AUTO EXPORTS FOR YEAR EXCEED
 PREVIOUS RECORD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Exports of automobiles from the United States in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1914, were the largest on record. Their total, including shipments to Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico, amounted to $40,136,565, against $39,325,000 in 1913, the former high record year. The year's total included 30,136 complete cars, valued at $27,797,642; automobile tires, $4,159,454; automobile engines $1,291,892; and miscellaneous parts not specified $6,787,575.

With the sole exception of 1908, every year during the past decade has shown an advance in value of American automobiles sold to foreign countries. In the fiscal year 1909 according to the bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce department, of Commerce, the value of automobiles exported was $3,895,605; in 1909 $5,387,021; and in 1914, exclusive of parts and shipments to our own non-contiguous territories, $26,574,573, having quintupled in five years and increased thirteen fold in a decade.

Europe bought nearly one-half of our sale of automobiles in foreign countries last year, although some shipments thither are for reshipments to other parts of the world. The United Kingdom exports amounted to 7222 cars valued at $5,853,127; to Germany, 1435, valued at $1,059,249; to France, 1429, valued at $924,130; and to other countries of Europe, 3271, valued at $2,580,428. Canada and Australia are also important markets, the former having taken 4634 cars valued at $5,919,776; and the latter, including other British Oceania, 4244, valued at $3,695,595.
 To South America as a whole, we sold last year 1985 automobiles, valued at $1,939,212; and to Mexico, 167, valued at $256,675.

The growth in exports of automobiles has been accompanied by a corresponding decline in imports of like articles, the total having fallen from 1634, valued at $2,905,891, in 1909 to 309 cars, valued at $620,493 in 1914, a new low record for the decade. Of the year's imports, 134 were from France, 40 from the United Kingdom, 55 from Italy, and 21 from Germany.

POPE'S HIGH FEVER CAUSES APPREHENSION

LONDON, Aug. 18, 12:22 p. m.— A dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from Milan Italy, says that the pope is in a state of high fever and that his condition occasions serious alarm.

ROME, Aug. 17, 9:30 p. m. (via Paris, Aug. 18, 11:30 a. m.)—The condition of the pope tonight is about the same. The bronchial affection continues. There is no sign of aggravation but it will be difficult for the patient to free himself of this condition owing to his mental depression consequent upon the war.

AUSTRIAN TORPEDO BOAT STRIKES MINE

LONDON, Aug. 18, 1:50 p. m.—A dispatch to the Central News from Rome says the Austrian torpedo-boat No. 19 struck a mine at the entrance of the harbor at Pola, the Austrian naval base in the Adriatic, and went down. Only one member of the crew was saved.

Why Not
 Get the best smoke, Gov. Johnson, and also patronize home.

WHICH DIPLOMACY?

WHAT has become of the ridicule and abuse until recently heaped upon President Wilson and Secretary Bryan by a partisan press because of their "watchful waiting" policy in Mexico?

The president and his secretary were held up as objects of scorn in the civilized world, and we were vociferously and repeatedly informed that American diplomacy was a joke, that our foreign policy made the world laugh and jeer, and caused the cheeks of Americans to crimson with the blush of shame.

But neither the attempts of big business to produce a panic, nor the coercion of captains of industry seeking new realms for exploitation, nor the threats and jeers of a hostile press could force the administration into an unjustifiable war. The president stood pat and has lived to see the policy of "watchful waiting" fully vindicated.

That thousands of American homes are not in mourning for lost loved ones, that the best blood in the nation has not been shed in a vulgar war of conquest, that Old Glory's stripes have not been stained by the blood of a friendly nation, and that the envious, suspicious hostility of Latin America has been replaced by confidence and friendship that promises far more in a legitimate commercial way than the loot of a nation by freebooters would have yielded, we have "watchful waiting" to thank.

And what has become of the vaunted diplomacy of the old world, in comparison with which the new American policy was so crude, futile and absurd? Why, it has reaped its crowning success—the conflagration universal—the world-wide war. Europe, already poverty stricken by the armaments of war, is plunged into a hopeless maelstrom of bankruptcy and millions of lives, of people that have no cause in the world for quarrel, are sacrificed to gratify the ruthless greed, medieval ambitions and blood lust of modern war lords.

