The music department of the Greater Medford Club, so ably started over a year ago with Mrs. Ed Andrews as president, and which grew so fast that it was necessary to transfer the musicals from the club room to the Page theatre, is now the musical event of the month. Mrs. Isaacs, who is president of the department this year, is working with great zeal to not only continue the high standard set in the beginning, but to surpass it. The program Monday will be of a high order. An addition to local talent, Miss Calkins of Ashland, a reader new to our city, will assist. Mrs. Marsh is hostess for the day.

The program follows:
Faust De Gounod—two pianos
Mrs. H. E. Marsh Miss Book

Miss Dorothy Doring made mention of in the following from a Washington, Iowa, paper is none other than Miss Dorothy Wicks daughter of T. C. Wicks of Medford.

Not for many months have Washington, Iowa, people who delight in music of an elevating character had such a pleasant evening as they had last night at the Graham, when the Boston Ideal Opera company presented the popular opera "Fra Diavolo." The house was large and the company deserving and Manager Brinton feels very much gratified by the success which attended the production.

This old opera contains many of the airs which have become famous and the Boston company can sing them with a high degree of perfection. Miss Florence Glover and Miss Dorothy Doring not only sang very beautifully, but made an unusually pleasing appearance on the stage. The men's voices were rich in tone and their acting was of the best, notably that of W. H. Burgess, who had the comedy part in the opera. The tenor solos of Frank O. Burgess as Fra Diavolo were very delightful items of the evening's program. The sextette numbers were excellent.

Mrs. F. G. Guy of 713 East Jackson street, entertained at five hundred Friday afternoon. Those present were: Mrs. B. W. Gregory, Mrs. L. B. Platt, Mrs. J. W. Lawler, Mrs. O. King, Miss Elizabeth Blackford, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. F. E. Wahl, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. C. Bowman, Mrs. J. Summerville.

Mrs. Platt won first prize, which was a beautiful piece of hand crochet lace, and Mrs. Bowman, booby prize, a small picture in a frame. Mrs. Guy served a delicious luncheon and was assisted in serving by Mrs. F. E. Wahl of Shady Nook ranch, on Riverside drive, and Miss Elizabeth Blackford.

At a meeting of the high school alumni at the Hotel Medford Wednesday evening it was decided to give an alumni ball Christmas night. Numerous plans were discussed and committees were appointed to look after various details. This affair will be the first to be held this season and the alumni plan to make it the crowning event of the year and will overlook no detail in making it a success.

Mr. Milan principal of the East school of Ashland and Miss Engle of the West school, were visiting the Medford schools Wednesday, they were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanvy.

The Lincoln Parent-Teachers' association met at the Lincoln school Friday afternoon. Three numbers on the program being given by the pupils from the Third and Fourth grades Song, "Will You Come and Play With Me" by the Third Grade Song "The Man in the Moon" by the Fourth grade. Recitation, "Peter Hateman, Fourth grade.

After the regular business session Rev. J. K. Hawkins gave a splendid talk to the parents on "Co-operation." Mr. Hawkins said in part:

"In observing the activities of the city since coming among you, I am happy to say that I find all lines of civic and education are being done in an up-to-date way, and one of the best organizations is that of the parent-teacher. Co-operation means to work together, the parent needs this co-operation of the teacher, because of the interest the parent has in the child. The teacher needs this co-operation because they are trying to help develop the child's mind to his best advantage. It is very hard for the teacher to take special interest in an unusually troublesome child unless they know they have the co-operation of the parent. It is necessary to know the child. For the parents to study the child scientifically. First study the child biological and secondly hygienical, as the racial traits are especially shown in the adolescent age. The diet has a great deal to do with the child's temperament, and children of school age should not be allowed to keep late hours for the growing child needs many hours of restful sleep.

The teacher should know something of the child's home life, and parent and teacher should know each other. Co-operation of parent and teacher means the best for the child and teacher."

The ladies of the Home Missionary society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Hubbard on So. Riverside Friday afternoon. The meeting opened with scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Hawkins. A paper was read by Mrs. Wylie, "Some Things Attempted and Some Things Done." Mrs. Smylie gave a paper of the work in a social way. "A Prophet's Word," by Mrs. McNary told of some of the good things the auxiliary ought to do the coming year. One thing is the organization of the Mothers Jewels. Mrs. McNary was asked to take charge of this work. Six were added to the roll at this meeting. A Christmas box is planned to be packed Tuesday afternoon at the church basement to be sent to the Portland Industrial Home. The box will contain fruit, clothing and toys. Each organization of this society will be represented.

A number of Swedish people residing all the way from Siskiyou mountain to Table Rock, made a neighborly and friendly call on Dr. T. Malmgren at his house in Phoenix last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Malmgren proved herself a most excellent hostess and the guests proved themselves to be most excellent consumers of coffee, Swedish "skoroor" and other tidbits.

