

CROP OUTLOOK INDICATES WAVE OF GOOD TIMES

NEW YORK, May 18.—The wave of confidence, based on the prospect of bumper crops and a belief that unsettling influences are disappearing, continues to make itself evident in all parts of the United States. The following cheerful statements were made yesterday in response to a request from The Sun for an opinion of business prospects from various parts of the country which bear assurance of a stimulated trade activity and a belief in a rapidly returning period of prosperity.

Splendid Outlook Says Banker
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17.—John B. Little, vice-president of the Louisville Trust company and in close touch with local conditions, sees a splendid outlook for business conditions. He said today:

"Fundamentally business conditions are sound and the prospects of a big wheat crop give every reason for encouragement. From present indications it appears that the new banking law will work smoothly and give general satisfaction.

"The effect of the tariff had been generally discounted and has no marked depressing result as yet. If the railroads get fair treatment and there is a cessation of political attacks on trusts, business will revive with increasing confidence in the future and we will have a real, continuous, healthy expansion."

COLUMBUS, O., May 16.—Business men of this city are generally optimistic in their outlook. A characteristic statement is that made by J. S. Raiston, president of the Halston Steel Car company, who says:

"I believe that general business conditions are on a sound basis. With the prospects for good crops that are now half made we are certainly in for a period of prosperity if business conditions are not interfered with by vicious legislation.

"The situation looks to me as if the demagogic and muckraking publications which have done so much to bring on business distress were about eliminated, and that is all we need for a long period of continued prosperity."

The International Harvester company said:

"The present crop outlook is very satisfactory, but as considerable time must elapse before the harvest we think it too early to make any definite prognostications."

Irving T. Bush, president Bush Terminal company, said:

"There is nothing more difficult to change than habit. Recently many of the people of this country have acquired the habit of despondency. They look for trouble and hope for the worst. The habit has been growing since the panic of 197 and has required the help of many a hard knock, for the American is naturally an optimist. The country needs its financial liver shaken up, so we can get rid of the black spots before our eyes and see things in their right proportions.

"Some one thing is going to happen soon to wake us up to the fact that things are ready for another cycle of national prosperity if we will only see them as they are. The tariff changes are over, the currency law has been enacted, the president has selected able men for the federal reserve board, the railroad rate increase is almost settled, and crop conditions point to record yields. Even war with Mexico—though terrible from the standpoint of human life—will bring certainty out of uncertainty and arouse the people from a contemplation of their troubles to action."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—F. S. Lijman, vice-president of the Wells Fargo-Nevada National Bank, said:

"The liquidation now going on all over the country must be completed before we can expect prosperous times. The bounteous crops now in prospect should accelerate the process, and indeed may bring about good times unless offset by adverse governmental action having the effect of oppressing business and enterprise. The crops provide the fund upon which our prosperity is finally based, but we must at our peril solve aright the main problems of the relation of government to industry. Until this is done uncertainty will prevail, tending to delay the return to prosperity."

PORTLAND, Ore., May 18.—A. R. Mills, president of the First National Bank, said: "With the federal reserve banks in successful operation, with big crops this year, as now seems most probable, and with the granting of the railroads' request for a 5 per cent increase in rates this fall, there should be a very material improvement in business conditions throughout the United States."

Engineer F. W. Dodge has a crew of men at work upon the power site of the Rogue River Public Service corporation, just east of the city, excavating rock for an extension of the present power house. The canal will be enlarged, the tail race widened, and the capacity of the plant increased by 1,000 h. p. each, will be added to the equipment. The improvement will be in accordance with the company's plan to develop the local site to 5,000 h. p. within the next distant future.

Reuben M. Nicholson, and Mrs. Fannie M. Vashinder, both residing east of this city on the Same Valley road, culminated their courtship by an appearance before Judge Morelock Monday afternoon, when and where they were duly wedded. Both parties to the happy contract are comparative newcomers to this section, having resided in South Dakota until one year ago, when they came to this vicinity.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

F. Heimroth and E. E. Morrison of Medford went to Butte Falls on the P. & E. R. R. simply to see the country.

Mrs. Ollie Bell of Brownsboro was doing business in our town the first of the week.

Rev. L. I. Simmons and wife and Mrs. W. E. Buchanan went to Butte Falls last Tuesday in company with Mr. Kee, Mrs. Buchanan's brother.

N. Garman and wife, foreman on the Laidlow orchard was in town last Tuesday and while here paid me two and half dollars on his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune. While here he gave me an account of the smashup that Mr. Petty had and what a remarkable escape they had but as the account has already published in the Daily Mail Tribune I will not repeat it in the Eaglets.

