

FORTS AT NAMUR STILL RESISTING GERMAN ATTACK

LONDON, Aug. 29, 4 a. m.—A Belgian civic guard who left Namur shortly before the Germans reached that fortress, has arrived in London. He heard the story of the fall of that fortress from French officers after their retreat and tells the story as follows: "At last accounts five forts were still holding out, though they are bound to succumb to the improved engines of war with which the Germans are now equipped. "These new style siege guns have been posted out of the range of the forts and they placed enormous shells over the defenses. "The shells burst with such force that they tore gaps ten yards deep in the parapets and speedily put the forts' guns out of action. "As soon as the first forts fell an army of Germans advanced in, overwhelming the small French and Belgian force which was compelled to retreat. "Five thousand Belgians from Namur were subsequently surrounded by the Germans at Denece. The Belgians tried to force their way through the German cordon with the bayonet, but only 17 got through. The remainder were either killed or made prisoners."

MISSOURIAN HELD ALASKA MURDER

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—W. H. Rogers, charged with the murder of N. X. Wilson, his partner in a gold claim at Christmas Creek in the Porcupine district of Alaska today was arraigned before Lewis F. Mason, United States commissioner and entered a plea of self defense. A further hearing will be held September 4 and meanwhile J. E. Warren, Alaska extradition officer, is expected to come here to take Rogers back for trial. Rogers was arrested yesterday at Libertyville, Ill., by a United States marshal. He said Wilson had assaulted him and that he shot in self defense, afterward being exonerated by a coroner's jury on that ground. He said he was willing to return to Alaska for trial.

ALLIES BOMBARD AUSTRIAN FORTS

LONDON, Aug. 29, 7:15 a. m.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Milan says a report has reached there from Bari, Italy, that British and French warships, combined with Montenegrin guns, resumed the bombardment of the Austrian forts at Cattaro Thursday night. Two forts were demolished after six hours' cannonading. A small Austrian squadron attempted a sortie from its place of retreat at the island of Charso, but without success.

NORTH SEA MINES SINK TWO TRAWLERS

LONDON, Aug. 29, 4:10 p. m.—The official bureau of information has announced that two trawlers, sweeping for mines, have been sunk by mines. Five members of the crews of the trawlers are missing and eight others received injuries.

BARTLETT PEARS AT $2.10 IN NEW YORK CITY

That the Bartlett market is improving is shown by the sale of three cars in New York city yesterday at prices ranging from $2.02 to $2.10 per box. H. I. Irwin sold a car of Bartletts at $2.10 per box, the Bear Creek orchard sold a car at $2.02 per box and the Rogue River Valley Fruit and Produce association sold a car for $2.04 per box. Considering the European war and the general demoralization of the fruit market these prices are considered excellent. There is every prospect that prices will be maintained at the present level for several weeks. Through the cold storage house the local association has been able to build up its Bartletts for a higher market.

7000 GERMANS AT TOURNAI ROUT 500 BRITISH SOLDIERS

LONDON, Aug. 29, 3:50 a. m.—The Daily Mail's Boulogne correspondent, writing of the battle of Tournai, says: "The battle of Tournai should go down in British history beside Rorke's Drift and Magersfontein as a revelation of the prowess of the British army. "At Tournai a German cavalry force of 5000 men overwhelmed a British force of 700, who hourly expected relief which never appeared. "The Germans were victors at a terrible price and only after their own ranks had been sadly thinned. The British stood their ground until all hope was lost and only 300 remained. Then they retired, calmly and coolly, carrying their wounded and harassing their pursuers all the way. "The story of this last stand is somewhat belauded by the British charge that the Germans finally turned the tide of battle by mounting quick-firers in Red Cross wagons. The British survivors fell back on Wednesday afternoon, the fight having lasted from 11:30 in the morning. Here is the story of Tournai in brief: "On Wednesday morning our troops had taken position slightly to the rear of the town of Tournai, on high ground. Our artillery fired effectively at first on the German advance, but later lost the range. Toward 1 o'clock our positions became critical. "As every vital moment slipped by, anxious eyes looked back for the promised help that was never to come. Even at the terrible disadvantage of more than ten to one, the infantry and artillery were holding their own when hordes of Uhlans seemed suddenly to swoop down from nowhere. "Throughout the town they galloped with an amazing disregard for themselves and up to the very mazes of our field guns. Their losses were appalling, but survivors insist that the British stood their ground until ambulances, at least three in number, made their appearance with rapid-fire guns mounted on them.

The institution offers three courses of study—Commercial, Shorthand and English. The commercial course is designed to give preparation for business life with the least possible sacrifice of time and money. The course will give a thorough and scientific training in the principles and mechanical work of bookkeeping, as well as in all the details of office work. The shorthand course affords such instruction in shorthand, typewriting, business correspondence, etc., as enables the student to become a capable stenographer in the shortest possible time. The English course affords those who require it, a thorough and systematic review of the common branches, including reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling and grammar. The night school is maintained for those who are employed during the day. It offers an excellent opportunity for improving one's education, and for review work by stenographers and bookkeepers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Forty persons were killed and 1466 injured by explosives in Fourth of July celebrations this year, according to statistics gathered by the Journal of the medical association and published here today. The record of 1914 is not so good as that of 1913, but in explanation the Journal says, "The fact that there were two days for celebration both last year and this (Sunday coming next to the holiday) may have had something to do with the comparatively slight increase in casualties of the last two years."

Medford Commercial College. S. H. Bauman and B. I. Van Gilder, proprietors of the Medford Commercial College, have just issued a very attractive circular of information for general distribution. The college has been thoroughly renovated and many new office appliances added, including a dozen new typewriters for the use of the students. The college is now open for the enrollment of students for the regular fall term which begins Tuesday, September 1st. As the school will be in session the entire year, students may enter at any time, and begin a course of study whenever it is most convenient for them to do so. Much of the instruction is individual, thus enabling each student to advance as rapidly as is consistent with thoroughness. The various subjects included in the commercial, shorthand and English courses, will be taught in a practical manner by experienced teachers of recognized ability. Messrs. Bauman and Van Gilder come to this city highly recommended as practical teachers and business men.
