Professor M. S. Pitman of the Oregon Normal school will spend a few days the first of the year in Jackson county, studying the rural school problem. Professor Pitman is a very talented man and is very popular as an institute lecturer.

At the home of the bride's parents near Medford at 6:15 p. m., December 2nd, 1914, Elder B. C. Tabor of Ashland, performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Ethel Van Dorfy to Mr. Wm. Hoeft. This happy couple are well and favorably known in Jackson county.

The bridal couple stood under an arch of evergreens decorated with flowers. The bride was beautifully attired in a white messaline gown and carried a beautiful bouquet of orange blossoms and native roses, while the bridegroom wore conventional black. The bridesmaid, Miss Edith McLean and best man Mr. Chas. Hoeft were attired in befitting costumes. Soon the bride and her husband will be comfortably located on their prosperous stock ranch on Lake creek.

Many congratulations and best wishes for long life and prosperity will follow them. At 7:15 a very sumptuous chicken dinner with all the usual and unusual accompaniments was served to twenty-six guests.

Among the fragrant table decorations was a large vase of California orange blossoms.

Four generations were represented at the wedding. The great grand parents were Jasper and Fanny Gillaspay, the grand parents, John and Mary Van Dorfy, mother, Mrs. B. O. Lockwood, son, Berthel Lockwood, aside from these the guests were: Maecle Van Dorfy, Orville Van Dorfy, Bert Lockwood, Frank Gillaspay, Geo. McLean, Lulu McLean, Edith McLean, Paul McLean, Mrs. Rundalls, Karl Hoeft, Lizzie Hoeft, Christina Hoeft, Charles Hoeft, Theo Hoeft, Minnie Edwards, Louise Edwards, Mabel Meehan.

After 7 o'clock a score or more of phone messages from different parts of the county came in, all anxious to know if Mrs. Wm. Hoeft was at home. To avoid the party with bells and tin pans which were on their way, Charles Hoeft took his fine auto, accompanied by Miss Edith McLean, the bridal couple and Elder Tabor, and with a joy ride over our fine roads at one a. m. delivered the elder safely at home at Ashland.

Mrs. Schiefelin, chairman of the civics department of the Greater Medford club gave her report at the club Monday as follows: The ladies of the civics club asked Mayor Purdin to call a meeting for the purpose of organizing "The Associated Charities." The meeting was held at the library, and an enthusiastic response resulted in an active working force. Considerable money was donated the same evening which is being added to daily. At the request of the Medford civics club Mrs. Gard of Ashland called a meeting of all the clubs along the highway, to meet at Ashland to discuss the planting of trees and shrubs along the highway.

They were entertained at the Hotel Oregon for luncheon. An address was given by Mr. Smith. After the speech a discussion ensued, which resulted in the decision to ask the county court for an appropriation to be used for the object of beautifying the highway.

Mrs. Schiefelin personally talked with the churches in regard to the planting of vines around the church buildings, also to interest them in the donation of vines and plants to be put along the railroads and right of way. The majority responded with great cordiality.

The idea is to have one big rally day when all the town will meet to plant trees.

A very pretty wedding took place at the M. E. South parsonage Monday, Nov. 30th, at 2 p. m. when Mr. B. McCain and Bertha Harwell were united in holy matrimony. H. M. Branham, pastor of the Oakdale avenue Methodist church performed the ceremony. The groom is night clerk at the Medford Hotel and has served in this capacity for more than three years. They will live at 206 West Second street.

The social hygiene department of the Greater Medford club met for a study hour at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hansen, 819 North Central this afternoon. The subject for discussion was "The High School Boys."

Three teachers, Miss Ann Hansen, Miss Julia Fielder and Miss Anna Jeffrey, had charge of the program.

Miss Nellie Mordoff of California is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mordoff of this city.

Ralph Lincoln and family expect to leave in a few weeks for their old home in Massachusetts.

Mrs. O. C. Leiter of Portland is a house guest of Mrs. Ed Hanley.

The Greater Medford club second meeting was postponed to the second Monday in December, and the first Monday, December 7, the social hygiene section will meet at the library club room.

The musical which will be held at the Page Theater December 14, will include some of the best talent of the city. An unusually interesting program will be given. The music given at these entertainments of the Greater Medford club is of a high order, and is selected from the best masters.