C. W. Rice representing the Sanitary Mattress Co. of Medford was here taking orders for work in that line last Tuesday.

Mrs. Argylee Green has moved into her home, the old J. J. Fryer place, and like a sensible woman gave me her subscription for the Daily Mail Tribune. She and her son Austin have gone to work to straighten up the place having several changes made in the house and putting things in shape so as to make it her home.

Henry Thornton of Persist came out on the P. & E. R. R. on his way from Ashland where he had been visiting his old friends and relatives and the next morning took the stage for Persist.

Last Wednesday morning I started out to see some of the old subscribers to the Daily and Weekly Mail Tribune and the first place I stopped was at the truck farm of E. S. Welter and about the first thing he did was to pay me a subscription for the Daily Mail Tribune and then he showed me through his berry patch where he has some of the finest strawberries one would want to see and then his currants, raspberries, etc. He had just come in from doing a job of plumbing for George Von der Helten.

I also stopped and looked over Mr. Polouze's farm but did no business with him, passing on I met the men who are putting up a lot of wire fence for Polouze and Mr. Corbin passing on through Brownsboro I stopped for dinner with one of the old standbys Mr. George Brown, and family and while there he paid me a year's subscription to the Weekly Mail Tribune. Mr. Brown has been selling off some of his land and also some of his stock and is now preparing to re-roof his mammoth barn that the last winter's wind partially unroofed. Leaving there I crossed the foot bridge and went over to the farm of r. Hoessler but did no business with him. I also visited the farm of A. H. Horton but he was not at home, although I met him on my return just coming home from San Francisco where he had been to attend the funeral of his father, but did no business with him. Going on up the creek I fell in with a company of roadworkers and among them was the road supervisor C. E. Stanley and he paid up his subscription, going on to Lem Charley's I found no one at home and as it was then near 5:00 o'clock and I wanted to see some parties on the road home turned my course homeward and in a short time met Mr. Nygreen who has a fine farm at the mouth of Salt creek and he looked at me and remarked, "Well I suppose that you are out again after the subscribers to the paper," and on my answering him in the affirmative he said, "well I suppose I might as well pay you right here although we like to see you up in our country." Then I met Mr. Myers who has a nice farm on the road but he said that he wanted to take the paper but would see me later. I also called on I. L. Bradshaw but he was not at home, but I met his estimable wife and she settled the subscription for the paper. The next day while waiting to have my horse shod at Fisher & Matthews blacksmithshop I took a subscription for the daily from Verena Matthews and collected some on George Fisher's subscription and while there met Gus Nichols of Brownsboro and secured his renewal. After dinner I started out and secured the subscription of F. W. Haley to the weekly, going from there to P. J. Parton's I found him out in his orchard at work and there received his order for the Daily Mail Tribune instead of the weekly and then started home in one of the best rain storms I was ever in for it rained hard and plenty of it. The next day, election day, I succeeded in collecting only one subscription and that was from an old county commissioner, James Owens, who has his mail come out from Medford to Agate on the rural route. The next time I want to tell about the good work that is being done on our roads for I am now treading the patience of the editor.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known Medford People Tell It So Plainly

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Medford the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

Mrs. William Charley, 305 North Grape St., Medford, Ore., says: "I had much pain in the small of my back and sometimes I could hardly bend or straighten. At night the trouble bothered me, too and often I couldn't sleep. I tried plasters and liniments but nothing helped me. When almost discouraged, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. In less than two weeks after I began taking them, I felt better. I used in all four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they made me well. Doan's Kidney Pills so completely cured me of kidney trouble that I have had no sign of it for over three years."

Irrigates the Blood Knocks Rheumatism

A Remedy That Flushes the Blood from Head to Foot.

To get rid of rheumatism requires that the blood be completely flushed—not a mere makeshift as by salts and pain killers. The long record of S. S. S. is important to know. It has found its way into every section of the nation. It is the most widely used and most widely talked of remedy there is for all blood troubles. And it is a known fact that rheumatism is primarily a blood trouble.

It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some vitiated blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other poisonous mineral drugs.

The recoveries of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine. For it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well as any medicine ever used. It is the most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today, but insist upon S. S. S. Do not accept a substitute. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a great specialist, confidentially, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Dispensary Co., 200 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Every man in Oregon who employs labor is liable for damages, should one of his employes suffer an injury. Consequently, every employer should carry Liability Insurance or pay the State an annual premium for protection under the Workmen's Compensation Act.
