At the same time from Rome came the news, published in the Messenger, that Italy had decided to remain neutral unless attacked. While this information was not confirmed, it was said in official circles to have "caused no surprise."

Italy Remains Neutral. At the Italian embassy in London the belief was expressed that should Italy remain neutral with the possibility left open of her turning against her allies, Germany and Austria-Hungary, the latter nation would be reluctant to embark on a general European war.

On the other hand, the fact stood out that Germany had taken a very firm attitude and had asked Russia to suspend the mobilization of her forces within a time limit of 12 hours, expiring at noon today. She also had asked France to define within 18 hours the attitude she would assume in a case of war by Austria-Hungary and Germany against Serbia. It was pointed out in authoritative circles that France's attitude could be only that under the terms of her treaty with Russia she would be compelled to intervene.

German Circles Uneasy. German circles today showed considerable uneasiness all over the world. The German forces in China were being concentrated at Tsing-Tau, the German consul general left his post at Cape Town, and German merchant ships were ordered to seek neutrality ports. In regard to the Far East, the Japanese ambassador in London said today that as long as the warships belonging to the nations composing the Triple Alliance remained at Tsing-Tau, Japan would take no action against them, but should they attack British interest, or should Tsing-Tau be attacked, a situation will arise which would be dealt with by Japan in the spirit of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

At the German embassy reference was made to German mention of French government, and it was said that this seemed to imply that France herself would not be attacked by Germany.

President Wilson made a short address to the railroad managers telling them that he did not believe either the employers or the employees should be willing to take responsibility for a strike at present. He said the country was in the midst of abnormal conditions because of threatened war in Europe. If a strike should be proposed in normal times, he said, he would not feel like interposing, but he felt it his duty to urge both sides as earnestly as he could to reach an agreement because of present conditions.

Efforts on the part of the administration to build up the American merchant marine in order to ship the crops were mentioned by Mr. Wilson. He said that they would be defeated if a strike on the western railroads was declared.

ELEVENTH HOUR APPEAL TO CZAR BY KING GEORGE

LONDON, Aug. 1.—King George, in a final effort to prevent the outbreak of a general European war and the meeting of millions of men in armed conflict, today at the eleventh hour, sent a despatch to Emperor Nicholas of Russia, and his message was understood to contain an ultimate appeal for the preservation of peace. His Majesty's action was taken after an audience with Premier Asquith at 2 o'clock this morning when the war clouds were blackest.

At the same time from Rome came the news, published in the Messenger, that Italy had decided to remain neutral unless attacked. While this information was not confirmed, it was said in official circles to have "caused no surprise."

FINANCIAL WORLD MARKSTIME DURING EUROPEAN CRISIS

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—With the stock and commodity markets still closed, the financial district marked time today, while world was awaited the decision of the European powers for peace or war. To all outward appearances, Wall Street was almost as busily engaged as under normal conditions.

At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., representatives of some of the largest financial institutions in New York and Philadelphia met today. The meeting was behind closed doors and no information was obtainable as to what took place, beyond the fact that the present troubled situation was discussed with a view to taking whatever precautionary step might suggest themselves. It is understood that no definite time for the reopening of exchanges was agreed on.

A meeting of the newly formed Association of Partners of Stock Exchange Firms was held and a statement was made urging all exchange members not to engage in outside dealings in securities.

Although the time of the reopening of the exchange rests entirely in the hands of the board of governors, it was everywhere assumed that trading would not be resumed for some time. It was felt that it would not be resumed for some time. It was felt that it would be unwise to reopen the market until the London board at least, should take up business again. Otherwise New York would again be placed in the position of bearing the financial burdens of the world.

Further engagements of gold were announced today. London took $600,000 and Canada $3,850,000.

The extent to which the gold export movement would continue was one of the most important questions of the financial district at this juncture. Gold shipments to Europe are now so expensive and hazardous that it was the general opinion that the movement would be restricted hereafter.
