A dynamite storehouse in Grants Pass, wherein is stored most of the high power explosives used in mining operations in southern Oregon was broken into Monday, and several sticks of dynamite stolen. It is from dynamite that "soup," a liquid nitroglycerine concoction of dangerous tendencies is made. The process is to put the dynamite in a pan of cold water, place on a stove, and let simmer over a slow fire until it is a liquid. In this form it can be poured into small holes. The police of the different valley cities, think this may be the forerunner of an attempt by yeggs to "pull off a big job."

JAP WARSHIP WRECKED

On the Pacific coast and the government at Tokio.

Off Lower California
Port San Bartolome is on the Pacific side of Lower California. Mexico, midway of the peninsula. It is about 400 miles south of San Diego and about 200 miles north of Magdalena Bay where American naval vessels in the Pacific frequently rendezvous. Port San Bartolome is situated in an almost uninhabited country.

Port San Bartolome is considered by mariners as the best harbor the coast between San Diego, Cal., and Magdalena Bay. It is the favorite refuge for whaling vessels to refit and to try out the blubber of captured whales. The harbor is very fine with an entrance a mile wide and free from hidden dangers. The port itself is two and a half miles in diameter. The settlement is sparse and it is assumed there are very few craft here to assist in rescue operations.

May Interne Crew
While the rules of international law permit belligerent vessels to call on neutral craft of all kinds to assist them when in distress, any sailors taken aboard the American ships of war may be interned for the remainder of the war. Article XIII of the second Hague convention says:

"If the sick, wounded or shipwrecked are received on board a neutral ship of war, measures should be taken to see that they cannot again take part in the operations of war." Fruit buds throughout the valley are coming out in fine shape, according to Deputy Fruit Inspector Jack Aitken, who has just finished a tour of inspection of the Central Point, Willow Springs, Medford and Jacksonville districts. Mr. Aitken says he never saw the orchards in such fine shape as at present for this season of the year, and predicts a record crop. In most of the orchards of the valley the work of pruning is under way, and in some the work of plowing has begun.

HENS GET BUSY

EGGS TWENTY CENTS
Hens of the Rogue river valley, so indifferent to laying last fall, have another mood, with the result that the local supply of eggs the last ten days has shown a rapid increase, bringing the price down to 20 cents a dozen, with the supply exceeding the demand. Wednesday farmers sold eggs at the restaurants of the city at this price, and glad to find a purchaser. During the early part of the winter the price of eggs went as high as 30 cents a dozen. Last spring the price at one time was 15 cents a dozen, a low mark.

STEAMER SINKS; CRUSHED BY ICE CHICAGO HARBOR

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The steamer Iowa of the Goodrich Transit company, sank in Lake Michigan about three miles off the river mouth today after being crushed by what lake men declare was the heaviest ice jam seen in years off the Chicago harbor.

The crew, numbering seventy, and the one passenger clambered to the ice pack as the vessel settled and struggled over the ice to shore. Those who reached safety first declared that no one had been lost.

The Iowa, valued at $150,000, carried a miscellaneous cargo from $50,000 to $75,000 in value.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The steamer Iowa, of the Goodrich Transit company, was caught in the ice about three miles off the Chicago harbor and sank today.

The crew and passengers, numbering about fifty, took to the ice. City tugs and the life saving crew started to their rescue.

The steamers Kansas, Arizona and Racine, the former held fast in the ice, were only a short distance from the Iowa. The Racine, which was in clear water, though hemmed in by ice, started to the rescue of those on board the Iowa. The city fire boat, Graeme Stewart, was much hampered by the ice and made slow progress toward the scene.

Occupants of the Carter H. Harrison, crib telephoned to the water department that apparently all of those on board the Iowa had left the vessel before it sank. The crib-keeper watched the boat go down.

Persons watching from the roof of a lake front skyscraper said that the Iowa's men reached the breakwater which guards the mouth of the Chicago river and had climbed on it after a perilous walk of a mile and a half across the ice. Two tugs were making their way to the pier.

The Iowa's crew numbered fifteen ordinarily, and according to the best information there were thirty-five passengers aboard when the vessel left Milwaukee Tuesday.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me," an exciting military drama with Robert Edison in the leading role will be shown at the Page Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening. This is one of the latest productions with Robert Edison, the creator of many star roles, with Claire Whitney, Stuart Holmes, Walter Hitchcock and other leading lights in filmdom. In producing the screen version of this greatest success of David Belasco, neither effort nor money has been spared. The entire company was sent to Assinaboine, Montana, to be in touch with the real Indians, and get the vivid atmosphere of the scenes which are laid in and around a lonely army post. A photoplay of color with strong characterizations and excellent photographs. This great photoplay is another of William Fox-Box Office attractions.

