Through democratic newspapers and democratic politicians and office holders the public continues to hear of the secret and sinister program for doing violence to the direct primary of Oregon.

But let us see how the primary has been or is being violated. The spirit of the direct primary has been most grossly wronged by Dr. C. J. 1914. Smith and his crowd. His nomination is the direct result of a put-upjob by the West-Chamberlain machine. He was nominated by a backroom assembly. He was hand-picked by the little gang that seeks to run Oregon politics. He was forced upon the democratic party. His nomination is the genuine fruit of ring methods. Chamberlain names West and West names Smith. There was never a bolder deal in Oregon.

Mr. Withycombe was nominated in primary agains petitors. He had an even show, and no more. There was no state machine, or gang, or ring. He had a modest organization, which did no violence to the corrupt practices act. There was no great corps of stenograppers preparing thousands of letters for Oregon voters. There was was little money, but much enthus-

Mr. Withycombe stands for the square deal. He has given it to Oregon voters.

The real facts are that today in Oregon you will find but little opposition in any party to the direct primary. It has come to stay in some form or other. It may need to be strengthened and perfected in some measure, but if so the people can be trusted to do this at the proper time. There would be no controversy about it now, if it was not for a close corporation of democratic politicians and officeholders in the state who are joined together to perpetuate each other in office. They constitute themselves the defenders of the people's rights. With much clamor and uprear they charge the republican party with trying to bring about the destruction of the direct primary. But the dear people are waking up to refer you to my past record as a basis the fact that all of this noise is only upon which to judge my qualifications meant to distract attention from dem- for the above named office. ocratic extravagance, waste and in-
