

NEWS FROM COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Ashland teachers are pretty well represented among the schools throughout the county. Among the names and districts are: Robert Penchey, Soda Springs; J. C. Bernard, Tolo; Mrs. H. L. White, Gold Hill; Harry White, Wimer; Mrs. O. H. Barnhill, Talent; G. Wardrip, Wagner creek; Susie Homes, Bolls-lide; Lucile Barber, Bimcom; Bessie York, Green Springs; A. C. Joy and Miss Milam, Bellevue, and a number of others.

The 600 majority against road bonds in Siskiyou county, California, is said to reflect the jealousies existing between Yreka and Montague over the location of the Pacific highway more than any actual hostility towards the direct question of issue.

Star-gazing has been given a direct impetus this fall owing to the appearance of the new comet. Solid couples especially took the greatest interest in the planetary visitor, which played court to the Big Dipper constellation. This appearance receives interest in the fine telescope property of the old-time Ashland Siskiyou club, a band of Alpine mountaineers, among which C. B. Watson, Frank Routledge and Frode Frondson were the most intrepid climbers in the days of its ascendancy.

Upper classes in the local high school are interested in the rapid advancement of Merlin Wilson, a fellow member in his sophomore days, now a senior at Los Angeles. Young Wilson left here about two years ago. He has by merit won a place as joke editor on the "Stylus," the de luxe publication in the way of high school annuals on the Pacific coast.

The Wednesday Afternoon club of the Presbyterian church will afford a demonstration in the low cost of living by holding a penny cafeteria supper November 28. The meal will not be made up from the holdovers of the Thanksgiving holiday, either.

Charles Wolfner, postal clerk on the Ashland-Portland run, who was stricken with alarming symptoms on election day, died at his home on Capitol hill, Portland, early in the week. He was 56 years of age, 24 years of which were passed in the postal service.

A special pension examiner was here Thursday, interviewing Ephraim Hackett of this city relative to the merits of the claim of one Eddie Fay for a pension. Hackett is a civil war veteran and belonged to the first Wisconsin battery of light artillery. The scope of this investigation leads way back to Wisconsin territory in the vicinity of Lacrosse.

The Congregationalists have extended a unanimous call to Rev. R. W. Farguhar as pastor. He is a Scotchman, having been born in Aberdeen. He has accepted and will begin the pastorate December 1. He is one of several preachers in this locality who own orchard tracts and thus augment the salary received by the average cleric. Mr. Farguhar's fruit tract is located near Medford.

There will be only two elections here next week. The first is a school affair, Monday, November 16, and is called for the purpose of levying a mill tax. The second is a special election on Tuesday to amend the charter on a question involving the validity of the spring's bond issue. The civic and social clubs are lining up on the side of boosting for the proposed amendment, thus lending a helping hand in the movement.

It would seem almost unnecessary to remind people concerning local postal regulations, but the fact remains that many are still at sea regarding the schedules. In the first place, the postoffice is not open on Sunday; on week days the hours are from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. Mail intended for the Shasta Limited, either north or south, should be posted by 8:30 p. m.; for the north on train No. 14, by 7 a. m., and on train No. 16, also northbound, by 4 p. m. Southern mail leaving on the daylight schedule should be in the office by 11 a. m. and if thus posted in time for train No. 13, will reach Klamath Falls the same evening. Train No. 15, arriving here at 4:30 p. m., does not have a postal car south of Ashland, but does carry locked pouch mail to territory south of Dunsmuir. Schedules on the Ashland-Wagner Springs R. F. D. route have not been materially changed, but the substitution of an auto taxi service for the former one-horse shay caravan has given an impetus to postal deliveries all up and down that line.

JACKSONVILLE ITEMS

Miss Jessie McCully and Mrs. E. J. Kubli were Medford visitors during the week.

mercial club, by virtue of a new resolution adopted early in the month to the effect that the secretary should be an appointive instead of an elective official, has selected G. W. Senger, former incumbent, to succeed himself as secretary until further notice.

Mrs. J. A. McMillan of Edmonton, Alberta, who visited relatives here the past summer in the Allen, Fox and Dickey families, writes from the Canadian northwest that crops were good, but prices are low in that section. Also that business in general is overshadowed by the war excitement.

PHOENIX PHYLERS

T. Edwards is able to walk down town after his severe sickness.

H. Shaffer and family have moved to Jacksonville, where Mr. Shaffer will have charge of his mother's farm the coming year.

