ELKS REPORT ENJOYABLE TIME AT KLAMATH RODEO

Praising the hospitality of the people of Klamath Falls and enthusiastic over what they claimed to be the most successful and enjoyable pilgrimage ever taken by the local herd, over 100 members of the Medford Elks and their wives returned home on a special train at 7:00 o'clock this morning from the annual Klamath Falls Rodeo.

The train left Medford at 10:30 Friday evening arriving in Klamath Falls Saturday morning at 8 o'clock where the delegation was met by the Klamath Falls Elks reception committee. Headed by the Weed band and the Medford Elks Kazoo band the visitors paraded the streets of Klamath Falls and attended the ball game between the Weed and Klamath Falls teams.

Saturday afternoon was spent at the rodeo at the fair grounds and Saturday night the visitors enjoyed the Mardi Gras held on the streets of the city, after which they were entertained until a late hour at the Elks club.

Sunday morning a complimentary excursion on the lakes was given the visitors, returning in time for the ball game while the afternoon was spent at the final tests at the rodeo.

The trip was made in a solid Pullman train and one baggage car which was used for merry-making both going and coming. The visitors left Klamath Falls Sunday night at 11:45 making the trip to Medford in seven hours.

The Klamath Falls Elks assured the Medford delegation of a large attendance at the dedication of the new Medford Elks' home this winter and the local Elks are planning a lavish reception and entertainment for the eastern Oregon members.

WASHINGTON AMENDS HORTICULTURAL LAWS

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 6.—A series of proposed amendments to the state horticultural laws, designed to give the department of agriculture greater powers in dealing with such epidemics as the fire blight, which now is threatening the fruit industry of the state, are being drafted by Attorney-General W. V. Tanner for presentation to the next legislature, at the request of T. O. Morrison, head of the horticultural work of the state.

The proposed amendments would declare the maintenance of infected orchards a public nuisance, giving the state full authority to disinfect or destroy at the expense of the owner.

The amendments proposed would also enable the department to establish general quarantine against agricultural or horticultural products from infected districts.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR MAY SUCCEED COLE L. BLEASE

DR. J. G. CLINCKSCALE

An utter novice in politics, the author of Governor Cole L. Blease, Dr. John G. Clinckscale, professor of mathematics, gives promise, perhaps on that account, of being nominated Governor of South Carolina to succeed Mr. Blease in the democratic primary election in August.

Dr. Clinckscale has been a school teacher since 1870. Education, he declares, is the sovereign panacea for all ills of the Commonwealth. He has given much study to the ills of South Carolina—the typhings and the pardoning of more than twelve hundred convicts by Governor Blease, the filthiness and the poverty. And he came to the conclusion that the best way to remedy conditions was to compel every boy and girl in the State to go to school.

NATIONAL MEET OF TEACHERS OPENS AT ST. PAUL TODAY

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 6.—"Given a cultivated, trained teacher of sound mind and body, who goes to work at peace with God, and Man, the school with the best place in the world for the growth of the child in practice of righteousness and American citizenship."

This was the declaration of Joseph Swain, president of Swarthmore College, and president of the National Education Association at the first general session of the association's annual convention here today. The session was devoted principally to a discussion of teachers' relative to American citizenship.

Interest of a president to succeed Joseph Swain of Swarthmore, Pa., was at a high pitch, and the campaigns of Dr. D. B. Johnson, of Rock Hill, S. C., and Dr. David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford, was pushed by the candidates respective friends.

President Swain pointed out the need of religion in schools, and the speaker declared that anyone taking teaching as a life work must abandon all idea of accumulating wealth.

There is general protest against extending terms of all county officials to four years, a bill that is being initiated.

MUD IN WATER DUE TO CLOUDBURST NEAR FISH LAKE

There was no washing in Medford this morning as in the world wide habit of housewives on Monday. A couple of cloudbursts on the upper reaches of Little Butte creek, and a severe storm at the intake Sunday evening rolled the water until it assayed about 90 per cent dirt and sediment and bank. Intake keeper Day reported to Superintendent Tranna at midnight Sunday that a severe storm was raging in his vicinity, and that a cloudburst had occurred near Fish Lake. At five o'clock this morning housewives began to make inquiries regarding the water.

Superintendent Tranna says it will take all day for the water to clear, and that for a week the heavy draft on the reservoir will cause the water supply to be muddy.

There was not an indication of the storm in this city.
