strength. From the appearance of the throat he had let himself down easily. Chief Hittson was telephoned and Deputy Coroner Perl motored to the spot and cut the dead man down.

Nothing for Identity

There was nothing in his pockets to identify him. In the pocket of his worn-out blue shirt was a blank piece of paper, carefully folded up. It is thought that he intended to write a last message, and either abandoned the idea or could not find a pencil. His other effects were a dollar Ingersoll watch, still running, a pipe, tobacco and matches, a handkerchief, a drinking cup, and a pack of cards. He was dressed in blue shirt and overalls.

The cause of his suicide is believed ill health that made it impossible for him to work. He had been badly ruptured at some previous time, and pain from this, poor health, and probably want had brought on the fit of despondency that led to his suicide.

YOUTHS RETURN FROM CRESCENT CITY

Freeborn Garretson, Merle Garnett, Farley Johnson and Lorenzo Hamilton, boys 13 and 14 years old, returned from Crescent City yesterday noon, making the return trip in two days. They left Crescent City Friday noon and made their first camp at Patrick creek. Their next stop was at Kirby, where they stayed at the hotel with disastrous results to the hotelkeeper, the breakfast consisting of pancakes as big as a plate, ham, bacon and eggs, coffee, cakes and biscuit. The landlord refused to fill the plates the fourth time, claiming that he was $1 out on the deal already. From Kirby the boys rode in to Medford, arriving here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. This is making good time for bicycles.

The boys had a good time, camped on the beach for six days, swam in the ocean and fished. One of the boys caught two steelheads. One day they went fishing with a fisherman and caught quite a quantity of smelt. On the return to shore these were confiscated and taken to the restaurant when the boys enjoyed a fish dinner, giving the proprietor what fish were left as pay for the dinner. While the boys had a fine time and an experience they will never forget, they are not anxious to repeat the trip. The nights on the beach were so cold that the boys drew lots to see who would sleep in the middle.

voice and she watched him as he went out.

Prisoner Questioned
Judge Albanel then began to question the prisoner.

"You are called Genevieve Josephine Henriette Reynouard, are you not, and were born October 6, 1874?"

The prisoner, "Yes, Judge." At the same time she stood up.

The judge, "During your examination by the magistrate you gave some information about your past life. Do you wish to recall for the jury what you said then?"

The prisoner then made a long statement referring frequently to notes. Her voice was steady. She turned her head occasionally from side to side as though making a public speech and she showed much self possession. She said:

Tells of Her Career
"I was married at 19 to Leo Claretie. We had two daughters. One of them died when she was only six months old. The other, Germaine, is now 19. A divorce was granted in April, 1908, in my favor and the guardianship of our daughter was given to me."

Madame Cailiaux spoke of her marriage to M. Cailiaux with pride. She said: "M. Cailiaux was premier and in marrying him I found complete happiness. I thought all would be happy, but alas my life began to be poisoned by calumnies. The campaign of the Figaro against my husband began. All the people in the salons that I frequented received me with smiles that were intended to wound me. One person said behind me that my husband had taken money from Germany to cede the Congo. These slanderous rumors penetrated every part of society. I was no longer able to go to sittings of the chamber of deputies because I was the object of unpleasant attention in the galleries. One day there was a cry behind me 'To Berlin! Cailiaux! congo!'. I was forced to leave."

Newspaper Blamed
Mrs. Cailiaux added that painful incidents were taking place all the time among her acquaintances when she was shopping and even in her home. She continued:

"The attacks of the Figaro were implacable. They had nothing to do with politics. They were personal. I suffered. I lost my head."

Mme. Cailiaux's voice sank and she seemed greatly moved.

The judge waited a moment and then inquired: "Why do you say that the polemic of the Figaro had nothing to do with politics?"

The prisoner raised her clenched hands and said passionately: "I will tell you why." She then searched among her notes and began to read passages from the Figaro articles.

"These," she shouted, "are some among the 138 published articles against my husband. These criticisms are not attacks on his policies, but on him. No one could be mistaken."