J. F. Wortman left Wednesday for Portland, where Mrs. Wortman was called two months ago by her mother's illness. Mrs. Wortman will return with Mr. Wortman in a few days.

Mrs. C. C. Scott attended the Pennsylvania dinner held in Medford on Wednesday.

G. Croy and Mrs. Mona Smith were quietly married in Jacksonville Tuesday. Directly after the marriage they left for their new home in Dunsmuir, Cal., where Mr. Croy is employed. They have the best wishes of their many friends for their future happiness.

Miss Jane Kollath has built a new wire division fence and otherwise improved her property.

Red Cross stamps are on sale at the following business places: Phoenix Mercantile company, Cope Hardware, Smith-Frye notion store and Mr. Hill's barber shop. Everyone is urged to make liberal use of the stamps on Christmas packages and letters and thereby help along the good work.

The sad news of the death of Ray Zimmerman was received here today. Mr. Zimmerman cut his foot with an axe two days ago, blood poisoning set in, which resulted in his death, is all that could be learned. Mr. Zimmerman leaves a wife, who is the daughter of Jerry Wilson of West Phoenix.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett.

On Monday, November 9, there was a company of about 35 or 40 assembled at the home of R. R. Minter for the purpose of having a poverty or poor man's party, and the arrangements had been made to award prizes to the ones whose outfit best represented the outcasts of the world. The costumes were made of almost every conceivable kind of material from old tattered garments to genuine sack cloth, for many were made of old burlap sacks and then patched with different kinds and colors of material. They played the different kinds of games that have been invented for the last century and have been handed down from one generation to another until late bed time and then dispersed, but not with empty stomachs for they had a feast of good things served before the company dispersed. The first prize was awarded to Elma Robinson and the lady's prize was awarded to Mrs. Jettie Clarno.

There was quite a number of the young folks of our town went out. It is about four miles, and they report that they had a very pleasant time and that every body seemed to be satisfied.

There was a change in real estate took place while I was gone up north that I did not learn of in time for my last, so will give it now. Mr. J. D. Downey who traded for the old Eagle Hotel property, had traded it to Mr. V. J. Palmer of Medford, for a tract of 24 acres of land in the neighborhood of Phoenix.

Miss Lottie Simmons of San Margerita, Cal., a niece of Mrs. G. W. Daley is here visiting her aunt and uncle. Miss Lottie is a daughter of Edward Simmons, who was raised in this place and for some years was interested in mining around Gold Hill.

Fred Dutton, one of our enterprising young men, has rented the old James Matney place and in making preparations for the winter has given me his subscription for the Daily Mail Tribune, as he wants to keep posted on the general affairs of the world, and while I was writing out a receipt for him Mr. George Phillips came and paid for a year's subscription to the Weekly Mail Tribune.

G. W. Frey, wife and oldest son, George, of Lake Creek, called for dinner Wednesday and while here Mr. Frey paid me a year's subscription to the Weekly Mail Tribune, so you see that the people are becoming more and more interested in good reading and so are subscribing and renewing their subscriptions to the leading newspaper in southern Oregon.

Another change that took place while I was gone was that Clay Cole, the engineer, on the P. & E. railroad, has moved out from Medford and is keeping house in the part of the Nichols block formerly occupied by Art Nichols and family.

Robert Nette, who owns a fine farm in the foothills up Little Butte came out the first of the week and brought a fine lot of honey for one of our merchants, Fred L. Heath. It appears that those who are turning their attention to the bee industry are making a success of the undertaking and it looks to me as though it was an easy way to make money.

There seems to be considerable building going on around here judging by the amount of lumber that is being taken away from the yard here, on Monday and Tuesday there was over 10,000 feet hauled out of here and Thursday morning I saw another load of about 2500 feet go out besides several small lots. T. W. Daley has been having a lot hauled up on Rogne river to build a summer resort where he and his friends can go and spend a few days fishing. Mr. Whitman, foreman of the W. Hart Hamilton farm, is building houses suitable to care for about 25 fine brood sows, and in fact business seems, since the depressing influence of the general election has passed to be improving.

F. J. Ayres, one of our well to do farmers brought in 15 fine turkeys Thursday morning to my express and railroad agent, Mr. Newport, and G. A. Peck and his cousin Fritz Peck, brought in a lot of chickens for the same party.

Carl Jackson and D. C. Brophy came in Thursday morning. Carl remained here to visit his parents, but Mr. Brophy went on to Butte Falls.
