

INDUSTRIAL PEACE MUST REST UPON INDUSTRIAL JUSTICE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—"There can be no permanent industrial peace that is not based on industrial justice," declared William B. Wilson, secretary of the federal department of labor, today, to the delegates of the American Federation of Labor.

Introduced to the convention by President Gompers, as "Our Bill" and addressing the delegates as "fellow trade-unionists," Secretary Wilson said that he had been criticized for certain statements he had made at the federation's convention at Seattle last year and declared that he reaffirmed what he said there.

The secretary said he also had been accused of partisanship in conducting his department. "If securing justice to those who earn their living by the sweat of their face is partisanship," he exclaimed, "then count me a partisan on the side of the man that labors."

Mr. Wilson in telling of the work of his department said that the last year and a half it handled scores of trade disputes and that all have been settled with the exception of a Pere Marquette strike and the strikes at Calumet and in Colorado. The department, he added, takes the stand that the employer and the employee have mutual interest in creating a greater amount of production with a given amount of labor. They differ only as to the share that should go to each and under the method it should be produced. When the employer and the employee reach this stage, he said, then it is the proper thing to sit down and solve the problem.

Star Theater.

The following is a brief synopsis of the extraordinary photo drama "Traffic in Souls," to open at the Star Theater for a two days showing this afternoon, running through Saturday night.

Of all crimes the worst is the white slave traffic. The agent of this traffic have gone about their deadly work, so that no where are our daughters and sisters safe.

The story opens on a peaceful morning in New York. Jane Barning is ready to go to her employment at a candy store, where she works with her sister Lorna. Lorna is a good loving girl.

Jane's sweetheart is officer 4424 who is keeping an active watch over all suspicious houses on his beat. We next see the home of Wm. Trubus, philanthropist and reformer, who is at the head of "The Citizens League" to fight the system.

His daughter Flora is engaged to "Bobby" Gresham, a rich society man. Our story now moves rapidly. We see the cadets at their work at the railroad depot and immigrant ships. Officer 4424 sees two poor immigrant girls lured into a house on his beat and his suspicions are aroused. He makes inquiries. The bullets of the house are set upon him but he fights them off single handed, succeeds in releasing the girls and puts the whole gang under arrest. This is only one of the many thrilling and sensational scenes that follow each other throughout the entire story. This picture is a powerful dramatic, full blooded sermon, in which human emotions and adventures blend stirring. Based on the actual reports of the Rockefeller investigating committee and District Attorney Whitman's report on the suppression of white slavery. Sanctioned by the clergy and press.

The Star Theater has had many requests to have this wonderful picture returned to Medford, and succeeded in securing it away from its regular circuit that the people of Medford may again be able to see it. This will be the first time that the people of Medford have had a chance to witness such a wonderful picture as this at the regular prices, 5 and 10c.

CITY MANAGER PLAN A SUCCESS AT DAYTON, OHIO

BALTIMORE, Nov. 20.—"The Commission-Manager Plan of Government in the Light of Experience" was discussed by Henry M. Waite, city manager of Dayton, O., at today's session of the National Municipal League. He declared this new form of city government was a success, and in answer to his own question as to whether it could be a permanent success, he said:

"Its permanency depends upon intelligent citizenship, and their continued determination to keep partisan politics out of municipal affairs."

The Dayton plan of five commissioners at large and non-partisan, had resulted in the election of sound business men, he said. They selected the manager, and the latter selected the directors of the five departments, Law, Finance, Welfare, Service, Safety.

"I cannot tell you the political faith of the commissioners or the directors," he said. "They are selected for their ability."

"In our finance department," he continued, "our new accounting system is the same as would be found in any large business. Our budget is scientific. Every month the head of each department receives a complete financial statement which shows the original allowance, expenditures and balance in each account. We keep our expenditures inside our allowances."

"In August, we found that our estimated revenues were too high. With our system of accounting and budget, we were enabled in two days, to reduce expenditures $45,000, and reorganize all work accordingly."

He told home police women were aiding in the handling of women derelicts and domestic troubles; how the fire department was continually making house to house inspections to reduce the fire hazard; how duplication of effort had been saved by combining all philanthropic and city nursing into the Welfare department; how citizens had "turned four hundred dirty spots into four hundred gardens"; and numerous other steps in city improvements.

"These new forms of municipal government have many ups and downs ahead of them," he said.

"Publicity must be given to the results obtained by the new governments. We must obtain an efficient citizenship. Interest should be maintained through the schools. We need fewer elections, longer terms, and thereby greater efficiency."

SCHMITZ COMING TO SAN FRANCISCO SEEKING RE-ELECTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 20.—Former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, central figure with Abraham Ruef in a series of graft prosecutions following the earthquake and fire of 1906, is homeward bound today from New York with the definite intention of entering upon an active campaign for election as mayor next year. This announcement was made by a brother of Schmitz, who said the former mayor would "seek vindication" at the polls.

"My brother is an innocent man suffering under a great burden," said Herbert Schmitz, adding that the former mayor had been victimized by Ruef, who conducted grafting operations without his knowledge.

Twenty-seven indictments found against Schmitz after he was forced out of office have since been dismissed.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today gives a wick child tomorrow, but not genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

SENATOR LODGE GRILLS WILSON'S FOREIGN POLICY

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—Criticism of the administrations' attitude in connection with the recent firing on a boat from the cruiser Tennessee in Turkish waters, and with the Tampico incident in the Mexican troubles was made last night by Henry Cabot Lodge, speaking before the Middlesex club, a republican organization, the senator said:

"The administration is content to have it appear that the Tennessee was fired upon to give warning of mines, but you all know what happened at Tampico. Then within three days American sailors were in Mexican waters and shedding their blood. And now—now the incident of the salute seems to have been forgotten. And the flag was never saluted. "All our efforts should have been devoted to bringing about pacification in Mexico instead of getting Huerta out of office. As it is now, Mexico is in the throes of revolution and the two pets of this administration, Carranza and Villa, are at each other's throats."

"The party in power should remember," Mr. Lodge added, "that these are perilous times. It should inquire into the state of our defense. The president says this is an academic question. This is a fighting world—a fighting age. Let us find out the condition of our army and our navy and the state of our preparedness. Let those findings be made known to the people and then let the people say whether the money shall be diverted from building southern post offices to our defenses."
