The victory of the Boston Braves is of particular interest to Owey Patton of this city, for he is an old friend of Manager Stallings. In 1891 Portland and San Jose played for the championship of the Pacific coast. Stallings played right field for San Jose and Owey played shortstop for Portland. After each team had won a game, the series broke up in a row.

ECONOMY MAIN CAMPAIGN ISSUE DECLARES SMITH

To an audience that nearly filled the auditorium hall, in spite of theaters and the institute as rival attractions, Dr. C. J. Smith, democratic nominee for governor, spoke for over an hour upon campaign issues Tuesday evening. He said that the four great issues of the past fifty years, the tariff, the currency, the income tax and the popular election of senators, had all become realities during the past eighteen months of Wilson's administration and that great good was bound to result to the people, and a fair trial should be accorded the democratic party upon its record. It was necessary to uphold Wilson in his peace policy and Oregon would be a heavy loser if George E. Chamberlain was not returned to Washington.

Dr. Smith declared that the main issues in the state election were lower taxation, economy and business administration, and a safeguarding of the Oregon political system from the attacks of its enemies who believed that the convention or assembly should replace the direct primary.

"No one can believe in the assembly and in the direct primary also," said Dr. Smith, "for they are inimical. My opponent admits he was a candidate before the assembly and is a believer in the assembly, and when he says he is a friend of the direct primary he means he is the kind of a friend that would kill it."

Dr. Smith reviewed the growth of taxation and legislative extravagance, dwelt upon the necessity for a governor who would swing the veto axe freely and save the taxpayers' money, rather than a "harmony evener," who agreed to every raid on the treasury to keep party solidarity. He pledged himself to a business administration with a full use of the veto power at every deserved opportunity. While favoring deserved improvements that developed the state, he wished to be recorded as opposed to all unnecessary expenditures.

Dr. Smith concluded with a plea for humanitarian legislation to make the world a better place to live in, and asked the co-operation of women to realize such a program. He urged a building up of vocational education at home in public schools rather than creating top-heavy state institutions.

The speaker was introduced by Mayor Purdin, who served in the legislature with Dr. Smith and paid him a high compliment as a legislator in behalf of the people.

CHURCHILL TALKS AT FINAL SESSION TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Concluding sessions of the teachers' institute for Jackson and Josephine counties were held in the high school building this morning with an address by State Superintendent Churchill and President Ackerman of the State Normal school at Monmouth. This afternoon the visiting teachers will be taken for an auto ride. Most of those in a tendence will leave this afternoon for their homes for the opening of school in the morning.

General discussion of subjects of interest to educators were held this morning, with a meeting of the teachers and school officers. This morning talks were given by Miss Hardie on "High School Gymnastics," and on "Modern Tendencies of Secondary Education," by C. R. Bowman of the Medford high schools. This afternoon Miss Akins will talk from the subject, "Is Latin Worth While?"

At a meeting held in the tent of the Methodist church Tuesday evening attended by many of the teachers, establishment of the state normal school at Ashland was urged, and speeches were made by H. D. Sheldon of the U. of O., J. A. Ackerman of the Monmouth Normal, M. S. Pittman of O. A. C., C. J. Briscoe of the Ashland public schools, and Attorney B. F. Mulkey of this city, former president of the Ashland Normal. County Superintendent Wells acted as toastmaster.

There is a decided sentiment among the teachers at the institute in favor of the normal school, and the visiting educational heads from various parts of the state will return to their homes to work for the carrying of the amendment.

BOOSTERS ARE URGING NORMAL SCHOOL BILL

In furtherance of the establishment of the state normal at Ashland a meeting was held last night in the tent adjoining the M. E. church on North Bartlett street. About 150 were present. The speakers were Attorney B. F. Mulkey, J. A. Ackerman of the state normal at Monmouth, State Superintendent Churchill, M. S. Pittman, H. D. Sheldon, C. J. Briscoe of the Ashland public school, Mrs. Charles Schieffelin of the Greater Medford club and others.

County Superintendent J. Percy Wells acted as toastmaster. Much interest was shown in the meeting, and all the addresses strongly favored a southern Oregon normal.

"Foot Sick--sick all over"

There's more truth than poetry in that quotation, as those sufferers from tired, aching feet will testify.

Our panacea for foot fits is simple remedy of comfortable shoes, and we can supply them.

Our method of fitting is somewhat different than most stores. We study the foot and give you shoes that will conform with every requirement.

We take time to fit your feet right—your comfort has our first consideration.

And comfortable shoes need not be large and clumsy looking —on the contrary, they be in the latest style last, and pleasing to the eye. If you have sick feet, we'd like to meet you.

PRINTS OF HOOFS USED AS EVIDENCE OF INDIAN CRIME

Prints of the hoofs of the horses on the trail down which Jim George and Peter Brown rode, after a wild night at the gambling grounds, were measured by Indian police after the discovery of the body of Brown in Plute cemetery, and witnesses this morning before the federal court told of the investigation. Two sticks—one representing the hoof of the horse George rode, and the other that of the horse Brown rode, were introduced as exhibits.

Johnny Jackson, an ex-Indian policeman told of tracing the hoof prints along the trail, and testified that the "big horse"—the one that George is supposed to have ridden on the fatal night, jumped out of the trail a couple of times, and that the tracks were visible. He also told of the return to Miller George's place of the horse Brown rode, without a rider.

Among the witnesses called are three or four who bear historical names, like Stonewall Jackson, George Washington, and Robin Hood. One of the Indians is known as Stonehead and one small boy is hand-leapped with the name of Taft. The case is proceeding slowly.

ASKED TO WITHDRAW MILITIA

(Continued from page 1.) tion and are doing everything that we can do short of engaging in hostilities. The president is advised of the contents of this message and concurs with what is said herein." Mr. Garrison's message was in reply to one from Governor Hunt asking that "new measures" were being taken by the federal government to prevent "a continuance of Mexican outrages against Arizona citizens," and expressing a desire to send the Arizona National Guard to the border.

Health First

In buying food articles we must consider several things—economy, results, convenience, reliability; but the most important is Health.

Health means everything. If one gets cheated in buying dresses, shoes or bonnets it is provoking, but the harm is chiefly loss of money. In buying food articles, if imitations or poor stuffs are supplied, there is a loss of money and probably an injury to health also; and good health is beyond price.

Remember these facts when buying baking powder.

Fiery Blood Disorders Checked

The Sources of Disease are Cleaned and Blood Purified

Those who have used S. S. S. marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with his skin all broken out; see him again in a week or two after using S. S. S. and he is a wonder to behold, all cleared up, skin healthy, eyes bright, a big smile replaces the frown. What is S. S. S. that can accomplish such wonderful results? First of all it is a natural medicine. Like milk, eggs and other foods that can not be imitated, S. S. S. owes it to Nature for its power to overcome disease just as food prevents emaciation. S. S. S. is not a combination of prescription drugs. It is a preparation direct from medicinal plants that retains all the virile potency of what we need, what we must have in the blood to counteract those destructive tendencies that assail us throughout life. If it were not for our natural secretions to sustain us, aided by such known helps as S. S. S. there would be small chance of any of us surviving childhood.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from any druggist but be careful to avoid the substitutes peddled off on the unwary. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 35 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and for private medical advice write briefly your symptoms to their medical department. They will take excellent care of you.