TIN STAR DETECTIVE AGAIN LOCATES GIRL

CHICAGO, July 20.—Detectives believed today that they had found the body of Catherine Winters in the Pottery Field, at Urbana, Ill., but Dr. William A. Winters of Newcastle, Ind., father of the child who disappeared in March, 1913, said that the child exhumed probably was not his daughter.

"I don't think she's my little girl," asserted Dr. Winters over the telephone. "My girl had brown hair, while the little girl whose body they exhumed had blonde hair. I don't think it is she."

"I've been treated so badly by those tin star detectives that I take little faith in their discoveries. There's no use of my going to Campaign but I've sent an officer over there just to make sure," Dr. Winters added.

FOREST FIRES NOW UNDER CONTROL

A forest fire on Foot creek is the only one of the three serious fires started this week that was not under control at the last report. The Jackson County Fire Patrol Association is at present combatting this fire.

The Willow Springs fire was controlled by the work of the residents of that section and the Jackson County Fire Patrol Association. Very little damage was done as nothing but brush was burned.

A fire that started Saturday night on Humberg creek near Applegate was by the Forest Service and the Patrol association. This fire was also controlled with small loss.

Smoke from these fires hung over the valley all day Sunday.

BURGULARS RANSACK WEST SIDE GROCERY

The West Eleventh Street grocery, owned by C. S. Butterfield, was burglarized last night by hungry burglars. The thieves entered by cutting a rear screen and opening a window. The ice box, the meat safe and the bread and candy cases were opened and a few edibles taken. Butterfield could not tell how much, but he thinks a roll of butter, some fruit and some candy were among the missing things. Some orange peelings had been left on the floor. There were no clues.

STATE PAYS OFF MEDFORD MILITIAMEN

Seventy-five members of the Seventh company of home guards marched to Captain Deane's office Saturday and received their pay for the time spent at Fort Stevens last month. A total of $755.22 was received.

The company is not losing an opportunity to practice but are showing up regularly and showing more interest than ever before. The fact that the Seventh company made such a creditable showing at the recent Rose Show in Portland has inspired them and each man is doing his best. The company will be permitted to attend the Panama exposition for a period of four months during which time they will compete with some of the best drilled companies in the United States.

DEPORT THREE WOMEN AFTER VICE CRUSADE

As the beginning of a moral crusade which is to be carried on in Medford Chief of Police Hittson and Sergeant Pat Mego made the rounds of the rooming houses Saturday night and in two of the houses found encountered women whom they ordered out of town.

S. P. TEAM MEETS DEFEAT AT HANDS OF P. & E. PLAYERS

One of the largest crowds of the season accompanied the railroad teams to Butte Falls and watched the Southern Pacific company get walloped as advertised. The game was an errorless one and a pitchers' battle, with Pitcher Diamond the winner, Cole a close second.

Gerig's long three-base hit and Parker's sensational catch on the infield were features of the game.

Cole's refusal to accept the advice of Umpire Barker, who is an old league player and was playing ball before Cole was born, probably helped in his defeat. Ottoman caught a good game for the Southern Pacific and was their star player, both behind the bat and at the bat. Elliott and Cole, the Southern Pacific's strong batters, would have made hits had they been able to connect with Diamond's curves.

In the absence of General Manager Rosenbaum, the Southern Pacific lost an able coach, and this may have contributed to the loss of the game. With three men on bases, Cole's "I'll bring yer in," was well intended, but he struck out. General Manager Gerig won the 100-yard dash by default, and General Manager Rosenbaum lost the forfeit money, as he failed to show up.

The Butte Falls team has challenged a picked team of Southern Pacific and P. & E. players, the game to be played on August 2 at Butte Falls.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed By Medford Testimony

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Medford endorsement. Read the statements of Medford citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it.

C. C. Kribb, grocer, W. Main St. Medford, Ore., says: "I suffered from a dull ache in the small of my back for months. The kidney secretions were unnatural and I had trouble in controlling them. I finally got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and took two or three boxes. The pain left me and my kidneys are now in much better shape. I willingly confirm the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago, when I lived in Madena, Minn. I willingly allow you to publish that statement here for the benefit of my neighbors."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Dr. Kribb had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
