Washington School circle met Friday afternoon with splendid attendance. The program was especially good. Music by the grades was enjoyed by all, consisting of a song, "Boston Town," by primary, and a vocal duet by Nana Seely and Helen Brown. Miss Robinson, the librarian, gave a talk on "Library Assisting the School," was very educational and full of suggestions for both parents and teachers. She said: "We have a library that ranks with those of larger cities. They aim to carry a complete line of books helpful to pupils in school and are always open to suggestions and ready to talk with teachers and parents in regard to this work, and will supply such books as teachers think necessary in school work, if they haven't them on hand." We all agreed that we should appreciate the many favors extended to the school by the library. Mrs. Guernsey then gave an interesting talk on "Library and School." She explained how to use the library books in connection with school work to get most out of them. She urged the parents to allow the small child to read fairy stories, as they are not false, but real, to the small child, and food for the young mind that has a natural desire for the fairy tales. She gave the names of books and their authors that she has found most helpful to children. A paper by Mrs. Neff, read in her absence by Mrs. Mears, finished this excellent program. Mrs. Neff's paper treated on home reading. She handled her topic in a very able manner. She told of the influence of the reading of good, clean, wholesome books in the home. Parents are responsible and should cultivate in their children a desire for only the best literature. In order to do this they should have a knowledge of books and authors to be able to advise the boy and girl. She had written to and received letters from teachers of schools in other towns, which was read in connection with her paper that helped to bring this message home to parents: That children who have been properly guided along these lines at home around the fireside are much better fitted for school work, as it makes pupils more alert, cultivates good manners and correct use of English. Taking it all through, we had a most enjoyable afternoon. If you want to attend a real, live parent-teacher's circle, come to Washington school.

The Iowa society held its annual meeting and social at St. Mark's hall Friday evening. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, E. V. Coffin; vice-president, L. Hinman; secretary, B. R. Churchill; treasurer, E. W. Witte; executive committee, Mrs. M. F. Sheets, Mrs. E. A. Welch, J. F. Hopkins. After the business meeting a splendid program was rendered: Vocal solo, M. F. Sheets; reading, Miss Thelma Akinaway; violin solo, Miss Ruth Campbell, accompanied by Miss Lucille Koonz; vocal solo, Miss Hinman; reading, Mr. Fleming; vocal duet, "Valentine song," Miss Hinman and Dr. Howard.

The hall was tastefully decorated with red hearts and a jolly good time followed by the sale of comic valentines posted and delivered from the postoffice, arranged for that purpose. Substantial refreshments, also dancing and a pleasant and social evening was enjoyed by all, thanks to the efforts of the committee, Mr. and Mrs. Hoon, Dr. Howard, Mrs. Behling and Miss Gannaway, who made great effort to make the evening a success. Mr. Hoon, as president of the society, has been untiring in his efforts to keep the society together and has made the gatherings a success.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. Moore of North Central avenue Friday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting with twenty-two ladies in attendance. Mrs. W. H. Meeker was leader of the meeting. The reading topic, "The Redman and the Government," was made very interesting by the readings and personal experience of members present. Delicious refreshments of orange sherbet, angel and dark cake were served by the hostess.

The tree planting along the Pacific highway had not been abandoned, but postponed for two weeks. There will be a notice later.

Friday at 12:30 the G. A. R. Post and W. R. C. celebrated Lincoln's birthday by partaking of a chicken pie dinner, served at the Redman hall, one hundred or more being present. After a couple of social hours an enjoyable program was rendered: Instrumental solo, Mrs. Bessie Miller; address, "Life of Lincoln," Mr. Mulkey; vocal solo, Mrs. Root; address, "Present Day of Lincoln," by Newton W. Bourbon; instrumental solo, Irene Norris; address, Lincoln's Nature, Great Heart and Love for All Humanity," by H. A. Canaday; vocal solo, Mrs. Rudolph Shonitz; reading, "Anecdotes of Lincoln," by Mrs. Elsie Clay; vocal duet, Mrs. W. P. Goodwin and Miss Velma Woods. The picture of Lincoln, McKinley and Garfield, presented to the G. A. R. post and W. R. C. by Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sullivan; song, "America." All left feeling that a profitable and enjoyable afternoon had been spent.

The College Women's club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy B. Peebles, 601 Dakota avenue, Saturday, February 13. It was an unusually pretty party. St. Valentine being the idea used. The rooms were gay with quantities of red hearts. A very interesting afternoon was spent discussing "The books we have read in the past three weeks." Leaders, Mrs. John A. Torney and Mrs. Carlin. Dainty and delicious refreshments which carried out the valentine idea, were served. The entertainment committee and the refreshment committee: Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Hammond and Miss Briggs of Ashland; Mrs. Harris Jones, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Newman and Miss Paxton.

The Parent-Teachers' association of Jacksonville gave a Lincoln tea at the high school auditorium Friday afternoon. The Lincoln Tea given by the ladies of the Methodist Church on Bartlett street was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. The visitors were met at the door by the committee representing the different circles and each received a small silk flag as a token of the occasion.

The picture of Abraham Lincoln was the center of the decorations which were flags and bunting, narissau and ferns. The program consisted of:

Piano duet, Mae Lindley and Mrs. Ulrich; reading, Ruth Hawkins; violin solo, Aileen Perl accompanied by Lucile Messenger; an original talk by Mrs. Perl on the "Life of Lincoln" which was very interesting; vocal duet Mrs. Van Scoyoc and Miss Dorothy Wicks; reading, Miss Van Meter; piano solo, Mable Gould.

Each number was of unusual merit. After the program small tables were brought in from which tea and delicious cake were served. Those participating in the event returned to their homes feeling this had been one more step uniting the Ladies of the Church in a closer bond of relationship to each other.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Mr. Dwain Goodman on Ivy street last Saturday evening when about 20 of his friends met to spend the evening with him. The surprise was a success as it was quite an effort for Dwain to understand it after he opened the door in response to the knock.

The evening was spent in playing games and music. After which light refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Maybelle Daniels, Ruth Daniels, Vera Roundtree, Blanche Maulo, Ethel Peterman, Marion Palmer, Mable Gould, Mary Tinker and Velma Woods; Messrs.
