

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A distinguished gentleman... A distinguished gentleman in- curred in the city this week, and no- body knew it. He gave the plain name of Jones, and more glory had departed from him, than comes to most humans. He had been city editor of the Baltimore Sun, suburban editor of the New York World, and managing editor of the Kansas City Star. He said he called Roosevelt Teddy, and had slept under the same blankets with Bill Bryan. There is not a great actor of the last 20 years who did not call him friend. He has partaken too little of solids, and too much of liquids the last five years. If he could stay here till Guy Bates Post came July 31, there would be nothing too good for him. But he could not wait and swung under the Shasta Limited Thursday morning headed north.

At Garretson spent Wednesday at- tending to business matters on the Applegate, and on the return trip met the Medford expedition to Crescent City, composed of Freeborn Garret- son, Merle Garnett, Shorty Hamilton, and Farley Johnson. According to Mr. Garretson, cooking utensils are cached in every hollow tree between Ruch and Jacksonville. They are making the trip by wheels, and yester- day afternoon were intent on lightening their loads, boylike, throw- ing away all their bread to this end. Young Garnett broke the forks of his wheel, and had to return to this city for a new one. The expedition was organized by Uncle Tom Hatha- way, who mapped out the route, and arranged the food list.

YANKS' HARD WORKING ALL AROUND GOOD MAN

CALDWELL.

Ray Caldwell, star twifler of the Yanks, is Chance's hard working, all around man, who has won about half the games for his team so far. He is pitching the greatest ball of his career and has been rushed into countless games to relieve a drooping fellow twifler, to bat for a hopeless striker in the pinch or to sub for an injured first sacker and has done everything he has been called upon to do well and willingly.

J. E. Olmstead is the first victim of the speed cop. He has been ordered to report in the morning for trial for speeding Wednesday evening.

SHIP WRECKED WHALERS LANDED

CALDWELL.

REWARD, Alaska, July 9.—The steamship Dirigo arrived from the Alaska peninsula today with 31 mem- bers of the shipwrecked American whaler Gayhead, of San Francisco, which was lost at Castle Cape during a gale on the night of June 27. Cap- tain G. W. Taylor said that he left Chignik the night before, but was un- able to make headway. The Gayhead struck about 300 feet inside the end of the cape. All hands took to the boats. The bark went under in five minutes. The loss is estimated at $44,000 on the ship and cargo of 2500 gallons of sperm oil. The crew took refuge in the lee of the rock until the gale had spent its fury, and then sailed to Chignik, where they were picked up. Captain Taylor commanded the whaler Gram- pus when she was lost in the ice off Point Barrow in 1901. Captain McMillan of the Dirigo says the crew of the Gayhead makes 400 shipwrecked picked up by him during five years in western Alaska waters, most of the time as com- mander of the Dora. The Gayhead sailed from San Fran- cisco October 4, 1913.
