BEWARE! ADVICE OF WARE AFTER BRIDE IS DIVORCED

(Los Angeles Herald) All you men who contemplate marrying your stenographers— Beware! This is the advice of Alfred K. Ware of Upland.

Ware is 50 years old. Mrs. Ware is 27. The hardware business is about 20. That his stenographer-wife married him to escape the monotonous click of the typewriter is Ware's statement today.

Housekeeping Distasteful But he says she found housekeeping even more distasteful. Then they quarreled and she called him "hard" (ware) and got a divorce on the ground of cruelty.

Ware today said he had heard a great deal about it being "the woman who pays," but this time, he asserts, it is the man, and he is that man, and that it is hard wear on him.

Ware continued: "She longed to be back to the old free and easy life, with a dance twice a week, instead of being tied to one man, and that man one she did not love. Yes, I think I could tell prospective bridegrooms quite a lot of interesting truths, and might help some of our social agitators to work out some kind of good legislation on the divorce evil, and incidentally do something toward a law requiring all applicants for marriage licenses to answer very pointed questions as to domestic experience before granting the license."

So Ware, the hardware man of Upland, who thought hard by his wife, reiterates the warning— Beware! Both Mr. Ware and his wife are former residents of Medford. Mr. Ware for five years owned a fruit ranch on King's Highway and was secretary of the Commercial club a year ago. He came from Minnesota. He traded his orchard for the hardware store at Upland a year ago. Mrs. Ware was formerly Miss Rollins and came here from Minneapolis. The couple were married last August in California, where the bride was then residing.

PORTLAND PUPILS PLAN EXCURSION TO CRATER LAKE

A special excursion of Portland high school pupils to Crater Lake this summer will be given, provided enough autos can be secured in Medford to make the trip. The following self-explanatory letter tells the story: "Mr. Court Hall, Medford, Or. "My Dear Mr. Hall: The S. P. company want to give a special excursion of Portland high school children (young men and women) to Crater lake, July 4. They want to get 125 and have a special train so that they can make one way fare for the round trip, and the train will probably reach Medford just after the Sheeta Limited, so that the excursionists can proceed at once to Crater Lake. They want us to join with them and make a round trip rate of $25, including berths for sleepers both ways. We want twenty-five automobiles to agree to sign up for five passengers each at $50 per car for a stay of two days at the lake. They will go and return via Medford, and both Medford and Crater Lake will receive considerable advertisement over this trip. Please take it up with the Commercial club and automobile people, and let me know as soon as possible. The Crater Lake company will make special rates at the lake for their accommodation. Yours truly, "ALFRED L. PARKHURST."

Any automobilist desirous of making this trip call and get particulars from Court Hall at once.

SPANISH REFUGEES FLEEING FROM VILLA REACH MEDFORD

Four Spaniards, refugees from Torreon and the wrath of Villa, are camped upon the S. P. right of way, where they were discovered this morning by Chief of Police Hittson in search of stolen goods. They are waiting and watching for a telegram from El Paso, Tex., that will bring them enough money to carry them to Portland, where they have been secured jobs by the Spanish consul there.

The quartet were pressed into the army service by order of Huerta, but the United States consul secured their release and they at once made tracks for this country. They were given enough money presumably to take them to Portland, but their funds ran out at Ashland, and they started to walk the rest of the way, when the rain stopped them. Chief Hittson talks their language as volubly as he does his own, and held a long confab with the refugees. They were among the first to see the handwriting on the wall, and departed from Torreon without ado. They are clerks and office assistants and express the hope that Villa will be mastered. They say that if he was killed the rebel cause would peter out in short order. When Villa announced he would execute every Spaniard he caught in Torreon they vanished.

NOTED HARPISAT AT PAGE NEXT MONDAY

Madame Elizabeth de Barrie Gill, the noted harpist, entertainer, will appear at the Page Theater Monday evening, April 13.

This artist has a nation-wide reputation, for her ability to entertain and has been greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences wherever she has appeared. Her ability as a contralto soloist as well as a harpist and humorist, dramatic and comedy reader, has won her praise from some of the best authorities in the country. General Lew Wallace said of her rendition of the Chariot Race from Ben Hur: "After hearing hundreds of readers and actresses give selections from Ben Hur I had the pleasure of hearing Elizabeth de Barrie Gill's rendition of the Chariot Race at Crawfordsville, Ind., and it was to me an entire satisfaction and the very best I have ever heard."

The most difficult thing to do in harp playing is to read a selection and play a harp solo at the same time. This Mrs. Gill does most artistically.
