

ALLIES RUSH TO BATTLE SINGING AND WITH JIBES

LONDON, Sept. 2, 3:18 a. m.—The Chronicle's correspondent from an unannounced town, sends an account of the third British battle, dated Monday as follows:

"Desperate fighting in which the British troops are playing a heroic part, is taking place close by. The right wing of the allied forces, forming the northern army has been fiercely engaged, but it is against the British or left wing that the Germans are flinging the whole of their weight, regardless of the enormous sacrifice of human life entailed. The enemy seems bent on breaking through our defensive line and so pushing back the allies nearer to Paris.

"The battle, which is still at an undecided stage, was preceded by heavy artillery fire. The German guns were well served and the aim of their gunners was rendered accurate by observation of aerial pilots who throughout the day hovered above the allied position, correcting any wild firing on the part of the German guns.

"Freshly arrived troops from England were pushed forward in time to participate in the battle. These reinforcements had been carrying out strategic movements in troop trains for several days and in the expressive phraseology of Tommy Atkins 'they were fed up with the whole thing' and were all eager for a brush with the enemy.

"Their chance came yesterday. Many were reserves with South African experience and they marched to the front cheering the French and growling for 'William, the weed' somehow confusing the emperor with William (of Wied) of Albania.

"French and English flags were borne at the head of each company. 'They were in fine fettle. 'Are we downhearted?' would shout some one from the ranks, and immediately back came the fervent reply, 'No, but William, the weed will be downhearted by the time we finish with him.'

No doubt the rapid advance of the Russians in East Prussia has something to do with this and is responsible for the frantic and insane haste which characterizes the German attempt in Northern France to smash the thick khaki line which so valiantly bars the road toward Compiègne, Soissons and Paris.

GRANTS PASS OPENS PUBLIC MARKET

(Grants Pass Courier) The public market which was closed in July by the city authorities because so few growers patronized it, will be opened again Wednesday morning, the producers themselves being in charge of the establishment this time. M. H. Shinn will be in management of the market, and will keep it open every day. Growers can leave the products of their farms at the market, and they will be sold at a commission of ten per cent by the man in charge.

Considerable produce has been guaranteed for the market on opening day, and it is expected that with the new method of handling it the patronage will rapidly increase. Under the old way unless a man had sufficient stuff to warrant his giving his time to its sale on market day he could not take advantage of the market. Those who wish to sell their own produce can do so, however, under the arrangement to be in force by paying stall rent. The producers are also arranging to make deliveries within the city where patrons wish.

ALLIES DESTROY ENTIRE REGIMENT

LONDON, Sept. 2, 4:20 a. m.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Boulogne reports that a regiment of German infantry has been cut up and almost completely destroyed by the allies.

"Since Friday night," he says, "a large body of German troops has been surrounded in a forest which is being fiercely bombarded on all sides by the allies.

"Heavy slaughter occurred during a two days' battle which finally ended with the retirement of the Germans who left large numbers of dead and wounded on the field. The losses of the allies were also heavy."

Bible Movies at the Page Theatre

Perhaps one of the most splendid achievements of combined scientific and artistic research is presented by the twice daily performance at the Page theatre. This presentation is given under the auspices of the International Bible Students association and represents years of labor and careful preparation. Its educational value is attested by its splendid endorsement from teachers and professors, and back of this enterprise are prominent citizens in every walk of life, including General Hall, one of the highest officials in the United States army.

Beginning with creation in a scientific and scriptural way the history of the human family is traced down to the present time. Everything is arranged in a methodical manner, and while it is unquestionably a source of scholarly information, yet the program is arranged with such pleasant diversion that every one is splendidly entertained as well as instructed. The most beautiful musical numbers as well as reproductions of the masterpieces of painting are given and the entire performance is a source of pleasure and profit to all who attend.

The exhibition at the Page theatre at 3 and 8 p. m. is free. The seats are charged, and no collections are taken. The performances will be Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

TUETON WOUNDED AT MONS SLAIN BY OWN FORCES

LONDON, Sept. 2, 5:25 a. m.—The Ostend correspondent of the Express quotes Leon Hlard, senator of Hainaut, as testifying "that the Germans killed their own severely wounded on the battlefield, only tending those who would soon recover."

There are many signs, according to the dispatch, that the Germans suffered heavily at Mons. Returning remnants of those who were in the fight spoke bitterly of British courage. One force of 250 British, it is said, must have accounted for thousands of Germans. All along their line of retreat they had prepared a defense made with bags full of potash, found in a neighboring factory. Through these were placed Maxims and on top German helmets. The first time the Germans came up to this seemingly friendly line the Maxims spoke and soon no Germans were left.

Mons is reported to have suffered heavily and its whole neighborhood was devastated.

KAISER'S KIN KEEP UP SOCIAL END

LONDON, Sept. 2, 3:20 a. m.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Abbeville, France, learns that Emperor William was in Charleroi, Belgium last Saturday, where he viewed the battlefield, later motoring to Mons. He spent Saturday night in Brussels at the Bellevue Hotel.

The young Duke of Brunswick, a son-in-law of Emperor William gave a big banquet last week in the Place of Laeken in Brussels, according to the same correspondent. The principal guest was the emperor's son, Prince August William.

The Mail's Abbeville correspondent continues:

"King Albert came within an ace of death during a sortie on Malines. He was directing operations from his motor car when shrapnel burst ten yards away, blowing off the rear wheels of the car."

WEDGE TACTICS GERMAN FORCES FAIL TO WEDGE

LONDON, Sept. 2, 5:03 a. m.—The Paris correspondent of the Times sends the following:

"Today I pushed up as near the front as possible, but could only get general impressions of the events of recent days.

"It must be borne in mind that although on the left flank the allied armies have been forced to withdraw their lines so far remain intact. At no point has the enemy succeeded in driving a wedge through the circle which is drawing closer and closer around the capital and gaining in strength as it retires.

"Amid all the welter of war the British troops produced the great quality of efficiency. The spirit of Kitchener apparently pervades the whole British expeditionary force. The transport and commissariat are all excellent and they have withstood the slaughtering tactics of the German general staff with wonderful equanimity."

CALIFORNIA HOP GROWER HELD IN LONDON AS SPY

System Awakens With Pure Blood

In Mind and Body the Change is Wonderful.

After the depression, the stagnation, the despair over some blood disorder, it is time to wake up to what S. S. S. has accomplished for you after a few days' use. It puts the nerves and blood in harmony; it arouses the cellular activity of the liver, kidneys, lungs, and other excretory organs to remove from the blood the body wastes that cause nearly all sickness. This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to catalytic medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is one of the highest achievements in this line. For many years people relied upon mercury, iodine of potash, arsenic cathartics and "dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure, vegetable S. S. S. is their safeguard. You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist without charge, address Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 327 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

MALINES AGAIN UNDER FIRE OF GERMAN FORCES

LONDON, Sept. 2, 8 a. m.—A dispatch from Antwerp to Reuter's Telegram company conveys the following official announcement:

"The Germans are again bombarding Malines, aiming at the steeple of the cathedral, a prominent landmark.

"Certain movements of the German troops in the direction of Assche, in the province of Brabant, six miles northwest of Brussels, gave rise to the belief that the Germans were contemplating a movement toward Termonde, 6 miles east of Ghent. However, the Belgian troops have been re-inforced on account of the necessity of preserving control of Waasland. The enemy advanced from Brussels to Assche yesterday, but could not penetrate further north.

"Ninove and Alost, 16 and 15 miles, respectively from Ghent, in different directions, have been occupied by the Germans.

"In the provinces of Antwerp and Limbourg the situation is unchanged."
