The characteristic curtain speeches of De Wolf Hopper are like a dash of tobacco into the humor of any play. This well liked comedian will soon be seen in this city at the head of the Gilbert & Sullivan Opera company.

Who's coming back?

The beauty of the Gilbert & Sullivan books and scores is that there is always the definite relation of each to each. They absolutely belong where they are. The lyric expresses the music and the music echoes the lyric. There is no playing on a word to get in an interpolated song; no obvious carpentry; no cheap improvisation. It is all good, honest, delightful artistry. In support of Mr. Hopper will be some excellent singers including among others Idele Patterson, Gladys Caldwell, Jayne Herbert, Maule Mordant, Una Brooks, Anabel Jourdan, Arthur Aldridge, Herbert Waterous, Arthur Cunningham, John Willard and Herbert Cripps.

Would You Vote to Throw Ten Thousand More Men and Women Out of Work in Oregon?

Yet that is one of the first results that would follow the adoption of statewide prohibition in Oregon.

Aren't times hard enough now? Aren't too many men and women in Oregon even now vainly seeking employment?

If statewide prohibition should prevail here five thousand men and women would directly be thrown out of employment in Portland alone.

Practically every trade, industry and place of business in the entire state would be indirectly injured by the loss of trade, adding other thousands of unemployed to the steadily growing army of idle.

Would you be helping humanity when you knowingly created hunger and want?

You, or others near and dear to you, who sadly need the weekly income now received, might find it cut off. The world can present no more sorrowful picture than worthy men and women seeking employment day after day, week after week, month after month, and failing to find it.

While you are thinking of the few unfortunates whom you might hope to "reform by law," you should also think of your duty to the thousands whom you would force out of work and perhaps onto the streets, hungry and starving, through lack of employment and business stagnation.

A SOLEMN DUTY RESTS ON YOUR CONSCIENCE

Register before Thursday, October 15

VOTE 333 X NO AGAINST PROHIBITION

Voting qualifications: Six months' residence in the state, Thirty days in the precinct

Defeat of the proposed prohibition amendment will have no effect upon the efficient home rule or local option statutes now in force, and each community will continue to determine its individual stand on the matter of granting licenses.
