"PUCK" TRIES A UNIQUE EXPERIMENT

First Periodical of National Scope to Turn Its Columns Over to Cause of Suffrage

Of all periodicals of national influence none has been more steadfast in its support of the cause of suffrage than Puck, the famous humorous weekly; and the announcement now comes that the publishers of this celebrated periodical have turned the entire direction of their issue of February 20th (on sale February 16th) over to the suffrage party.

The number will be in charge of an editorial board of prominent suffragists composed of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Norman De R. Whitehouse, Mrs. Anna O'Hagan Slinn, Mrs. Margaret Ayer Cobb and Mrs. Alice Duer Miller. These leaders have in turn enlisted the editorial support of some of the greatest literary and artistic celebrities of the day, including George Ade, R. L. Goldberg, Richard Le Gallienne, Norman Hapgood, Peter Finley Dunne, Chas. Hanson Towne, Gertrude Atherton, "F. P. A." James Huneker, Irving Cobb, John Kendrick Bangs, Wallace Irwin Julian Street, and a host of others. Unquestionably, the number will carry contributions from the most brilliant galaxy of literary "stars" ever assembled in a single issue of an American periodical.

Local suffrage leaders are enthusiastic over winning the support of a national periodical to the extent of controlling its editorial destinies for a special issue, and a number of comely young suffragists will sell the issue on the streets, recognizing its powerful propaganda possibilities.

Newsletters declare that the advance orders for the number indicate an enormous interest in the suffrage movement, and they anticipate no little difficulty in supplying the greatly increased demand for the Suffrage Number of Puck.

"So far as I know," writes the editor of Puck to the Medford Mail Tribune, "no other periodical of national scope has ever donated an entire edition to the cause of equal suffrage, and we are proud to say that this is the most brilliant we have ever turned out."

SUMMONS IN EQUITY FOR PARTITION

WHY?

A word to those who are coming back. Land for the past six months has been hanging at rock bottom prices. A great deal of liquidation has taken place in this time. My business alone in the last half of this year has amounted to nearly $100,000 I believe the last four or five deals I have made represent absolutely the bottom. Land with rental value of $30 an acre will not long remain at $20 an acre. There will be no boom but land values will improve some. Good roads, irrigation, saw-mill, box factory, cheap power, sugar beets, canning factory, good prices, satisfied customers, perfect days. Hurry, see Medford first and
