

SECOND TRACY WHO KILLS THREE CHASED BY POSSE

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., March 30.—More than 200 men are today scouring the country between the Canadian border on the north and Everett on the south for Charles Hopkins, a fugitive, who has committed several murders since the beginning of the year, and is regarded here as a second Harry Tracy. His latest victims were Antone Gerb, 40; John Freeman, 35, and an unidentified man, held up on the road near Ehrlich station, Skagit county, Saturday night.

Gerb was instantly killed. Freeman was seriously wounded and the other man who had accompanied the other two is missing. Freeman was first knocked unconscious with the butt of the hand's revolver, and as he lay prostrate was shot through the neck. Upon regaining his senses Sunday morning he crawled half a mile to the station, awakened Joseph Kelly, occupant of a shack. Dr. H. L. Miller was summoned, the sheriff and constable notified and a general alarm sent out. Poses in three counties were quickly organized.

"That's him; that's him," he cried. Hopkins has the words "true love" tattooed on his fingers. He is accused of murdering Charles Hodges on January 31 in a Seattle lodging house, and last Thursday night seriously wounded Patrolman Williamson and two others at Everett.

Every logging camp, railroad employ and town constable and deputy sheriff between Canada and Seattle has been supplied with a picture of the fugitive, and with three organized poses after him. Deputy Sheriff Stevenson of Mount Vernon is confident he will be captured shortly.

BILL HANLEY BULL MOOSE CANDIDATE

PORTLAND, March 30.—William Hanley yesterday announced that he would be a candidate for the progressive nomination for United States senator.

Since the progressive luncheon on Thursday the movement to urge Mr. Hanley to enter the race for the progressive nomination gathered force, and many progressives called upon him to urge him to be a candidate, while others wrote him letters and prominent progressives presented him the following petition:

"Hon. William Hanley, Portland. 'Dear Sir—We, being members of the progressive party, and appreciative of the services you have rendered the cause of the development of Oregon, and believing that the principles you stand for are in accord with the national platform of the progressive party, herewith urge you to declare yourself a candidate for the office of United States senator on the progressive ticket.'"

To these he replied agreeing to become a candidate.

DR. SMITH RETIRES FROM STATE BOARDS

SALEM, Or., March 30.—Governor West today announced that Dr. C. J. Smith of Portland, aspirant for the democratic nomination for governor, had resigned as a member of the state board of health and the state board of higher curricula. Dr. Smith says in his letter to the governor:

"This action would have been taken some time ago had it not been for certain uncompleted matters before these boards. My term having recently expired on the last named board, formal resignation as to it is perhaps unnecessary.

"Public office should be a public trust, and it seems to me a man cannot be an officeholder and at the same time do his full duty as an officeholder. The temptation to neglect the people's affairs for one's private ambition is too great."

FOREST GROVE MAYOR DEAD AT SIXTY-SEVEN

PORTLAND, Or., March 30.—Walter Hoge, mayor of Forest Grove in 1908, and formerly editor of the Forest Grove Times, is dead here today at the age of 67 years, after a three months' illness. Before coming to Oregon in 1901, Hoge was editor of newspapers in Nebraska.

LEADING AMERICAN DRESSMAKERS DENY FRENCH CHARGE THAT AMERICANS ARE TO BLAME FOR DRESS INDECENCIES

Dressmakers in America resent the charge that American customers who buy French model dresses are responsible for the daring innovations which have already called down a storm of protest upon their wearers in Paris. Representatives of America's leading dressmaking shops expressed their surprise and indignation at this arraignment of the American woman.

The criticisms followed an announcement of the Women's Patriotic League of Paris, recently organized for the purpose of suppressing immodesty in dress. And immediately upon the heels of the announcement of the Women's Patriotic League campaign came the statement, made by a leading French dressmaker, that Americans were entirely to blame for this indecency.

The announcement said in part:—"The American woman, and not the French woman, created the demand for risque dresses. The French initiated the mode, but the Americans degraded it outrageously. The slit skirt and the transparent corsage are made in nine cases out of ten for exportation. The Parisienne knows just how far to go, but for our American customers nothing seems too daring."

DRAMATIC LEAGUE ARRANGES TO GIVE UNIVERSITY PLAY

Arrangements have been made by the University of Oregon Dramatic League for the production in Medford at the Page Theater, on April 188, of J. M. Barrie's brilliant three-act comedy, "The Professor's Love Story."

