SILAGE FURNISHES FINEST FEED FOR DAIRY LIVESTOCK

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Silage is the main reliance of dairy farmers in many sections for cow feed, since it has been found to be particularly well adapted as feed in this connection, is the statement contained in Farmers' Bulletin 578, United States Department of Agriculture. While silage is an excellent feed for dairy stock, it should be combined with some other leguminous feed, such as clover, cow peas or alfalfa, owing to its insufficient productive quality.

The leguminous material will tend to correct the deficiencies of the silage in dry matter, protein, and mineral constituents. A ration of silage and, say, alfalfa hay alone is satisfactory, however, only for cows which are dry or giving only a small amount of milk and for heifers and bulls. Cows in full milk require some concentrated feed in addition to hay and silage, as they cannot consume enough of these feeds to keep up a large flow of milk and maintain body weight.

The amount of silage to feed a cow will depend upon the capacity of the animal to consume feed. She should be fed as much as she will clean up without waste when consumed along with her hay and grain. Raise or lower the amount until the proper quantity is ascertained. Generally speaking, a good cow should be fed just short of the limit of her appetite. If she refuses any of her feed it should be reduced at once. The small breeds will eat 25 or 30 pounds per day; the large breeds 40 or more; and the medium-sized ones amounts varying between.

Iron-clad directions for feeding cows cannot be given. In general, however, they should be supplied with all the roughage they will clean up with grain in proportion to butterfat produced. The hay will ordinarily range between five and 12 pounds per cow per day when fed in connection with silage. For Holsteins one pound of concentrates for each four pounds of milk produced will prove about right. For Jerseys one pound for each three pounds of milk or less will come nearer meeting the requirements. The grain for other breeds will vary between these two according to the quality of milk produced. A good rule is to feed seven times as much grain as there is butterfat produced.

TRADE COMMISSION BILL IS DEFEATED

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The senate interstate commerce commission today defeated a plan to report only one anti-trust bill to provide for an interstate trade commission with powers of investigation which would report next winter. This was taken to indicate an attempt will be made by the committee to put comprehensive anti-trust legislation through at the present session.

HUERTA REPORTED ABOUT TO ABDICATE

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Recurring reports of the impending abdication of Huerta received most attention in official circles and in the diplomatic corps. Admittedly that is one of the next important developments in the Mexican situation, which is generally expected, but no one here professes to have any definite information of when it is likely to come.

METHOD IN THEIR MADNESS.

IN AN ADDRESS delivered at Washington today, James J. Hill in discussing the "future of our foreign trade" places the blame for depressed industrial conditions upon arbitrary wage scales imposed by labor unions, and upon "unwise restricted legislation and unnecessary taxation on business," and cites Great Britain as an example of the effect of such conditions.

Mr. Hill, like other railroad magnates, is at present engaged in a nation-wide campaign of manufacturing public opinion to sanction an authorized increase of five per cent in railroad rates—and hence, until the increase is secured, railroad men are playing the part of doleful Jeremiahs, prophets of calamity.

There is a studied effort on the part of big business to create hard times. There is no real reason for business depression. Crops have been excellent. Banks are full of money. The new tariff has hurt only a few pampered industries and greatly benefited the mass of people. Currency reform has placed banking upon a sounder basis and panics are now impossible. There is every reason why the artificial breaks of Wall Street should not stop the wheels of industry.

But the administration's anti-trust legislation is pending in congress. This is the "restrictive" legislation Mr. Hill complains of—it will probably prevent cutting any more such melons as the New Haven. Hence a return to power of the Republican party promising the needed relief to Wall Street, is extremely desirable. Hence the talk of hard times and the enforced depression, the attempt to empty the dinner bucket so as to cause the defeat of the Democratic program by the time-worn appeal to the workman's belly.

The tyranny of labor unions does not seriously affect industry. Where fair wages and better conditions are demanded, the employers still have the right to import armed guards to shoot the workers down. Surely a country which has witnessed the scenes enacted in West Virginia, Michigan and Colorado, all in one year, cannot be seriously embarrassed by unionism.

The issue before the country is whether the government is going to rule big business or big business to continue to rule the government. President Wilson has succeeded in smashing the tariff monopolies and curbing the banks. He is now attempting the regulation of great corporations. His hands must be upheld if the people are to win out. We might as well fight it out now and have it over with—as failure now will mean panic threats hereafter whenever the program of greed and grab is interfered with.

