail Tribune. Tuesday afternoon she placed a want ad in the Mail Tribune offering a range for sale. Before the paper had been delivered at her home, she had received three offers over the phone and had the range sold by night.

CITY ATTORNEY M'CABE RETAINED BY COUNCIL

City Attorney McCabe retains his position with the city, as a result of a vote of the city council at the meeting Tuesday night when the question of disposing of the incumbent came up. Councilman Sargent led the fight against McCabe, and made a long speech in which he argued that he should be ousted because of a statement he made declaring the electric light company was entitled to a franchise, and for this reason unable to uphold the rights of the city in a suit. Attorney McCabe spoke ten words, and when the votes were counted he had won by a vote of 6 to 2. Sargent and Emerick voted against him. The others took the position McCabe should be retained because of efficiency.

City Attorney McCabe retains his position with the city, as a result of a vote of the city council at the meeting Tuesday night when the question of disposing of the incumbent came up. Councilman Sargent led the fight against McCabe, and made a long speech in which he argued that he should be ousted because of a statement he made declaring the electric light company was entitled to a franchise, and for this reason unable to uphold the rights of the city in a suit. Attorney McCabe spoke ten words, and when the votes were counted he had won by a vote of 6 to 2. Sargent and Emerick voted against him. The others took the position McCabe should be retained because of efficiency.

City Attorney McCabe retains his position with the city, as a result of a vote of the city council at the meeting Tuesday night when the question of disposing of the incumbent came up. Councilman Sargent led the fight against McCabe, and made a long speech in which he argued that he should be ousted because of a statement he made declaring the electric light company was entitled to a franchise, and for this reason unable to uphold the rights of the city in a suit. Attorney McCabe spoke ten words, and when the votes were counted he had won by a vote of 6 to 2. Sargent and Emerick voted against him. The others took the position McCabe should be retained because of efficiency.

City Attorney McCabe retains his position with the city, as a result of a vote of the city council at the meeting Tuesday night when the question of disposing of the incumbent came up. Councilman Sargent led the fight against McCabe, and made a long speech in which he argued that he should be ousted because of a statement he made declaring the electric light company was entitled to a franchise, and for this reason unable to uphold the rights of the city in a suit. Attorney McCabe spoke ten words, and when the votes were counted he had won by a vote of 6 to 2. Sargent and Emerick voted against him. The others took the position McCabe should be retained