Professor Reddie is well and most favorably known here for the delightful readings which he has given in connection with the University of Oregon extension work, and that he is to take part in and direct the production alone is sufficient guarantee of its excellence in every way. The rest of the cast is made up of ten of the university students who have been selected for their individual adaptation to their several parts and ably trained to a point closely approaching perfection.

"The Professor's Love Story" was Barrie's first immense dramatic success, and in it the author is at his best in pure, whimsical humor, the play being replete with a wealth of droll lines and situations. It is an almost continuous laugh from start to finish and we can promise our readers a most delightful evening's entertainment on the date mentioned.

400,000 ACRES OF LAND CUT OUT OREGON RESERVES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—An executive order just promulgated has resulted in an elimination of lands from national forest areas in Oregon.

The readjustment of boundaries has resulted in a total reduction of gross area on the Paulina and Deschutes national forests of about 496,000 acres. The lands eliminated are located in the east central part of the state, a considerable portion being on pumice lands of low fertility and little value for present or future forest purposes. A portion is located near the Deschutes river and already comprises a large percentage of private lands, and includes two towns. These eliminations are a part of the work of boundary examinations initiated five or six years ago, which is resulting in fixing, after careful survey, the definite boundaries of those lands which should remain permanently in forests.

The present eliminations are made because the land is not required for forest purposes or for the protection of watersheds. The lands have considerable grazing value, but only a small portion are suitable for agriculture under present conditions.

Ugly Sores Quickly Banished

You Marvel How Worst Skin Eruptions Disappear as Result of Famous Remedy

If you should meet anyone varnishing a sore with a greasy ointment, your best advice would be to quit such things and attend to the blood. To successfully fight any blood trouble, some eruptive skin disease—call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaris or scrofula—get your blood under the influence of S. S. S. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood, for the diseased venous blood is marvellous. Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all excretories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease. There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy today, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar, write to the Swift Specific Co., 216 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not permit anyone to talk you into some useless compound they put up as a substitute for S. S. S. No honest druggist will do this.

GANG SHOOT UP BANK OF ELMA ESCAPE WITH $3500

ELMA, Wash., March 30.—It is believed today the seven men who shot up the Bank of Elma early Saturday evening and stole $3500 in currency from the vaults have made good their escape.

A posse of forty men returned late last night after beating the woods for several miles in every direction without finding trace of the bandits. The robbery occurred while customers were coming in and going out of the bank. The men, led by a big fellow who spoke broken English, lined the bank employees up at the points of their guns, intimidated bystanders with a fusillade of shots that injured no one, entered the vaults and took the coin at their leisure. They fired several shots up and down the street as they ran to the woods.

FRANCE USING EXPOSITION CLUB FOR CONCESSIONS

PARIS, March 30.—That a liberal appropriation for a French exhibit at the San Francisco exposition will be voted by the Gallies parliament soon after the election of new deputies on April 26 was the prediction of a very astute Paris politician here today.

The situation, he said, is just this: French business men think they see a chance to extort tariff concessions from the United States by threatening to boycott the exposition until they get them.

The present deputies do not think they will get any such concessions, and they do not want a French exhibit at the exposition. They are afraid they will offend certain influential electors if they vote an appropriation without the concessions, however, and they are unwilling to give offense with an election so near.

After the election is over the author of this explanation said he was sure the appropriation would be forthcoming.

Hupmobile History

CHAPTER VII

The chief advantage of the Hupmobile design is, that no load whatever is carried on the axle shafts. They do nothing but drive the wheels and the axle casing which is large and strong carries the load. This casing is built up of two tapered steel tubes, the malleable iron central housing and the taper steel tube propeller shaft housing. These pieces form a casing so strong and rigid that it does not require the support of either truss or reach rods.

The differential which carries the driven bevel gear is mounted on two large roller bearings. These carry only the up and down loads. The end thrust is taken care of by two ball bearings just outside of the rollers.

Two threaded adjusters are used to move the bevel gear in or out from the pinion until the proper tooth contact or "mesh" is secured for quiet and efficient running.

The bevel driving pinion is mounted between two roller bearings which hold it in perfect alignment. Its thrust is taken up by another ball bearing and it also is adjustable to help secure proper mesh.

Each wheel runs on two roller bearings, one of which takes the load and the other side thrusts encountered in turning corners. Thus, the axle shafts with flanges bolted to the wheels are free to do the driving.

The bearings are all of the best manufacture and all working parts are made from high grade, electric, or open hearth steel heat-treated by expert metallurgists.

It is noteworthy that many of the leading European makers of high priced cars such as Panhard and Lorraine have adopted this construction for the axle casings of their latest models.