DOG POISONER AT WORK IN THIS CITY

Owners of dogs are warned by the police to keep their pets under close guard, for a dog poisoner is at work in the city. Two pets fell victims this morning to the work of the fiend. One died and the other is under the care of Veterinary A. J. Helms. Strychnine was given, being first sprinkled over a piece of meat. When the animals were first poisoned it was reported to the police that they had been afflicted with rabies, and the police were called. Last year a fiend in human form killed many dogs and cats by encasing a piece of sponge in a chunk of meat. After eating the meat the sponge swelled, causing death.

FOUR APPROPRIATIONS ASKED FOR ALLOWED

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 4.—At a joint meeting of the ways and means committee of the two houses it was decided to allow the state librarian, the state livestock and sanitary board, the dairy and food commission and the board of control the appropriations asked for by each. The appropriation allowed for the first was $38,800; for the second, $48,940; for the third, $36,000; and for the fourth, $15,000.

EDWARD B. DAVIS CROSSES DIVIDE

Edward B. Davis, aged 51 years, one of the owners of the Medford Book Store, and one of the best-known merchants in the city, died at his home, 101 Geneva avenue, Wednesday night, at 9:45 o'clock, following a three weeks' illness, due to a complication of diseases. Death was unexpected and came as a shock to a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

The funeral services, which will be private, will be held from the family residence Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was a member of the Shriners, Knights of Pythias and other fraternal societies, a member of the Medford Golf and Country club and other social organizations, and was of a kindly, likeable nature. He was a native of Maine and leaves a wife in Medford and sister in the east to mourn his loss. Before coming to Medford he was a commercial traveler and lived for many years at Fargo, N. D., coming to Medford five years ago from that city.

A pathetic incident attaches itself to his passing. Just as the curfew rang Wednesday night he asked his wife what it was. She told him "it was the signal for all little boys to be at home."

"This little boy will soon be at home," was the prophetic reply of the sick man.

SMITH BILL ATTACKS PHARMACY BOARD

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 4.—Is there a pharmacist trust at which a bill introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator J. C. Smith of Josephine county is aimed?

Senator Smith's bill provides that any pharmacist registered in another state, which will in like manner recognize certificates of registration in this state, may engage in the practice of his profession without taking an examination.

Under the present law all pharmacists wanting to engage in business in this state must go before the state board of pharmacy and pass an examination.

TREASURERS CONTINUE TO COLLECT TAXES

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 3.—County treasurers will continue to collect taxes from the people of Oregon. The house expressed its attitude on this subject in emphatic fashion, and at the same time took steps to increase the salaries of the treasurers to compensate them for this duty, which was added to the details of their office two years ago. It was also decided to trim down the sheriff's salaries to fit the size of their duties since the tax collecting has been taken away.

GOVERNOR WITHYCOMBE SIGNS TWO MEASURES

RAISE LIMIT ON BEER TO 24 QUARTS

SALEM, Feb. 4.—Additional amendments have been made in the prohibition bill now before the house, but the measure now is ready for final consideration as a special order Friday.

The committee on alcoholic traffic held another meeting this evening at which the maximum limit on the quantity of malt liquors that a resident of the state can import within any 30-day period was raised from 15 quarts to 24 quarts. This was for the purpose of conforming with the methods now in use in handling beer, as 24 bottles make a case.

The quantity of distilled or fermented liquors that may be shipped in as an alternative to the 24 quarts of beer has been unchanged. It remains at two quarts.

The limit on the amount of wine that may be imported for sacramental purposes has been removed. Clergymen may have it shipped into the state in any desired quantity if they make affidavit that it is to be put to sacramental uses only.

ASHLAND YOUTH SMASHED BY AUTO

ASHLAND, Feb. 4.—Frank, 13-year-old son of Jack Barnthouse, was run down by Gwin Butler's automobile Wednesday noon and seriously injured. The lad was on his bike on the way to school, the accident happening on East Main street. It was an accident pure and simple. Mr. Butler took the injured boy at once to the sanitarium which is near the scene of the accident. It is feared his skull is fractured. The lad's mother is in Portland. The family home is on Second street. Barnthouse is an employe of the Ashland Meat company. It is thought that, but for the framework of the bike which helped support the heavier machine, the boy would have been killed outright.

May, 35 years old, of Virginia, in the superior court today. She says May promised to give her a motorboat and an automobile if she would go to San Diego and marry him.
