COLD WAVE WITH SEASON'S FIRST RAIN

Variagated weather prevailed over the Rogue River valley Monday and today. At Crater Lake it snowed, a heavy and much needed rain fell at Rogue River and Gold Hill, a severe frost was reported from the Poorman creek district on the Applegate, and Medford shivered in the lowest temperature for five months. The rainfall here, according to the weather bureau, was .07 of an inch, the first in fifty-four days. More rain is the prediction of the weather bureau. All the forest fires have been extinguished and the danger from this source is greatly minimized.

ALLIED ARMY MAKES PROGRESS

ues to make progress against the enemy.

The French advance reaches from the banks of the river Ourcq into the Montmirail region (Montmirail is about forty-eight miles east of Paris).

The enemy is retiring in the direction of the river Marne, between Meaux (twenty miles east of Paris) and Sezanne (forty-two miles east from Meaux).

The French and the English armies have taken numerous prisoners, including a battalion of infantry and a company serving a detachment of rapid-fire guns; they captured also many gun carriages.

Ground Gained Everywhere.

There have been violent encounters with the enemy on the center between Fere Champanoise (twelve miles east of Sezanne) and Vitry le Francois, the southern point of the forest of Argonne. (Vitry le Francois is twenty-seven miles east of Fere Champanoise).

"At no place have we fallen back; the enemy has lost ground.

"The reported retreating of the enemy near Vitry le Francois has been confirmed.

"On our right a division of German troops delivered an attack on the axis of Chateau Salins-Nancy, but they were repulsed to the northward, passing the forest of Champenois.

"Further to the east our troops re-occupied the crest of Mandry and the peak of Fourneaux.

"There has been no change in the situation in the province of Alsace."

Left Wing Holds Own.

PARIS, September 8, 3:19 p. m.—An official communication issued at Paris this afternoon says that the left wing of the allied armies comprising portions of the force defending Paris, continues to make progress.

The advance reaches from the banks of the river Ourcq into the region of Mont Mirail. The Germans are retreating in the direction of the Marne river between Meaux and Sezanne.

Germans Lose Ground.

PARIS, Sept. 8, 3:25 p. m.—Violent encounters have occurred on the French center between Fere Champanoise and Vitry le Francois at the southern points of the forest of Argonne. The French have fallen back nowhere. The Germans have lost ground. Near Vitry, the movement of retirement is confirmed on the German's side. On the French right a German division attacked on the axis of Chateau Salins and Nancy, but was repulsed to the northward, passing the forest of Champenois.

"Further to the east the French troops reoccupied the crest of Mandry and the peak of Fourneaux.

"There is no change in the situation in the province of Alsace."

Troops Moved East.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The French embassy today received from Bordeaux under last night's date the following:

"The German right wing (first army) on the Ourcq and Grand Moris has been attacked with the advantage to our troops. On the line Meaux Vitry le Francois the battle today became general.

"The Campine (Belgian) and the Limbourg have been evacuated. Transports of German troops from the west to the east are reported from several sources.

"The fact that at the time of the capture of Lemberg twelve Austrian divisions were annihilated is confirmed."

in the stipulation entered into between you have not yet been counted and that about fifteen votes in Sixes precinct, Curry county, have been reported as uncounted by the district attorney, it is the sense of the state canvassing board that the date set for canvassing the votes, the date for issuing a certificate of election and the date for filing acceptance of nominations be deferred by mutual agreement until 1 o'clock p. m., September 22, 1914, in order that the votes in the said precincts may be recounted and returns made to the secretary of state.

"As the time for action is limited, kindly advise the board as promptly as possible as to your wishes in the matter. Very truly yours,"

"Oswald West, governor.

"Ben W. Oleott, secretary of state.

"Thos B. Kay, state treasurer.

"Canvassing board."

Benson's Tactics Grilled

"One had a right to assume that men aspiring to such an exalted position as the supreme bench of the state would receive this proposal in the spirit in which it was offered. Judge McNary was prompt to follow upon the suggestion and advised the board that under no circumstances would he accept a certificate of nomination unless it was shown beyond a shadow of a doubt that he was the choice of the people. Your attorney, upon the other hand, declined to accept the proposal and when asked if a recount would be permitted, should it be shown that errors existed which would change the result, stated that it would not. Thus it was shown that it was clearly your intention to secure the nomination by fair means or foul, and you are to be congratulated upon your success and your having kept 'within the law.'"

"The state board hoped to have both Judge McNary and yourself present when the votes were canvassed. Your failure to appear was no doubt due to the fact that you were ashamed of the whole dirty job and threw it upon the hands of your attorneys.

"In an occasional address—fortieth anniversary of statehood of Oregon—delivered by Governor W. P. Lord, he said:

Trample Upon People's Rights

"Our courts are the sanctuaries of our liberties; their judges are the guardians of our lives, our fortunes and our honor.

"The judge who palters with justice or who is swayed by hope of reward prostitutes the attributes of God and sells the favor of his majesty."

"As circuit judge you have many times sent to jail young men who have happened to trespass, in a small degree, upon the property rights of others, yet today you trample upon the birthright of a whole people and because you have been skillful enough to keep within the law, are permitted not only to go your way unmolested, but to sit in judgment upon your fellowman. It is this lack of equality before the law which creates discontent and leads many to believe that the law is like a coloweb where small flies are caught and the greater ones break through.

Shatters Conscience.

"No man can afford to ride in the glittering chariot of success over the fragments of a shattered conscience. The fall election may elevate you to the supreme bench, but your victory will prove only a hollow mockery. The cloud under which you soured your nomination will follow you always, and not only embitter your days, but will embrace a court which as a fountain of justice has run pure and undefiled since the date of its creation. Day by day as you sit upon the bench and are reminded that a man must come into court with clean hands, you will be haunted by the ghost of the past, and as your thoughts revert to uncounted precincts the clock upon the wall will seem to tick out, 'Sixes, sixes, sixes,' and you will bow your head in shame.

"I now leave you, Judge Benson, to your certificate and your conscience. May you find comfort in both. Yours very truly,

"OSWALD WEST, governor."

OBITUARY.

Charles Alan Berdan was born Feb. 14, 1887, at Northfield, Minnesota, his parents being Frank E. Berdan and Josephine I. Berdan. He died at Medford, Oregon, by an electric shock while at his work and in the discharge of his duty. Charles led a quiet and useful life and was the chief comfort of his parents to whose welfare he devoted himself with rare fidelity, and to them he left his policy in the Woodmen of the World. He was an ardent member of the W. O. W., was one of its officers at the time of his death and as a token of the esteem in which he was held the Woodmen attended his funeral in a body.

It is difficult to understand why one so young, vigorous and full of promise should be called from loved ones but the All Wise Father who notes even the sparrow's fall understands and we bow in humble submission to the divine will.
