

OREGON EXHIBIT AT FAIR PRAISED BY WESTERLUND

"The 1915 Panama-Pacific exposition is by far the greatest exposition ever held in the United States and is far in advance of those held in Chicago and St. Louis," says J. A. Westerlund, who returned from San Francisco this morning, where he attended the dedication of the Oregon building Monday and the dedication of the Sweden building Tuesday.

"The Oregon building, on account of its uniqueness, is attracting more attention than any other building, except, of course, the California building. The exhibits that are in place in the Oregon building are fine and are truly representative of our state. As yet some of the exhibits from Oregon are not in place, but are fast being arranged, and the exhibit will be complete in a few weeks.

Frohbach Is Busy

"The Rogue River valley exhibit, in charge of H. O. Frohbach of Ashland, is as fine an exhibit as there is in the building and is being visited by thousands every day. Booklets of the Rogue River valley are in great demand and Mr. Frohbach is busy from morning till night giving information of the resources of the Rogue River valley.

"Mr. Frohbach is doing excellent work. He lives right in the Oregon building, where he has his room and board, thereby being able to be on the spot at all times.

Crater Lake Show

"Crater Lake also has its place in the exhibit. About forty-five magnificent pictures of Crater Lake are now being hung in the building and will advertise Crater Lake as it has never been advertised before.

"The Bagley Canning company of Talent has a fine exhibit of apple cider and are demonstrating to the world our "national drink" after 1915, and it is meeting with popular favor and is being eagerly sought after. If this popularity continues to grow we will have no trouble in disposing of our cull apples in the future.

Look for Visitors

"Medford can now commence to look for visitors from the east on their way to and from the fair. Last Monday nearly 3000 people left Chicago for the coast. The Santa Fe California train left Chicago in eight sections, the Rock Island had two sections and the Union Pacific four sections."

SALE NOW ON FOR "MARTHA"

The great sale for the production of the opera of "Martha" opened this morning with a big demand for seats. Unusual interest is evinced in this event, which launches the Andrews Opera company once more on the theatrical sea after a resting period of several seasons.

The many years of experience behind this well-known company enable them to know the pathway that leads to success, one of the first essentials being to carry none but experienced and capable people.

An excellent company must have a vehicle for the display of their talents, and the management of the Andrews Opera company, after a careful consideration of the matter, believe that no better vehicle could have been selected than Plotow's tuneful and vivacious opera of "Martha." The story of the opera is brought out clearly and considerably improved in that respect by the brilliant dialogue (which bristles with humor) that was written especially for them by the noted playwright, George Broadhurst.

Salvatore Ghidano, the great tenor, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera company, will sing the role of Lionel.

You have heard many selections on phonographs and player pianos from the noted opera of "Martha." Now you have the opportunity of seeing the whole opera, which is to be given at the Page theater on Monday next, March 8, under the auspices of the Medford Elks lodge.

HOLD AUTOPSY ON BODY OF GIRL MISSING A WEEK

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 5.—An autopsy in the case of Lillian May Cook, an 18 year old Brooklyn stenographer, whose body was found in West Rock Park here yesterday, was to be performed here today. The coroner has declared that Miss Cook, for whom the police of three states had searched for a week committed suicide. The autopsy was ordered for the purpose of determining her physical condition when she went to the lonely mountainous park and sent a bullet into her heart.

Miss Cook's employer, Virginius J. Mayo, who as head of the Mayo Radiator company, resided here with his wife, and supported in a house in Brooklyn a woman who formerly occupied the position held by Miss Cook at the time of her death, announced that he was "through with the case." He said that in offering a reward for information concerning the whereabouts of Miss Cook he had been prompted by a desire to aid her family.

WEED FIRE LOSS TOTALS $100,000

WEED, Cal., March 5.—An inventory of damage done by a fire in its lumber yard yesterday was made today by the Weed Lumber company and the original estimate of a loss of $300,000 was reduced to $100,000. When the fire was at its most threatening point the stiff wind suddenly veered, thus saving the mills, factories, business houses and residences, which it was feared for a while would be destroyed.

STOCK DEALINGS ABSORBED PROFITS OF ROCK ISLAND

CHICAGO, March 5.—W. J. Lauck today continued his testimony regarding the financial affairs of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, in an attempt to show the board of arbitration in the western railroad wage case that stock manipulation had absorbed most of the revenues of the road for a long period of years. He quoted from testimony taken in litigation, statements made by officers of the road to the interstate commerce commission and the other records, including financial magazines and railroad manuals.

James M. Sheehan, attorney for the railroads, contented himself with merely bringing out that the alleged financial misdeeds testified to have occurred prior to 1910, when the wages of engineers and firemen were adjusted.

DECIDE THE ISSUE NOW

The issue between stagnation and better business is clearly drawn. Oregonians should strive to permanently displace the articles made outside of the state for those made at home, and thus not handicap the growth of their own manufacturers. A general use of Oregon-made goods will not only build up our factories, but influence others to come. Therefore, patronize Oregon industry and especially remember the following concerns, whose subscriptions make this campaign possible:
