New Millinery Department

The hat is wedded to the gown. The one is destined for the other and harmony should exist between them.

Since our business was first established we have felt the need of adding millinery to complete our service to women who would be both well gowned and well hatted. This spring sees the realization of our plans in the addition of a thoroughly modern millinery department which is now in operation. It is not a department exclus-ture of the retail millinery business. A skilled working organization will at all times be maintained in charge of an experi-ively devoted to trimmed hats, but a department embracing every recognized fea-enced manager and trimmer. We do not propose to revolutionize the millinery business, but we do propose to adhere to a PRICE REASONABLENESS that will mark an era in merchandising.

A specialty will be made of elever, distinctively modish designs at moderate prices. The finest creations of the milliner's art will also be offered in great variety at small profit margins. Under any and all circumstances our patrons can depend upon the same authority in style and honesty in value that govern our other lines.

Our spring lines in all departments are now complete.
