

EAGLE POINT EAGLES

By A. C. Howlett

George Von der Hellen, one of our hardware merchants made a business visit to Medford on Tuesday last.

Hon. Brophy, one of the hustling farmers and stockraisers, was doing business here Tuesday and so was T. F. McCabe. Mr. McCabe has a fine farm and orchard on Rogue river and generally keeps a number of our people supplied with something in the eating line, such as apples, peaches, pears and when they are out of season he brings in garden truck so that we seldom have to go hungry.

Floyd Pierce, deputy assessor, has been interviewing the taxpayers of Eagle Point during the past week as to what they had and he manages to keep everybody in a good humor all the time. He is the right man in the right place.

Florence Bloomfield, who has been teaching school in the Nye district came in Tuesday on an ass from Lost creek where she had been to engage another school, as well as a drowned rat, cold, hungry and tired and spent the night at the Sunny Side. She engaged the school all right.

I. C. Moore came in Tuesday evening to the Sunny Side from his Elk creek ranch on his way to Ashland with a team. He put up his team at the livery stable of Harnish & Son.

J. S. Quackenbush came in on Wednesday after a small lot of fruit trees.

Mrs. J. C. Gaines of Trail came out on the P. & E. and took the E. P. Persist stage for her home and one of the Moore brothers who has a homestead on the head waters of Elk creek, was also on the same stage on his way home.

There is a move on foot to put up another telephone line starting here and running to the free ferry. It will accommodate quite a number of people on the route. The company was organized last week and Wm. Winkle was elected president, John Blass vice-president, and Marshall Minter secretary. The president tells me that they are going right to work and put the line up.

Prof. George O. Henry who has been teaching in the Peyton district came into the Sunny Side Wednesday night for a late supper. He has a homestead near the mouth of Big Butte creek. He was on his way to Medford.

F. T. Holtz, the general runabout for the P. & E. railroad, has gone to San Francisco to attend the Panama exposition, he is accompanied by his wife and two children. After viewing the fair Mrs. Holtz and the children expect to go back east to visit her parents.

Roy Ashpole one of hardware merchants, has been having a change in exercise while helping Mr. Clinegar to mark and brand his cattle. Roy is an expert with a rope.

L. S. Groppe the foreman and engineer on the Dodge farm—River-side—came out Thursday and took out a pair of thoroughbred Bronze turkeys to the farm. They were shipped to H. L. Dodge. People are beginning to wake up to the fact that it costs no more to raise a good article, no matter what it is in the vegetable or the animal kingdom, than it does to raise an inferior article. These progressive farmers are teaching us old mossbacks a new trick altogether.

P. A. Bosney of Ashland, representing the Southern Oregon Broom company of Ashland, was here for dinner Thursday and he says that they have built up such a business that they expect next season to furnish all the brooms used in the valley. That our soil produces a fine quality of broom corn.

Roy Davis of Derby was at the Sunny Side for dinner Thursday and at night E. A. Hildreth and wife of Butte Falls came in to spend the night. He was on his way to the county seat to get ready to begin assessing the Butte Falls district.

N. T. McDonald and Miss Ella Rhoads who is teaching on upper Trail and another young lady teacher and a man whose names I did not learn, went up to the Trail and Elk creek country Thursday morning on the stage.

J. D. Arnes and wife were doing business in our town Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Willison of Ashland, who are travelling for the firm of Wadlams & Kerr Bros., Ed Monson of Derby, Mrs. H. A. Meyer and son, and G. H. Wamsley were at the Sunny Side for dinner Friday.

Bert Clarno was in town Friday morning after a new wagon he had just bought in Medford and engaged 500 pounds of seed potatoes from F. L. Heath.

Mrs. High and a friend of hers of Ashland were up here to look over the Eagle Hotel property Friday and took dinner with Miss Louisa Blass the present proprietor. Miss Blass and Miss Hazel McClellan went to Medford Wednesday night to attend the play at the Page.

AT THEIR GAY PRANKS

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

C. J. Graham of Nevada City, Cal., was in town the last of the week, visiting his friend, C. C. Weisenburger, who came from that vicinity. Graham is a mining expert. He returned south on Saturday, accompanied by Mr. Weisenburger as far as Hornbrook.

William E. Foltz of Lancaster, Pa., arrived Thursday for a visit with his brother, Frank, who is the local Southern Pacific storekeeper. His trip west will also include all principal points of interest on the coast. The visitor is a veteran in the employ of the Pennsylvania lines, having been for years a conductor, and is now retired on the pension list. The brothers had not met previously in twenty-three years. They were both recently at the San Francisco exposition, but did not chance to meet.

D. Peruzzi of the Ashland creamery left for San Francisco and the exposition last Friday evening. He probably won't continue the trip to include San Diego's fair on this particular outing.

George Hargadine, one of the earlier game wardens of the Ashland district, still continues in state employ, although in a capacity not considered quite so dangerous as recent events have demonstrated. George is now inspector of game refuges, and it is his business to look after the stocking of these preserves and note the advantages which certain districts enjoy in the way of propagating game birds. Although his work has been mainly confined to Jackson county, he has been called over to the Klamath region on various occasions. The Modoc refuge of 2000 acres in the Table Rock section is the largest tract coming under his supervision thus far.

Two teachers of the local schools were visitors to other educational centers last Friday. Miss Bertha Eliason, fifth grade, East school, went to Medford, where she visited the Lincoln and Roosevelt schools. Miss Beulah Caldwell, fifth grade, West school, went to Grants Pass on a similar errand. These visits are reciprocal between neighboring towns, the custom having been in vogue for some time past. The plan is to have the grade teachers exchange these visits at least once a year, noting merits or demerits in the respective systems, and they are expected to profit accordingly.

Willard T. Veghtle, builder and contractor, who for the past four months has been touring various portions of California, returned to Ashland Friday for an indefinite stay.

Young people's societies of the various churches held a union meeting at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. A delegation was present from Medford, H. O. Butterfield of the Baptist Young People's Union presided.

A picture of the new armory at Roseburg, appearing recently in Portland papers, bears a close resemblance to the headquarters here occupied by the Coast Artillery Corps.

N. T. McDonald and Miss Ella Rhoads who is teaching on upper Trail and another young lady teacher and a man whose names I did not learn, went up to the Trail and Elk creek country Thursday morning on the stage.

J. D. Arnes and wife were doing business in our town Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Willison of Ashland, who are travelling for the firm of Wadlams & Kerr Bros., Ed Monson of Derby, Mrs. H. A. Meyer and son, and G. H. Wamsley were at the Sunny Side for dinner Friday.

Bert Clarno was in town Friday morning after a new wagon he had just bought in Medford and engaged 500 pounds of seed potatoes from F. L. Heath.

ALONG ROGUE RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Bliton are the proud parents of a 19-pound son which arrived in Ashland one day last week.

Misses Mattie and Jessie Winter entertained Mesdames Roy Smith, Newport, G. Bellows, F. Castor and Foster at dinner last Friday.

Miss Diehl's Minter spent the week end with Mrs. G. Bellows.

Miss Rose Nealer spent Friday night as the guest of Miss Mary Robertson.

Ed Foster made a business trip to Medford Tuesday.

Mrs. Mae Daw and son Cyril returned to their home above Trail Saturday.

Joe Phillips of Florence Rock passed enroute to his home Saturday.
