

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

There has been a general toning down of speeding the last week, particularly among motorcyclists who seem to have the fear of the law more deeply ingrained in their hearts than the motorists. Residents on side streets in the outlying districts report that the law is still fractured after dark.

It is estimated that one hundred Medford families have gone to the hills to camp the last week, and that as many more will leave next week for their summer outing. The exodus is shown in the dulcet Saturday in months, and a general falling off in attendance at moving picture shows. Upon all forest roads and trails the forest service the last week has posted warnings urging campers to be careful about setting fires.

The trial of the Neathammers and Hillis, Sams Valley farmers charged with killing a buck out of season will be called at Rogue River next week and considerable feeling is manifested over the hearing. The arrest was made by Game Warden Riley Hammersley, and the fact that he has known the three arrested men for years, intensifies the bitterness. Attorney Gus Newbury has been retained by the defense, and it is said an attempt will be made to prove the game warden and not the accused killed the deer. It is alleged that the defendants deliberately left to hunt deer, and that they were caught in the act of loading it. A score of witnesses will be subpoenaed.

SUNSET PICTURE MADE BY CONSENT COLONEL GOETHALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 11.—The defense of Charles E. Field, editor of Sunset Magazine, and of the three others accused with him, of having disclosed military secrets of the United States by the publication of an illustrated article, will be that the pictures were taken and the aeroplane flight across the Isthmus of Panama was made with the permission of Colonel George W. Goethals, in command of the Panama zone.

Mr. Field, Robert Fowler, an aviator; Riley E. Scott, author of the article, and Ray Duhem, a moving picture man, were arrested yesterday at the instance of the war department, acting through John W. Prentiss, United States district attorney here. No bail was required and they were released on their own recognizance.

When the case was called today before Francis I. Krull, United States commissioner, it was continued until August 10. Riley Scott said he was now in the employ of the war department as an experienced experimenter and instructor in dropping bombs from aeroplanes, at the San Diego, Cal., aviation school.

"The sole purpose of the flight," said Mr. Field, "was to stimulate interest in a larger appropriation for military aviation in the United States, which lags far behind European nations."

"Colonel Goethals not only gave us permission," said Fowler in protest, "his innocence, but he wished us the best of luck, and said he hoped the pictures would turn out well."

BIG FOUR CHIEF, INGALLS, DEAD AT HOT SPRINGS, VA.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 11.—Melville E. Ingalls, financier and railroad man, died here today of heart failure.

The body will be taken to Cincinnati tomorrow and the funeral will be held Monday at the Unitarian church there.

Charles P. Taft has been selected as one of the pallbearers.

Besides the widow and a daughter, Mr. Ingalls is survived by four sons, Melville E. Ingalls, Jr., and Fay Ingalls of New York, George H. Ingalls of Chicago, and Albert S. Ingalls of Cleveland.

Until two years ago he was chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad, the transportation which with his name was most closely identified, although he was a powerful figure in what generally are known as the Vanderbilt group of railroads. Besides his home here, he had a home in Cincinnati and a new one in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Ingalls was born at Harrison, Maine, in 1842, was reared on a farm and educated at Bowdoin and Harvard. His career as a railroad man and financier began in 1870, when he became president, and a year later receiver of the old Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette railroad.

In the reorganization he created the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago, and later consolidated it with other railroads forming the Big Four system, of which he was chairman. He was president of the Chesapeake and Ohio from 1888 to 1903; was democratic candidate for mayor of Cincinnati in 1903, and president of the National Civic Federation in 1905. He also was interested in banking in Cincinnati.

TURBINE ENGINES AND FUEL OIL FOR WARSHIP NEVADA

QUINCY, Mass., July 11.—Turbine engines and oil fuel will furnish the motive power of the 27,500 ton battleship Nevada, to be launched at the yards of the Fore River shipbuilding company today. This latest addition to the United States navy is a sister ship of the Oklahoma, launched at Camden, N. J., last March. It is said that she will be placed in commission next January. The Nevada has a length over all of 583 feet, beam 95 feet and a mean draft of 25 1-2, and an estimated speed of 20 1-2 knots an hour.
