

TRAIN BANDITS ROB MAIL CAR GREAT NORTHERN

SPOKANE, Wash., May 15.—Great Northern passenger train No. 1, the Oriental limited, was held up by two masked men early today near Rexford, Mont. The combination mail and baggage car was detached from the train and run four miles west to Rondo where the car was riddled. The bandits did not secure anything of value as all the registered pouches had been brought west ten hours earlier on the last mail.

Dynamited Car

As soon as the train was stopped the mail clerk and baggage man locked the doors and jumped from the train and hid in the bushes along side the track. When the bandits could not open the car doors they dynamited the car and put many bullets into it.

The train arrived here without the damaged car three hours later. Seven years ago the Oriental limited was held up at Rondo and $40,000 in currency was obtained.

The bandits dressed in overalls and will blue handkerchiefs over the lower parts of their faces. They fled the train soon after it left Rexford. One bandit covered the engineer with his revolver and the other ran in to Conductor W. H. Price who was coming forward to see why the train stopped. Price in his anxiety to put up his hands dropped his lantern and broke it.

Uncoupled the Mail Car

The conductor under orders uncoupled the baggage car from the train. It was while the conductor was working with the coupling that the mail clerk, Benjamin L. Stump, and the baggage messenger locked the doors of the car and dropped into the brush. When the engine and car stopped near Rondo the bandits used dynamite to tear off one door. After they entered the car they tore open a sack containing paper mail and scattered the contents about the floor. Finding nothing of value in the car the robbers dropped to the ground and told the train crew not to move for 30 minutes. A few minutes later the crew backed the engine and car to the train and then started for Spokane. Post office inspectors and special agents of the railroad began a search for the men today.

GRAHAM WINS GOLF TROPHY

SANDWICH, May 15.—John Graham, Jr., a Scottish member of the Royal Liverpool Golf club, today won the St. George's champion grand challenge cup with an aggregate score for the 36 holes of 146 strokes.

Miss Cecile Leitch won the British woman's golf championship today, defeating Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, woman champion of the United States, by two holes up and one to play.

Two English golfers led in the morning. They were Robert Harris of Harwood Downs and E. Martin Smith of the Royal St. George's club, whose total for the two rounds was 153 strokes.

D. Ransom of Crowborough, England, who was the leader of yesterday's play with a score of 72 strokes, for the first round, made the second in 82 strokes, thus bringing his aggregate up to 154.

Among the American competitors, Fraser Hale of Chicago did the second round in 84 strokes, which made his total 166.

Harold Weber of Toledo also took 84 for today's round, making his aggregate 167.

C. W. Inslee of the Oneida Community club, New York, did today's round in 81 for a total of 169.

Miss Cecil Leitch, the new British woman's champion, is only 23 years old. She is the best of a famous quintet of sisters who have figured in championship matches during the last few years. When she was 19 she scored a sensational victory over Harold N. Hilton, the present amateur champion. She won the title of woman's golf champion of France in 1912.

The aggregate score of Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., the amateur champion of the United States, was 155. Francis Outmet of the Woodland Golf club, Massachusetts, the amateur open golf champion, did the two rounds in 158. Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago, finished with an aggregate of 150.

John Graham, Jr., in taking the St. George's champion grand challenge cup, which is worth $2500, repeated his performance of 1904 when he carried off the trophy. On several occasions he has just failed to win the amateur championship cup and on four occasions had led the list of amateurs in the open championships.

GENES ATTENDING THE RAISING OF "OLD GLORY" AT VERA CRUZ AND AMERICAN SHARPSHOOTERS ON THE BORDER.