The people—that fight the battles, tote royalty and standing armies upon their backs and pay the cost of war, that crimson continents with their life blood and leave their own fair fields for ghastly desolation—what part do they have in this glorious panoply of the old diplomacy?

Which the most successful—the despised Wilson-Bryan diplomacy of the "new freedom" or the brilliant diplomacy of the courts of the old world?

The Merry Go Round of Prosperity

(By Douglas Malcolm of the I. H. C. Service Bureau.)

"There are men in my neighborhood," said a country merchant, "whom I call 'endless chain farmers,' while there are others whom I call 'breakers' the latter so called because I know that there will be certain periods of each year in which they will have a break in their incomes. The first always pay as they buy, while I look out that the second only buy as they pay."

This merchant was not a farmer himself, but he had grown rich doing business with them, and he knew the financial standing and the farm methods of every man in his community. In a little speech which he once made he explained his endless chain theory. "Farming," said he "entails every law of political economy ever mentioned by John Stuart Mill. There is unearned increment, a margin of utility, the law of supply and demand, the manufacturers' profits, consumption of raw material, plant depreciation and the labor question. Over some of these economy principles the farmer has present control, while over others he has none. He can more or less control raw materials, manufacturers' profits and plant depreciation—in fact, his success as a farmer depends on the way he handles these three factors. Taking the corn crop for example, his raw material consists of his corn and fodder, and his manufacturer's profits are determined by the way his cattle and hogs turn this raw material into marketable beef and pork, and his plant depreciation depends on the disposition he makes of the humus in building up his soil.
 A farmer who sells his corn as he harvests it, leaving his fodder to shrivel up in the field, who gives no thought of replacing the plant foods which each crop takes from the soil, makes a profit only from his raw material, and when that is sold his income ceases.

"On the other hand," the farmer who saves his fodder, shredding it for the mow or chopping it for his silo, has cheap raw material wherewith to feed cattle and hogs who manufacture it into butter fat, beef and bacon, the sale of which brings in a steady all-year income. These in their turn provide fertilizer which next year makes the soil richer, so that there is more raw material for feed, more cattle and hogs to sel-more money constantly coming in, and so on, year after year. These are what I call 'endless chain farmers.' They are the ones who live comfortably, enjoy farming and send their boys and girls to college.

Probably the most comfortable farmers of this country are the corn-raising farmers, because as the little black dots on the government map show, they have more hogs and more cattle per capita than the others.
 There are approximately 100,000,000 acres of corn to be harvested this fall—the richest, most productive crop our country knows—and yet in connection with this harvest there is an equal probability that a fair percent of the value of this crop will be wasted. Sad as it is, it required centuries to find out that from 30 to 40 per cent of the nutritive value of the corn is in the stalk, leaves and husks, and it has not been learned entirely yet that even without a silo the corn stalks on the farm when properly shredded, have a feeding value practically equal to timothy hay and prairie grass and a fertiliz-ing value far in excess of either.

Science of Six Hygiene

By William H. Taft
 The policy of reverence which we have maintained in the bringing up of boys and girls in the nineteenth century certainly did not minimize in any way the risk of social punishment that the disclosure of sexual immorality involved; and this was especially so with girls. Therefore, it would seem to be idle to argue that under the old system there was not present a restraint of the utmost force operating upon all young girls to prevent their yielding to such temptation. It may be that they did not know the truth, anatomical, physiological and pathological, but they knew what the wages of sin were; and the number of instances in which girls could be led into sin without knowing that they were sinning, is so small that in a candid discussion it is to be treated as negligible, says former President Taft in the Mothers' Magazine. Nor is it at all clear—indeed, experience seems to show otherwise—that young men will be deterred from sexual immorality because of the awful consequences that may follow from infectious disease. It is true that there is some evidence that a knowledge of the dreadful results that may follow an immoral course on the part of a young man for his innocent wife and children in a future marriage, sometimes acts as a deterrent; but the general rule seems to be that in those who indulge in immoral practice, the passion is so strong, the power of restraint so little, that the young man takes the chance either of escaping infection or of effecting a cure, should he be unfortunate. When the moral training and the fear of social condemnation involved in public disclosure fail to operate as a sufficient restraining force, the difference in the knowledge which a boy picks up, even in the street, and fuller information as to physical penalties, is not great enough to justify belief that propaganda on the subject will effect substantial reform in him.