Among those present were the following with their families: Dr. F. G. Swedenburg, Dr. A. W. Swedenburg, E. B. Adamson, John A. Anderson, J. L. Johnson, A. J. Anderson, Emil Anderson, O. N. Nelson, Frank L. Benson. Mrs. Maria Raymond and several young people from Medford.

The medical host prescribed Swedish songs and folk games as the best remedy to aid the digestion of his wife's choice refreshments, and the visitors took several large doses of the recipe.

The Woman's Missionary society of the M. E. church South, met in regular business session Wednesday, December 2 and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Frank S. Brandon; first vice-president, Mrs. Robert L. Taylor; second vice-president, Mrs. Eugene W. Whipple; third vice-president, Mrs. Riley D. Henson; fourth vice-president, Mrs. John T. Conrad; recording secretary, Mrs. Riley D. Henson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. E. Kirk; auxiliary treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Branham; local treasurer, Mrs. Robert L. Taylor; agent for missionary voice, Mrs. C. W. Matster; superintendent press work, Mrs. Riley D. Henson; superintendent of supplies, Mrs. C. E. Kirk.

Tuesday evening twelve young ladies were received into the Young Ladies' Sodality at the Catholic church. Those present then adjourned to the parish hall where playing of games and dancing were enjoyed after which salubrious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Josephine Matster gave a literary entertainment at the M. E. Church South last evening. The program was very much enjoyed. A good crowd greeted Mrs. Matster. Refreshments were served at the close of the program, which was rendered as follows:

Solo, Mrs. Will Goulder; reading, Mrs. Josephine Matster; reading, Ray Stringer; mandolin solo, Cyrus Truman Hamilton; reading, Margaret McClain; solo, "Shadows on the Heart," Mrs. Brown; reading, Moore Hamilton; monologue, Mrs. Josephine Matster; duet, "Night," Eunice Brandon and Marella Dyer; reading, Ruth Stringer; reading, Ethel Whipple; mandolin solo, Cyrus Truman Hamilton.

The Parent-Teachers' circle of the Washington school met at the school building Friday afternoon. The subject of the meeting was "The Value of Education," Mrs. Tucker and Miss Moore gave very interesting papers.

Miss Florence Hazelrigg sang a solo in her most pleasing manner and Miss Nana Seely gave an instrumental solo which was very good. This was followed by a song by the pupils of Miss Purucker's room under the direction of Miss Coffin which was enjoyed by all.

These meetings are proving very interesting and all parents are urged to attend.

Miss Sadie Lacy of West Eleventh street, gave a piano recital for her pupils last Wednesday afternoon. The following were present and took part in the program:

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Merrick entertained the Five Hundred club on Monday night.

THE EARL, DEADLYST AND LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY RECONCILED

"Little Lord Fauntleroy," Mrs. Frances Hodgson-Burnett's appealing story of childhood appears on the screen at the Page Theater on Friday and Saturday, December 11th and 12th. It is one of the modern classics of the English tongue. Its theme of mother love, boy's devotion to a mother and a certain idealism of youth struck a response in not only the United States but in England and other lands. The cast is headed by Master Gerald Royston, with a strong cast supporting him. Lovers of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will have the opportunity to compare the photoplay with the book. Few plays have enjoyed the long popularity of this.

The campaign for the sale of Red Cross seals has already been launched. The high school girls were stationed at the various booths all day Saturday filling the wants of the many who were anxious to aid in the relief work. Monday's sales will be in charge of the Guild ladies. The Presbyterian Aid will conduct the sales on Tuesday and the Altar society on Wednesday. Other days will be announced later.

Mrs. R. R. Ebel entertained Le Sanned club at her home on Dakota avenue Friday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with mistletoe and Christmas bells. A two course luncheon was served. Red carnations were favors.

The Women's College club met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. G. Thayer on West Tenth street. The topic of the previous meeting, "New Ideas in Education," was again discussed in an informal manner. The comparison of the Froebel and Montessori system of kindergarten work was given by Miss Coryell.

The house was artistically decorated with Christmas greens, the center piece for the dining table being a miniature Christmas tree. The refreshments, which carried out the Christmas idea, were served to the guests on individual trays. The committee consisted of Miss Robinson, chairman; Miss Briggs, of Ashland; Mrs. Sercomb, Mrs. McCurdy, Talent; Miss Herring, Miss Kribbs and Miss Kentner.

A Parent-Teachers' association was organized at the Jackson school Thursday afternoon. The following officers were elected: Mrs. H. G. Balcom, president; Mrs. Chas. Cole, vice-president; Mrs. E. S. Hitzler, secretary. The next meeting will be held at the school building January 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wortman have returned to their home in this city after a month's visit with friends and relatives in Portland.

The Wednesday Study club will meet next Wednesday afternoon at the public library.
