KAISER'S LEGION MIMICS SOUTH'S GREAT GENERAL

LONDON, Nov. 17, 10:23 a. m.—Contrary to expectations, the coming of winter seems to have had more effect on the operations on the western battle front than in the east. Here the Germans are making desperate efforts to divert the Russians from East Prussia by resuming a vigorous offensive at two points near the center of this long frontier line.

Berlin experts, judging from the reports reaching London, have been discussing the German retreat from Warsaw with great candor. They declare they are as proud of the skill with which this movement was accomplished as are the English of their retirement after the battle of Mons. They admit also that the efforts of the Germans to evacuate General "Stonewall" Jackson's famous flanking movement failed of success by a narrow margin and only because the Russians were not caught napping.

The German people were promptly informed of the withdrawal of their troops from the Warsaw front, but they got only meager news of the progress of this retreat until the retiring armies, having covered some thing like a hundred miles, were in sight of their own borders.

The Germans seem confident of a favorable outcome to their renewed offensive along the river Warthe, and their ability to resume the aggressive shows strikingly the advantage which the possession of strategic railroad-gives a warring power. It is the opinion of British observers that the Germans are determined to force the invaders from East Prussia, and that they are striking two blows, one from the north and the other from the northwest, in the general direction of Ploek and Kutno, with the object of paralyzing the Russian advance along the southern frontier of East Prussia.

RUSSIANS ADMIT CHECK BY TURKS

PETROGRAD, Nov. 17.—The general staff of the Caucasian army has issued a communication confirming the report from Turkish sources that the Russians had received a check near Erzerum. It says:

"The march of our advance guard in the direction of Erzerum has ended. This march was dictated not only by conditions of war, but only to fulfill the task imposed on our advance guard."

HOME RULE RESTS ON IRISH SERVICE

LONDON, Nov. 17, 4:02 p. m.—"We have got either to bid good-bye to home rule or help England honestly in this war," said William O'Brien, member of the house of commons from Cork, and leader of the independent nationalists, in writing today a reply to a constitution who had protested against the suggestion of conscription. Irishmen, he said, were being cruelly led astray, and their attitude toward the government was "inexplicable." This, he continued, "was furnishing to certain English politicians their only excuse for deserting the cause of home rule."

HEADACHE, COLDS, COSTIVE BOWELS, TAKE CASCARETS

Get a 10-cent box now. You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a bad cold.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never grip or sicken.—Adv.

FIREMAN HURT WHEN FIRE AUTO BALKS AT CURVE

Good luck offset reckless driving early Tuesday morning when the heavy fire truck of the Medford fire department got beyond the control of Driver Danielson at Main and Front street, and narrowly missed crashing into a concrete lamp post. Fireman Charles Bonsum, standing on the running board of the truck, in attempting to jump was impaled on a lamp hook by his coat sleeve and held suspended and helpless when he was combed off by striking the post. The full force of the terrific blow was borne by his left hip, and he lies in a serious condition at his home. Unless internal injuries develop, he will recover.

The department was racing to a fire that totally destroyed a residence on West Fourth street belonging to J. W. Taylor, when the accident occurred. The heavy machine failed to make the curve, and headed for the lamp post. Bonsum hit the post with such force that he was wrapped around it. Police-men Cady and Carnes rushed to his assistance. He was suffering intense pain. Just before striking the post the machine was swerved away from danger and ran a short distance north on the railroad tracks. The auto truck was stopped and Bonsum's fellows rushed to his assistance. Later he was taken to the Nash hotel and Dr. F. G. Thayer called, who relieved him of his pain.

The fire completely destroyed the house, owned by J. W. Taylor, and with no regular tenant. A party of men cooked their supper there, and a defective fuse is supposed to have been the origin of the blaze. Tom Hickman slept in the house and was awakened by smoke, narrowly escaping suffocation. The loss is placed at $600.

Driver Danielson attributed the accident to the failure of the steering gear to work promptly.

WHOLE NORTH SEA IN MILITARY AREA DECLARES ASQUITH

LONDON, Nov. 17, 3:15 p. m.—Premier Asquith stated in the house of commons today that the British government had decided to declare the whole of the North sea to be in the military area.

All subjects of the enemy found on neutral vessels, the prime minister also said, would be liable to detention as prisoners of war.

Mr. Asquith also announced that oil and copper would be declared contraband of war.

Referring to mines, the premier said the Germans had resorted to indiscriminate mine-laying in the North Sea without regard to peaceful shipping, and without warning. The purpose clearly was the furtherance of no definite military operations, but to endanger British trade. These mines unquestionably had been laid by fishing vessels disguised as neutral, the premier said. These mines were not so constructed as to become harmless when loosed from their moorings, neither were they kept under observation. No steps had been taken to warn peaceful shipping of this danger. Consequently the terms of The Hague convention of 1907 have been violated.

After a number of neutral fishing and merchant vessels and many lives had been destroyed by these German mines, Mr. Asquith said the government had been forced to adopt counter measures to cope with this German policy of mine-laying combined with submarine activities.