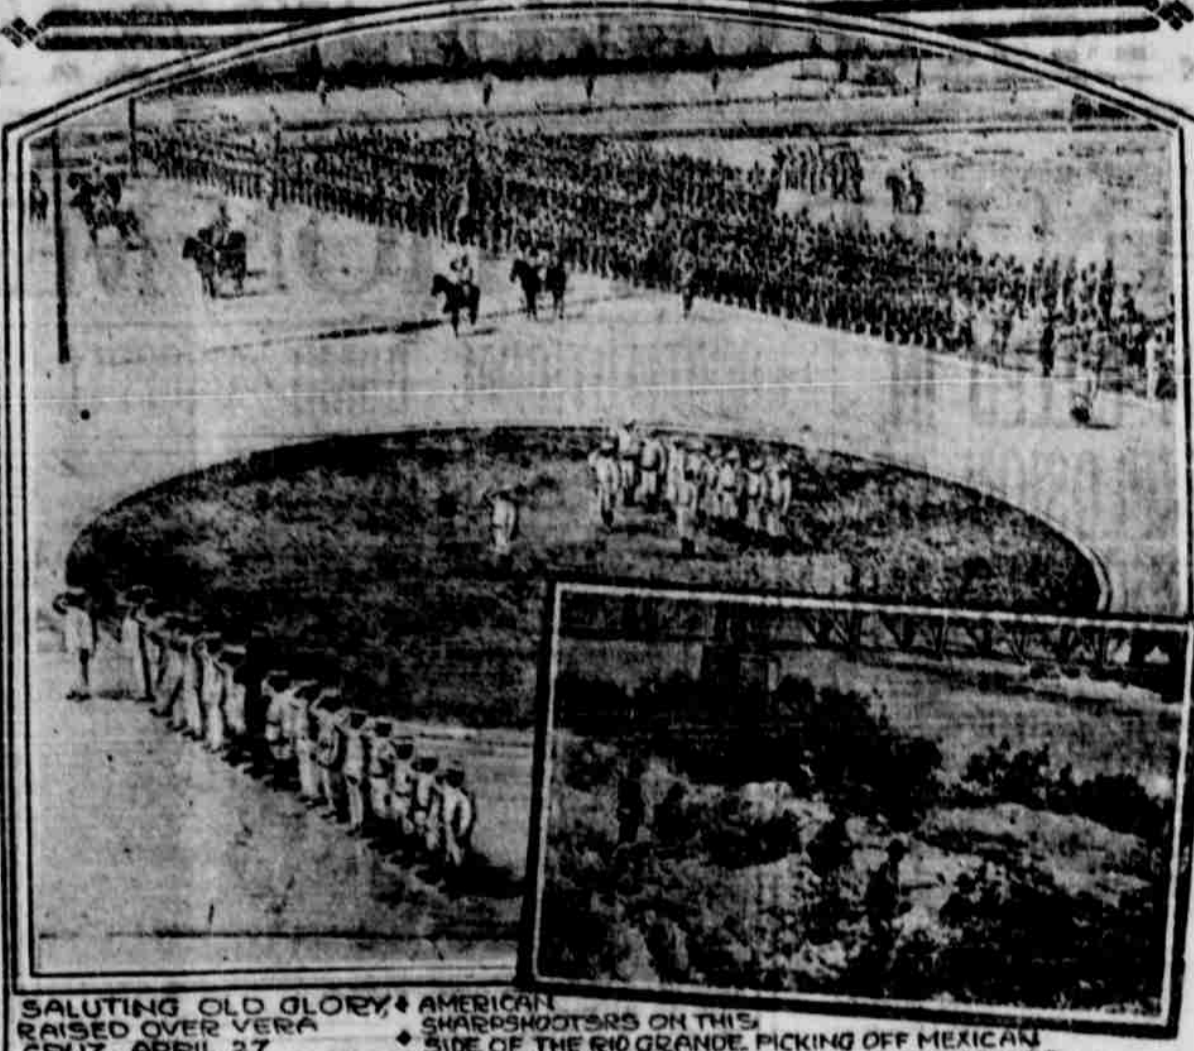

"THERE SHE FLIES, GENTLEMEN!"

Carried by a gentle breeze blowing in from the Gulf, "Old Glory" was raised officially on April 27 above the bullet scarred roofs of Vera Cruz. Four Americans tugged at the halyards that set the broad stripes of white and red and the azure field flutter almost from the precise spot where four not less courageous had fallen in defence of the honor of the affronted national ensign.

After a volley of resounding American cheers, a beautiful ceremony, a naval officer, whose cuffs were decorated with more than two gold stripes, spoke reverently these words:—"There she flies, gentlemen. It cost the lives of gallant men to plant her here, and there I hope she stays!"

There was a bugle blast. Up along the tall staff crept the tricolor ensign, straightening out as its rich folds caught the kiss of the ocean breeze. From the united band of the Marine Corps regiment and the musicians of the Florida 4th, the Utah came swelling across the stretch of arid, sunbaked turf in front of the Terminal Hotel and Station the strains of the national anthem. The brigade stood statuesque at attention, and a thousand other Americans lifted their hats, reverently, not vauntingly, while a thousand stolid Mexicans watched the spectacle unemotionally.

PRIDE OF JENICO AT STAR THEATRE

The Star theater offers for today and tomorrow, another fine Daniel Frohman production, "The Pride of Jenico." There are thrilling situations in this four-part subject of the Famous Players. So also are there dramatic situations—situations which derive their strength from the art of the actors as well as from the skill of those who have transferred to the screen the story of the original writers—Abby Sage Richardson and Grace Livingston Furniss. The climax, which comes at the end of the second part, strikes deep and with extreme suddenness.

From a pictorial standpoint it is beautiful, most of the scenes being made in Cuba, along primitive highways, pretty valleys, deep woods, etc.

The entire production is up to the standard maintained by the "Famous Players."

He reported the gunboat Vera Cruz abandoned in the Panuco river.

MAZATLAN PORT STILL CLOSED TO AMERICAN SHIPS

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, Mazatlan, Mex., May 14 (via wireless to San Diego, May 15).—In spite of General Huerta's revocation of his order closing the ports of Mexico to American shipping, the port officials of Mazatlan refused today to clear the Pacific Mail liner Newport for San Francisco. Rear-Admiral Boyte promptly issued papers to the Newport which would serve as clearance papers, and explain to the customs collector at San Francisco the absence of an official clearance sheet.

The constitutionalist and Federal forces, which have been battling incessantly for a fortnight for the possession of Mazatlan, are resting today and the rattle of rifles and small artillery is still for the time being at least. General Obregon, commanding the constitutionalists, has made no final move to follow up the advantage gained during the last two weeks of siege.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush this through faded, lifeless locks and they become dark, glossy, youthful.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
