STEWART'S ASSAILANT SOUGHT BY POSSES

BAKER, Ore., June 22.—Henry M. Stewart, deposed mayor of Copperfield, who was shot down by an unknown assailant at Copperfield yesterday, was resting easily at a hospital here today. Despite the gravity of his injuries, physicians believed he had even chance for recovery.

Sheriff Rand left Copperfield with a posse early today searching the mountains between there and Homestead for Edward Fisher, who, it is believed, may have been the man who shot Stewart. A dozen other suspects already have been arrested. Fisher, who is a brother of Marshal Harry Fisher of Copperfield, is said to have threatened Stewart recently, their differences being an aftermath of the saloonmen's war several months ago which resulted in Governor Oswald West closing all saloons at Copperfield and deposing the city officials. Stewart was a saloon owner and with other city officials opposed another faction of saloon keepers.

MAN OF SILENCE OF THE SISKIYOU DEAD IN FOREST

Henry Wright, age 75 years, the strangest and most picturesque figure of the Blue Lodge district, known as the "man of silence of the Siskiyou," was found dead in the forest near his cabin home on Elliott creek Monday morning by Bard Moses, a prospector. Deputy Coroner John Perl left this morning for Hutton, Cal., to bring the body to this city.

Death is supposed to have occurred two weeks ago, as he has been missing that period. Frank Edwards, who has a gold claim on Silver Fork was looking for him, as he had been absent from his cabin. The last person to see Wright alive was F. W. Carnahan, manager of the Blue Lodge mine, who met him on the trail. Wright told him his eyesight was failing, and when he struck off into the heart of the wilds, Carnahan says he had a premonition that he would never see him alive again.

Lived in Wilderness The cabin of Wright was about 12 miles from Hutton, Cal., where he voted, and eight miles from the Pennsylvania mine on Elliott creek, in the very heart of the Siskiyou wilderness. No one ever entered his cabin, unless at night, and then under close scrutiny. By day he greeted all visitors from his cabin door. Edwards and Carnahan are supposed to be the only men who ever entered his home. They were his only friends.

Wright came to the Blue Lodge district 30 years ago, and every day his life was shrouded in mystery. He led an isolated life, and never talked of his past, except to say that he was from the south, and had fought with the Confederacy. The prospectors of the district maintained that he led the life of a hermit to atone for a deep disappointment. Rumor says that he possessed considerable property, and the 30 years collection of gold in that district, and one of the tasks ahead will be the locating of relatives. A search of the cabin will be made for a will, if one was left, and for the gold he is supposed to have hoarded.

Reticent Concerning Self Wright was a fairly well educated man, well liked, but reticent, and of a sorrowful mien. For years he was a subscriber to the New York World, and once every three or four months he came to Hutton, Cal., for groceries, and his papers. Frank Edwards, the last year, has insistently urged that he go to Watkins, Ore., and spend the winter with Edward's people, but Wright always refused.

Deputy Coroner Perl with the body will arrive tomorrow morning. The body must be carried on a stretcher 12 miles down a rough mountain trail. Burial will be postponed pending the location of relatives.

The death of Wright recalls the end of a prospector-hermit named Peters, five or six years ago in that section. Peters lived a lonely life in a cabin on the middle fork of the Applegate. One morning he left on a hunting trip, and was never seen again, dead or alive.

BRYAN DEFENDS TREATY RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Criticism of the proposed treaty to settle the differences between the United States and Colombia over the separation of Panama brought a formal statement today from Secretary Bryan defending the clause expressing "sincere regret" on the part of the United States that anything should have occurred to mar the friendly relations between the two countries.

The expression "honest regret" Mr. Bryan said, was used in the memorandum drafted during the Taft administration on which the present negotiations as well as those which had failed previously were based.

Despite opposition in the senate, Mr. Bryan was hopeful today that the treaty would be favorably reported and ratified. Members of the foreign relations committee expected that correspondence in the archives of the state department bearing upon the treaty would reach the committee Wednesday. It will be referred to a sub-committee and probably will be made public. It is said that this correspondence will show that at one stage of the negotiations with Colombia during the Taft administration, the United States proposed to submit the dispute to arbitration with the knowledge that a verdict in favor of Colombia would mean a judgment for at least $40,000,000.

STOCKS BEARED BY COURT DECISION

NEW YORK, June 22.—General heaviness attended speculation today. The stock market was subject to the adverse influence of the supreme court's inter-mountain rate case decision and the delay in announcing the freight rate ruling. Net losses in many cases amounted to a point. The close was weak.

The market was under pressure early and prices of the active shares gave way. The supreme court's decision against the railroads in the inter-mountain freight rate case gave the bear traders an opening which they utilized successfully, offering down the western railroad shares. Heaviness spread to other parts of the list and while a few issues made gains the general tendency was downward. Reading and the Harriman issues lost a point each. In the curb market, Standard Oil shares broke 1 to 3 points each on the supreme court's decision closing pipe lines as common carriers.

IF KILLED ON PASS NO DAMAGE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Railroads are not liable for injury to interstate employees or of their families riding on passes, which contain stipulations that the passenger assumes all risk while being so transported. The supreme court today so decided and held that a pass is not to be regarded as part of the compensation for which the employee works, but is in reality free and subject to any condition the railroad may impose.

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

"I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend'."

It is a happy thought to send hubby to the drug store, "Mother's Friend" is applied externally over the abdominal muscles. It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the finest work of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. This is particularly true in many cases reported of nervous, aching shoulders and other distresses, such as laceration of the epidermis on the arm when the child's birth of lubrication is neglected. "Mother's Friend" has been highly recommended by a host of women who know from experience and by men who know from observation. Write Headfield Regulator Co., 221 Lascar Bldg., Atlantic City and we will send you a valuable little book to expound its merits.

GERMANS TRIED OUTBID AMERICA WITH NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Attempts by German interests to outbid the United States for rights to construct an inter-oceanic canal across Nicaragua were revealed today to the senate foreign relations committee by Nicaraguan Minister Chamorro. The minister said Germans had urged that the $3,000,000 offered by the United States for canal rights and other concessions was not enough.

Bankers said to have been interested in Nicaragua's finances and the negotiation of the pending treaty, were today invited to explain to the senate foreign relations committee their interests and transactions.

Brown Brothers and Seligman and company of New York, bankers, alleged to be prominent figures in the control of the Nicaraguan National Bank and the Nicaraguan railways, were asked to bring all papers bearing on these questions. Charles A. Conant of New York and Ernest H. Wands, said to be the financial agents of the Nicaraguan republic, also were invited.

Minister Chamorro of Nicaragua today told the committee sentiment in his country was overwhelming in favor of the treaty.