Mr. Hill, and other industrial chiefs, never touch upon the fundamental trouble with this country, as with Great Britain—the monopolization of natural resources and opportunities. Lloyd George of England is pointing to the remedy for John Bull—but no American statesman has dared as yet to do as much for Uncle Sam.

Mail Tribune Enterprise Appreciated

Twin Mountain Ranch, Gold Hill, Ore., May 22, 1914. Medford Mail Tribune, Medford, Ore.

Dear Sirs—It is, indeed, a privilege for the Medford ladies to be able to attend Miss Peet's lectures on domestic science and the practical application of same.

Now, for the benefit of your subscribers who are not going to be able to attend these interesting talks, for the reason that they live in other towns, or on ranches, don't you think it is due them for you to publish the lectures verbatim? I am sure we would appreciate this, and probably derive almost as much from them as though we were in attendance.

Thanking you in advance for this courtesy, I am Yours very truly, MRS. FRANK PARENT.

Lawns Should Be Cut Long

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27.—Grass should be cut "long" so that the roots will be protected after the cutting. This means, says the Department of Agriculture's landscape gardener, that the lawn mower should be set just as high as it will go.

Lawns should be cut frequently cuttings are normal contrary opinion of the energetic person who follows up his cuttings by raking with an iron rake. Lawns should never be raked with an iron rake, except to prepare them for sowing of grass seed, for such raking harrows up the soil. Neither should they be swept.

If the diligent caretaker of a lawn must follow up the cutting by some other operation, only a wooden rake should be used, and this should be employed carefully so as not to disturb such of the grass clippings as have sifted down around the roots. These grass clippings that settle around the roots afford them a very important protection, and will do much to keep the lawn in fine condition when there is lack of rain later in the season, for they will hold the moisture and act as a shield from the sun. In fact, the grass cuttings are generally needed about the roots, and should not be drawn from the looks of the lawn, for they soon shrivel, dry up, and work their way down, so that they are no longer noticed. Grasses are naturally cool-climate plants and are liable to be harmed by the hot sun about the roots.

FIANCEE OF U. S. NAVAL OFFICER WHO AWAITS WAR SHIP'S RECALL

MISS ERNESTINE VAN WYCK RHEIN Lieutenant John Strong Abbott, U. S. N., executive and navigating officer of the Dixie, now off Tampico, who came into prominence by the newspaper accounts of his action in seizing Lobos Island, is soon to take as his bride, if the dove of peace alights, Miss Ernestine Van Wyck Rhein, of New York city.

June 6 was selected as the date for the wedding, which is to take place in New York city, but the ordering of the Atlantic fleet to Mexican waters has made it uncertain that the arrangements can be carried out at that time.

Lieutenant Abbott the son of the late Lieutenant John Strong Abbott, U. S. N. Miss Rhein, who is descended from the old Long Island family of Van Wycks, was graduated from Wesleyan College in 1914.

MRS. PANKHURST FREED FROM JAIL

LONDON, May 27.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant leader, was today again released from Holloway jail, suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike." She had refused to eat from the moment of her arrest, during last week's raid by the suffragettes on Buckingham palace.

THE SUFFRAGETTE

Dear Prim Rose: She can talk of "woman's mission," And her "trampled-down condition," And her woes and tribulations can rehearse; She can preach a discourse long, She can nurse each petty wrong (It's the only thing she has that she can nurse!).

A scheme she is promoting In the course of woman's voting; She discourses on her "sphere" with stately pride. She can curse the courts judicial, She can "roast" each poor official (But she couldn't roast a turkey if she tried!). She can talk you deaf and blind On the "rights of womankind," She can tell about the "female point of view; Her tongue will sweep away Every word that you may say (It's the only kind of sweeping she can do).

At a suffragette convention She can hold your mute attention While she lauds the time when women will be free; She can cause to overflow Her sex's cups of woe (But she couldn't make a decent cup of tea!). —Montreal Star.

ORCHARDISTS ATTENTION The orchardists' mass meeting set for today has been postponed until Saturday owing to a delay in the transmission of the agreement from O. A. C. Every orchardist in the valley is urged to attend this meeting for the selection of a county pathologist.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed. As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists, 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.