ROOT APPEALS FOR RESTORATION OF
 REPUBLICAN RULE

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Addressing the New York republican state convention which met here today under the novel condition of being without power to nominate candidates for office, since the new primary law calls for the selection by the voters of the party at the primary election on September 28, United States Senator Elihu Root, the temporary chairman of the convention, pointed out the most essential factors which might lead to republican success this fall.

It is, as he noted, the first time in 18 years that the republican part-of the state comes to the election of its state government and its national representatives as the party of opposition both in the state and nation.
 The party was about to appeal, he said, to the voters of the state not only for a judgment on the conduct of the government by the democratic party at Albany, but also in Washington.

Roasts Democracy
 He charged that since the democratic party took possession of the national government a year and a half ago, with a program "by which they proposed to set free every American from the incubus of too great success by others, to reduce to cost of living, and to give new life and prosperity to American production and commerce," it had failed.

He took up particularly the experiments with the tariff, which he asserted had been carried out in an spirit of hostility to American industry, and suggested that "perhaps the time has now come when the American people are ready again to try the protective system upon its merits and to call for legislation inspired by a spirit of friendliness toward American industry."

Hull Moolism Dead
 He likewise attacked the democratic program in relation to the financial system and the control of trusts and corporations. He mentioned that eight months had passed since the banking and currency act became law and that the delay in putting this into operation, together with the proposed legislation against trusts and corporations had had an ill effect on the country. "The spirit of the dominant party," he said in dealing with these problems, impressed the enterprise of the country, "with a sense that the government is hostile."

His estimate of the progressive movement he reflected as follows:
 "In this controversy with the democratic party the republican party stands alone. The threat of a third party, which alarmed so many republicans two years ago and still vexed us one year ago has practically disappeared. It is now plain that it never had any real substance apart from the powerful personality of Mr.
 Roosevelt."

 FIGHT FOR FRANCE

PARIS, Aug. 18, 4:20 a. m.—The Eclair states that all the Carthusian monks of Milage who were expelled from France at the time that the law restricting religious associations was adopted, have returned to the barracks at Grenoble and exchanged the white habit of the Order of St. Bruno for the uniform of the French soldier. They were given an enthusiastic reception by the population of Grenoble.

The Servian legation has formally expressed to Foreign Minister Gaston Doumergue the gratitude of the Servian government for the assistance received from the Republic of France in the present circumstances.

Mothers Tell of Mother's Friend

Experience is or should be our best teacher. Women who have obeyed the highest and noblest of all maxims, the struggle for the life of others, should have a better idea of helpful influence than those who theorize from observation.
 At any rate when a prospective grandmother urges her "Mother's Friend," there is ample reason to believe it the right kind of advice.
 Its purpose is to furnish plenty to the stomach, to take away the strain on the cords and ligaments, to relieve the tension of nerves and tendons so apt to provoke or aggravate nausea, morning sickness, twitches of the limbs and so on. It is applied externally.
 Although, in the nature of things, a woman would use "Mother's Friend" but rarely, yet so effective has it been found that this splendid remedy is on sale in most drug stores throughout the United States. It has been prepared by Bradford Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and advertised by us for over twenty years. Ask at the drug store for a bottle of "Mother's Friend." It is worth while.

PARENT'S DUTY

It is the duty of all parents to know beyond question that their children's eyes are right, or, in case they are not, to provide them with proper glasses.
 Negligence in this matter often results in reflex derangements throughout the system, which is the cause of much suffering on the part of the child aside from the visual inconveniences.
