

SCHOOL FAIR AT LAKE CREEK SHOWS FINEST EXHIBITS

L. P. Harrington, state field worker, Supt. J. P. Wells, and Supervisor A. R. Chase, took a trip up to Lake Creek school house Monday where a local school fair was held. Sixty-nine exhibits from the boys and girls in the four districts, were on display.

Mr. Harrington pronounced the display of corn the best he had seen at any school fair this year. There were seven varieties of corn exhibited and Clary Charley and Tommy Ragsdale took the premiums. Clary's corn yielded 111 bushels to the acre this year. Twenty dollars were distributed among the winners of the contest.

Theodore Kinney exhibited a pig that has gained about 230 lbs. since the first of May. The girls, too, exhibited some fine aprons and other examples of household art. Cecil Moore carried off the honors on canned fruit and the best prepared school lunch.

A unique feature of the day was a corn judging contest conducted by the supervisor in which 18 boys participated. This is probably the first event of the kind in the state.

Addresses delivered by Mr. Wells and Mr. Harrington met with enthusiastic response. The subject of a union high school at Lake creek was mentioned and will probably be acted upon in the near future. Mr. Harrington spoke in part as follows:

"I believe in country schools for country boys and girls such as I see possible here. The people of this community will make no mistake if you decide to build a union high school, which will bring to your children advantages which at present they must leave home to secure. Let us educate our boys and girls so that when they leave school they shall know how and be willing to do things that are worth while.

"Efficiency in life should be the result of well directed school work. This school fair and industrial club movement has been made a part of the educational work Oregon is leading. The young people who have stuck to their project and carried it to completion have won the best kind of a prize. We want more of this good work next year and I feel sure the teachers will do their part."

DESPERATE FIGHTING TO DISLODGE ALLIES RIGHT AT WOEVRE

LONDON, Sept. 23, 8:25 a. m.—The correspondent of the Times at Bordeaux has this to say of the big battle that is being waged in France.

"The battle from the Aisne to the Woevre progresses slowly, but methodically in favor of the allies. Both sides have been engaged the last few days in sending reinforcements and assembling new forces on the firing line. As the reinforcements reached the front the activity of both armies in the Woevre district on the right of the allies' position increases.

Allies' Right a Bulwark

"The prediction of the staff on both sides for decisive action on the allies' left must not divert attention from the allies' right, which in the present battle constitutes an all-important bulwark.

"Operations in Woevre have been more or less at a standstill for some days, as the guns were struck fast in the clay. Now the armies are again moving and the Germans are desperately attempting to break the strong natural defenses of the Meuse heights to paralyze the allies' plans in the center.

"The plains of the Woevre, the scene of the present effort, were made for a battle, and the Meuse heights, with their steep escarpment, and strengthened by forts, form a barrier of prodigious strength. The northern Woevre lakes lie among green forests, and a range of steep hills, crowned with forest, rises amidst this country.

Time Fights for Allies

"The enemy is making desperate efforts to dislodge the French forces from this natural fortress, which commands an immense sweep of country. In the distance are the heights of Pont Au Moussin and Maz and the old battlefields of Gravelotte and St. Prives. The enemy attacked without success the right along the Meuse on the heights from Tresanvux to Hericourt.

"Time-fights on the side of the allies, whose forces are growing daily from the ends of the earth."

KAISER ASKS GOD FOR FINAL VICTORIES OVER HIS ENEMIES

LONDON, Sept. 23, 3:40 a. m.—Emperor William, after reviewing the Imperial Grenadiers, commanded by his son, Prince Oskar, following the battle of Verdun, spoke to the troops, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily News.

"I salute you," said the emperor, after embracing the prince. "I have often seen your gallant regiment at maneuvers and it is a great pleasure to meet you again on a conquered ground.

"The heroic deeds at Verdun will be engraved on the history of the war forever in golden letters. Your regiment has upheld the glorious traditions of your forefathers in 1870 and 1871. The armies of the crown prince and Duke Albrecht of Wuertemberg have advanced while our eastern army has thrown three Russian army corps over the frontier and two more Russian army corps have been captured in the field.

"For all these victories we have one God to thank, and He is our ancient God who is over us."

"I did all I could to keep the peace," the emperor is quoted as having said to a clergyman, "but our enemies would not have peace. Now we will have to crush them to the ground. Don't you agree?"

The clergyman, afterwards relating this conversation, said he could do nothing but agree, adding that he was ready to sacrifice everything for the fatherland.

BERLIN, Sept. 22, 8 p. m., via London, Sept. 23, 4:50 a. m.—Emperor William, on the occasion of the birthday of the duke of Cumberland, wired from his headquarters in the field under date of September 21, as follows:

"Though these are heavy days of trial, I remember your birthday with sincerest wishes for yourself and yours. I pray God, who in his mercy has already done so much, to stay with our brave troops and give a final victory over all our enemies. You can be proud of your son, who has already earned an iron cross. Best wishes.

Every pipe's a jimmy pipe if it's packed with P. A.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

Men everywhere smoke P. A. in a pipe and rolled into cigarettes. Wise up that it is the goods—signed, sealed, delivered! Or you can lay a bet it wouldn't hit the fancy of such a bunch of red-blooded men.

Sooner you lay a dime against a tidy red tin of P. A. sooner you'll get yours! It's simply a question of time when you'll sit on the P. A. band wagon and sound the cymbals! Get it off your mind and let some P. A. sunshine into your system!

Prince Albert is sold all along the line. Beat it around the corner and get yours. Because it's a bad noise to tease your smokappetite so. Tippy red bags, 5c (handy for rolling 'em); tidy red tins, 10c; also hand-some pound and half-pound humidor.

CLABBY AND GIBBONS NOT YET MATCHED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 23.—Jimmy Clabby's manager denied today that Clabby and Mike Gibbons, both middleweights, had been matched for 20 rounds, on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, in San Francisco, as was reported yesterday in a dispatch from Chicago. Such a match has been under discussion, among other possibilities, but it has not been clinched.