Medford is fast becoming a musical center, owing in great part to the interest and large attendance at these monthly recitals. Mrs. H. E. Marsh is hostess for the day. The program is as follows:

Miss Gladys Heard, formerly of Medford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff D. Heard, was married at Christ's church Los Angeles, December 1, to Dr. Clyde A. Abbott of Los Angeles, the Rev. Idleman, formerly of Medford, performing the ceremony. Only members of the immediate families were present. The happy couple will make their home in Los Angeles, where Dr. Abbott is a practicing physician. Miss Heard goes to womanhood in Medford and was popular among a large circle of friends.

The Wednesday Study club met at the library last Wednesday and the topic, Rural England, was presented in very interesting papers as follows: Devonshire, Mrs. Merrick; Characteristics of the Country and People, Mrs. Alford; Two Types of Country Seats, Haddon Hall, Chatsworth, Mrs. Wakeman; Typical Farm Village, Mrs. Spedfor. Miss Young in Current Events told of the by-products thrown away at the coal mines and purchased abroad, another way in which we may profit by the war.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Washington school will meet at the school building next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject will be, "The Value of the Beautiful as the Practical Part of Education." The discussion will be led by Mrs. Tucker and Miss Moore. Mrs. Florence Hazelrigg will give a vocal solo and Miss Nana Seely an instrumental solo. All parents and teachers are urged to come and be interested in this great work.

According to "The Barometer," a publication of the Oregon Agricultural College, there has been organized at the above named institution a club composed of over fifty members to be known as the "Southern Oregon Club." Two Medford high school graduates are officers of the club, Armond Taylor being president and Grace Mitchell vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Anderson entertained with a 12 o'clock dinner Tuesday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peck and daughter Virginia of Crown Point orchard, and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Smith.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the Lincoln school will hold their meeting at the school building Friday afternoon, December 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Lowe entertained at dinner yesterday at their farm house across Bear creek near Ashland. The guests were John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, and Agents George Kramer of Ashland and A. S. Rosenbaum of Medford. The dinner was typical of Mr. Lowe's hobby, dry farming, and everything on the table was only such as could be raised on a dry farm. The table fairly roared with the burden of good things. The menu consisted of chicken potpie, Irish and sweet potatoes, cabbage, pickled pears, huckleberries, meat, salad, angel food, cake, peaches, nectaries, nose-cherries and longanberry pie, homemade bread and delicious creamy milk. The guests were shown over the farm after dinner by Mr. Lowe, and they gained enthusiasm over his method of agriculture with each step over the model farm.

Miss Ella Grubb and Jack True were united in marriage at the J. L. Grubb home on A street, Ashland, Thanksgiving morning by the Rev. H. A. Carnahan. Only members of the immediate families were present. Both the bride and groom are well known in Ashland, the former being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grubb, old pioneers of this valley. Mr. True is road supervisor of the district east of Ashland, and was formerly county road commissioner.

The Woman's Relief Corps had a sale of aprons and fancy work and gave a noon lunch November 28th. In spite of rain and cold the sale was fairly well attended and the ladies considered themselves fortunate in disposing of most of their work. A good many were disappointed in not having supper served, but the eatables disappeared so rapidly that by 5 o'clock they were sold out.

Mrs. Guy Childers entertained at her home Wednesday afternoon for a number of her friends. The afternoon was spent in needlework after which refreshments were served. Those present were: Mrs. Clem Childers, Mrs. Sam Richardson, Mrs. Karl Knapp, Mrs. Carl Richardson, Mrs. Guy Childers and Miss Vivian Childers.

The regular meeting of Reames Reames Chapter, No. 66, O. E. S., will be held Wednesday evening, December 9, at 7:30 sharp. Election of officers and social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Shapleigh entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mann at dinner last Sunday.

The Thursday Bridge club was entertained by Mrs. Ira Dodge at her home in Perrydale this week.

An informal dance was given last Tuesday evening at the Country club.

The Daily Fashion Hint.

Fur lined drop skirts are attractive detail in the latest models. This costume is of black velvet. It has vest collar and drop skirt facing of dyed rabbit. The edges are bound with satin, as are the turned edges.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a very enjoyable "Trip Around the World" Wednesday evening in the church tent. There were five booths, representing different countries.

The first was a booth of America, decorated with bunting and flags. Fruit salad and wafers were served here.

The next was Japan. This booth was daintily decorated in cherry blossoms and wisteria. With the travelers seated on cushions, Japanese style, on the floor, tea and rice wafers were served.

