Again we must warn you not to lose sight of the fact that Mull and Jeff missed $15,000 several days ago. And that's quite some change.

ANTI-TRUST BILL READY FOR SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Draconically toned down, revised drafts of the administration's anti-trust bills will be submitted to congress this week, it was announced today. The lawmakers who are handling them have received instructions to speed matters up as much as possible but the opinion was gaining ground that several of the bills may be shelved for the session and the anti-trust program curtailed or perhaps even postponed in the interests of an early adjournment, so that congressmen may get back to their constituencies and look after their political fences. Three of the anti-trust bills, it was said, are likely to be compressed into one. Whether the labor union and farmers' organization exemption clauses will be permitted to stand will be decided in a few days, it was stated. The expectation was that the Bartlett Bacon amendment, authorizing unions to make closed shop agreements with employers, would be modified, at any rate, by limiting unions' exemption from the operation of anti-trust legislation to exist without legalizing closed shop agreements.

ALABAMA VOTES FOR NEW SENATOR

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—Supporters respectively of Congressman Oscar W. Underwood and Richmond P. Hobson expressed equal confidence today that their candidates would win the United States senatorial contest at the statewide democratic primaries. Candidates for many other offices were involved in today's voting, but interest in the Underwood-Hobson fight for the senate overshadowed everything else. It was not only hot as a political struggle, but much personal bitterness entered into it. The weather was fine. A record vote was expected.
