Since the introduction of rats in the Rogue river valley a few months ago, the pests have multiplied rapidly and have already become a nuisance on several ranches. Many ranchers have set traps in their packing houses, barns, etc., and intend to eliminate the pests before they become too numerous. Statistics show that there are five billion rats in the world—nearly five to every human being. Fortunately, they were several thousand years late in migrating into Rogue river valley and the farmers hope to control them before they become the crop destroyers that they are in the east.

NO ADEQUATE REASONS FOR FIGHTING DUEL. PARIS, July 16.—The seconds appointed by Paul De Cassagnac of the Autorite and Carl L. Lahm of the Leipzig Tagerblatt today decided there was no adequate reason for a duel to which the Frenchman had challenged the German.

The cause of the quarrel was the publication in Germany of some remarks approving the imprisonment of an Alsatian cartoonist, upon which Lahm was told by De Cassagnac to leave France in 48 hours.

TENNIS PLAYERS COLLAPSE FROM INTENSE HEAT

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 16.—R. Lindley Murray and George Peabody Gardner collapsed in the third set of their matches today on the courts of the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club. Murray was making a desperate battle against R. Norris Williams II. The two had split sets and were rallying for all they were worth. Williams had overhauled Murray in the third set and had brought the games to five-all. Then Murray wavered and practically fainted. He had to be carried to the clubhouse and attended by a doctor. The score, as chalked up for Williams was 6-4; 4-6; 5-all, defaulted. It was believed that after Murray had rested he would be none the worse for the prostration.

Gardner felt the effects of the heat in his match with Gustav F. Touchard and he retired from the court before his strength waned. Touchard had run him off his feet and was making brilliant shots to the lines when the famous Bostonian retired. The score for Touchard stood at 2-6, 6-1, 5-all, defaulted.

Karl H. Behr and William Clothier and the other winners arrived in the semi-final round. Clothier played Nathaniel W. Niles to a standstill. Niles only going through the motions in the third set and not taking a game. Scores: Aehels cup singles, (third round.) Karl H. Behr defeated R. S. Prentice, 6-3, 7-5; William Clothier defeated Nathaniel W. Niles 6-1, 6-0; Gustav F. Touchard defeated George Peabody Gardner 2-6, 6-4, 5-5, defaulted; R. Norris Williams II, defeated R. Lindley Murray, 6-4, 4-6, 5-5, defaulted.

was that he is concentrating his forces in Chihuahua so as to make vigorous demands on Carranza. It was reported that the conference of generals is called at Mexico City after General Carranza enters there. Villa adherents may attempt to substitute another first chief for Carranza. Constitutionalists with Carranza sympathies make no secret of the fact that they are apprehensive of Villa's attitude.

For that reason they are working hard to obtain recognition for Carranza's government, so that the embargo on arms may be sharply enforced along the border, and any counter-revolution nipped in the incipient stage.

The committee consists of Jesus Urzeta, Jose Luis Novels and Enrique Bordes Mangel, former members of the chamber of deputies. General Huerta's resignation was sent to congress late yesterday afternoon and was accepted by the senators and the deputies after a brief debate, by a vote of 121 to 17. In the message conveying his resignation General Huerta took occasion to make bitter reference to the United States government.

Provisional President. Following the acceptance of the resignation, Francisco Carbajal was appointed provisional president and he took the oath of office at the joint session of the senators and deputies two hours later. A feature of the discussion in the chamber was a speech by Deputy Masquiza Blanco, who made a bitter attack on Americans and American politics. He was hissed by the public in the galleries. All the newspapers issued extras on the day's events. El Pais, which was suppressed by the government two months ago, reappeared last night.

SMITH FAVORITE 10 TO 6 AT FRISCO. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 16.—Bettors here favored Smith at odds of 10 to 6 today against Carpenter. On account of the fact that Smith made his start here, and is so well known on the Pacific coast, there was much speculation over the outcome of the fight. Considerable Carpenter money appeared at the reduced odds.

The largest individual bet recorded was $1500 placed by cable on Smith in London, where the odds received leaned the other way, favoring Carpenter at 10-8.

A large number are expected to leave on the 7 p. m. special tonight in order to attend the evening session.

Nearly every delegate to Ashland wore a Medford badge. An elaborate musical program has been prepared by Professor Tallander, in addition to the regular Chautauqua exercises.

GUNBOAT SMITH LOSES BATTLE

the referee stepped into the ring and was introduced. He was followed by Dick Burge, Frank Moran and others. Carpenter then entered the ring in a black silk gown amid great cheering.

Carpenter was kept waiting in his corner while Ahearn, Matt Wells and other fighters were introduced. Bombardier Wells was given a great reception when he announced he would challenge the winner.

Smith appeared in the ring at 9:53. Cheering for Smith hardly equalled that for the Frenchman. Smith was dressed in a green gown. Bob Armstrong's black face looked him over in his corner.

Round 1. Smith got two right jabs to the Frenchman's body. In the first clinch, which followed soon, Carpenter gave Smith a hard short hand drive on the cheek with the left. Both dodged righthanders. Smith gave the Frenchman a hard one in the face with the right. A right and left body blow in in-fighting were Smith's offerings. Smith's blows were harder than the Frenchman's, whose footwork had not yet been in evidence.

Round 2. Carpenter took the aggressive but made up impression on Smith. Each again ducked hard right handers from the other. Smith landed on the kidneys with right in a clinch. Carpenter landed a left on the jaw. Carpenter sent a fast right to the face. Carpenter was playing for the body at short range when the round ended. His lightning quickness was beginning to count.

Round 4. Smith missed a left swing to the face. Carpenter reached Smith's face with a left, and repeated a similar operation a moment later. Smith again missed a body blow with his right. Smith was knocked down with a right on the kidneys. Smith took six seconds and was rising when the bell rang. Carpenter's swiftness seemed to be giving him the best of it.

Round 5. Carpenter led with his left and exchanged short right arm blows on the neck. Smith hooked a righthander and clinched. Carpenter gave him two short vicious lefts on the cheek. They then mixed it furiously, playing for the face with rights. Smith got a trifle the worst of it. Smith landed with a right to the face which jarred the Frenchman. Honors were even.

Round 6. Smith was disqualified for hitting Carpenter when he was down. Carpenter slipped when trying to land a hard righthander. Before the Frenchman arose Smith struck him on the face. Carpenter held his head, apparently in great pain, though it seems Smith's blow hardly grazed him. The Frenchman's seconds took him to his corner, while the crowd hooted loudly.

The referee decided Carpenter had won. Smith remained in the ring. He and his seconds protested against the decision.

When Smith left the ring after some seconds, the crowd jeered and hooted him. It thunderously then greeted the Frenchman who came to the ropes and received a great ovation as he pointed to his eye and forehead, indicating Smith had hit him there.

PEAR TREE RESISTS EFFORTS TO GIRDL

B. H. Ramsey, who resides at 16 North Quince street, reports an unusual freak in the way of vitality for an old D'Anjou pear tree. Some three years ago Mr. Ramsey, desiring to get rid of the tree, girdled it, first cutting the bark through all the way around. A few months later he followed up by cutting a deep notch around the trunk. Notwithstanding these operations, the tree continues to grow and thrive as if nothing had happened and shows no ill effects from the efforts to kill it.