Ireland's booth was prettily decorated with a beautiful Irish flag, the harp of "Tara" graced one of the walls, the blarney-stone and a ghost cave where fortunes were told, were also attractive features. The centerpiece of the table was a large green "stovepipe" hat and two small green pipes, with candles and Oregon grape. "Mulligan stew" was the course served here.

Italy's booth was a place to linger with its pretty decorations and charming Italian maidens to wait upon the travelers. Spaghetti and crakers was the fourth course. Miss Ruth Campbell rendered a delightful solo in this booth.

Germany's booth completed the tour. Leon Lawton showed some twenty-five stereopticon views of Germany. The walls were decorated with flags and pennants and a picture of the kaiser and his family. Miss Geraldine Tice, Mrs. Lunt and Dolph Phipps sang several delightful German songs. Coffee and coffee cake were served here as the last course.

The tour was voted a decided success by all of the travelers.

A banquet was given Wednesday evening by the Woodmen of the World for the older members, those of twelve or more years' standing. About sixty-five members of the lodge were present. Among the speakers who were members of long standing or charter members were: Gus Newbury, Frank Waite, J. W. Ling, B. F. Mulkey and Frank Wilson. The meeting was also held for the election of officers. The officers chosen for the next term are: W. E. Morris, consul commander; George W. Cherry, advisor; Lieutenant, C. C. Hoover, banker; W. E. Dodge, escort and B. W. Jackson, clerk. Four new members were initiated Wednesday evening. Messrs. Borden, Marcus, Harrington and Gressly were added to the roll of members.

After the business session a turkey banquet was served.

Miss Calkins and Miss Kreeckbaum of Ashland will give an entertainment in the Applegate district Saturday, December 5, in the socialist hall. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association.

Mrs. F. W. Porter left the first of week on a visit to friends and relatives in the middle west. On her return she will visit relatives in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Walther and daughter, Miss Leab, have returned from Yreka, Cal., where they spent the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Iowa society held a very enjoyable session in St. Mark's hall on Tuesday evening, in which a supper at 6:30 was the first item of interest. Covers were laid for one hundred of the former corn-feds, who did ample justice to the excellent spread.

The program which followed was in many ways worthy of special mention. Miss Lannspach at the piano and Mr. Searls at the drums enlivened with the "Elephant Rag."

Miss Marjorie Myers gave two very interesting readings, "Long o' Dee" and "Little Brown Baby"; Mrs. E. V. Coffin and Miss Ina Coffin sang a duet, "I Sing Because I Love to Sing," and followed by an encore, "When Life is Brightest." Miss Corallita Jacks was much enjoyed in two readings, "A Doorstep Dialogue" and a "Lullaby." Miss Ruth Campbell, accompanied by Miss Koonitz, rendered a very pleasing violin solo, "Spanish Dance," and responded as an encore with "By the Fireside." The audience was delighted with the performance of these little ladies. Mr. Fleming, otherwise known as the Count of Spriggatti, entertained with two selections, "The Great Ball Game" and "Washington's Birthday." Dr. Howard sang "A Perfect Day" and "The Young Men of Medford." Dancing and visiting were then in order until a late hour.

Wednesday evening the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church gave a "School Kid" girls in the Endeavor room. The girls in gingham aprons and sunbonnets and with their hair in braids and curls made charming school kiddies. The boys looked very juvenile in knee trousers. It was noticed that a favorite of all present was the never to be forgotten "all day sucker." Miss Mable Meyers won in the spelling bee. Miss Marie Selley, speaking charmingly in checkered apron, sunbonnet and with long curls, gave a laughable reading, "The Mu-cow-nu" Coffee was served with the luncheon, and all agreed that this was the most enjoyed social held for some time.

Many afternoon parties are being given for the principals of the vaudeville to be given by the Rose society on Monday and Tuesday, December 7 and 8. On Monday, Mrs. O. C. Leiter of Portland, as chaperone for the Chinese dancers, entertained at the residence of Mrs. J. F. Reddy. The principals in the Chinese number are: Billy Morgan, as Tsong Sing, The dancers are: Miss Mildred Wicks, Miss Laura Gates, Miss Mercedes Barber, Miss Browning Purdin.

Mrs. Frank G. Owen, chaperone for the Yama Yama dance entertained on Tuesday afternoon for the dancers.
