

VOCIFEROUSLY ASKS IMPEACHMENT OF PRESIDENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—A vociferous appeal for the impeachment of President Woodrow Wilson and the arrest of two "hired assassins" of the department of justice was contained in letters received here today from H. W. A. Page, a former New York linen merchant, mailed from Seattle, Wash. Page, who is believed to have hurried to Vancouver, B. C., after writing the letters, is a fugitive from justice, having been sentenced to a prison term for the alleged libeling of congressmen. His sentence was suspended pending his good behavior, but Page renewed his attacks and left the country.

Page mailed letters to President Wilson, Attorney General McReynolds, several diplomats and a score of senators and congressmen. He declared he was being persecuted and wanted President Wilson impeached and numerous other officials arrested. Page was convicted of calling all congressmen liars and crooks because they ignored his demand to impeach a New York judge who had granted alimony to Page's wife.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII AT THE STAR SUNDAY

It is nearly a hundred years ago that Lord Bulwer Lytton wrote "The Last Days of Pompeii," and during all that time it has survived as one of the greatest romantic novels in the world of literature, and still holds marvelous fascination for hosts of readers. George Kleine has just produced a photo-drama of the novel which will doubtless live for many hundred years to come and be shown upon the screen ages hence as evidence of the wonderful development of the art of photography in these times. Mr. Kleine's production was made in Italy and visualizes all the most important incidents of the story with vivid realism. The heartrending tale of the great love of the blind flower girl, Nydia, for her handsome master, Glaucus, and her terrible suffering when she learns lone has won his heart, are all brought out with telling truth. The tragic results of her efforts to win his love with the use of the love philtre the wicked Arbaces gave, and which destroys Glaucus' reason, is dramatically illustrated. And the final episode showing the awful catastrophe of the eruption of the mighty volcano of Vesuvius with its clouds of ashes, flame and smoke, completely destroying Pompeii, is reproduced with spectacular grandeur that is awe-inspiring and impressive. Taken as a whole, it is one of the most remarkable photo-dramas that has ever been produced. Mr. Kleine's production of "The Last Days of Pompeii" will be the attraction at the Star theater tomorrow for the one day only.

CHARGE 5 CENTS A BOX FOR FRUIT SHIPPED

At a meeting of the directors of the Rogue River Valley Fruit and Produce association yesterday it was decided to make five cents a box the association charge,—the same as last year,—and contracts will be signed at once. This is a very reasonable charge and represents a material inducement to the grower to join the association.

This year all members will be obliged to ship their fruit with the association, the provision making it possible for the grower to ship at pleasure by paying the association the commission on all fruit shipped through other channels, having been abandoned.

The completion of the Spitzenberg pool is expected now in a few days and the final report of the 1913 business will then be available.

With Medford train is Medford made.

VILLA ANXIOUS TO CLEAR UP BENTON CASE AT ONCE

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 28.—That General Villa is less indifferent than had been supposed to American public opinion in connection with the Benton case was intimated today in messages from Chihuahua City.

He was extremely anxious, it was stated, to clear up all international differences before opening the attack on Torreon and was deeply disappointed that Special Agent Carothers of the Washington state department postponed his trip to Chihuahua City yesterday.

It was agreed here, too, that if Benton's body is to be examined it should be done soon or it would be impossible, as it was buried without being embalmed.

Carothers and British Consul Percival, from Galveston, were both still here today and showed no signs of an early start for Chihuahua City. A trainload of rebel soldiers left Chihuahua City for Torreon today.

THREE WEEKS' WAIT BEFORE DECISION ON RESERVE BANK CITIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—At least three weeks must elapse before any definite announcement is made concerning the federal reserve regions or regional bank cities under the new currency law, according to a treasury department official today.

Scores of maps and sheets of banking statistics have been submitted to the organization committee and have not yet been examined. One of Secretary McAdoo's assistants said no decision would be reached until all this evidence is carefully considered.

Those in close touch with the committee think it improbable that two banks will be established in Missouri—at St. Louis and Kansas City—though the cities serve different territories. It was stated that if any single state had two regional banks it probably will be Pennsylvania, this state having more national banks than any other.

CARRANZA TALKS OVER BENTON CASE WITH CONSUL

NOGALES, Ariz., Feb. 28.—American Consul Simpich, at Nogales, Sonora, conferred today with General Venustiano Carranza, the constitutional leader. The Benton case was believed to be under discussion. No word of what was taking place leaked across the border from the customs house, where they met.

Carranza, it was reported, will prepare a statement of his position tomorrow or Monday. Members of his cabinet, apparently instructed in silence, refused to forecast his attitude.

Second Officer Palacios of the former federal gunboat Tampico, which deserted recently to the rebels, arrived here today to get instructions from Carranza.
