

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

The last time that I wrote for the Mail Tribune it was on my 83d birthday, and I then told the readers of that valuable publication that Mrs. Howlett was planning to give me and my friends a big feed that afternoon. The whole thing had been arranged between Mrs. H. and our daughter, Hattie, and the first intimation that I had of anything in that line going on was as I happened to be looking around in the kitchen on Monday I discovered that there was a large turkey and one or two dead chickens and that being on Monday I began to "smell a mouse" and naturally asked Mrs. H. if she was inviting in some of our old friends for my birthday dinner and Hattie spoke up and said: "Now, you ask no questions, but be sure that you are here at 5 o'clock sharp." So I simply kept mum, and sure enough, on that afternoon about 5 here came Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knighton, and then came Mr. and Mrs. James Jordan, and then—well, as I did not keep tabs on what order they came, I can't say in what order they did arrive, but by the time they were through coming there was, in addition to the afore-named persons, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. David Cingende, Grandma Heckathorn, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stewart, Mrs. A. M. Thomas and G. H. Wamsley. They all gave me a hearty greeting and wished me many returns of my natal day. It was but a short time until we were invited out to the dining room, where the table was spread with enough to make the heart of a hungry man leap for joy, for it was not an ordinary meal, but enough of what the ordinary person would call "good things" to supply a young army. Well, after we had eaten of roast turkey, chicken, roast pork, cold boiled ham, potatoes, corn, etc., then Mrs. H. came in with a great large cake, covered with eighty-three wax candles, all lighted, and demanded of the company to count the candles, but before anyone could have time to count, Mrs. Cingende cried out eighty-three, and by that time the heat from the candles was such that they had to be extinguished, and then four different kinds of cake, sweetmeats, jellies, cream pies—orange salad, peaches and cream, etc., were served, and about that time I drew my little book and pencil and began to inquire the age of each individual and found that the sum of their ages including myself was 1122, and the average was 70 years and a fraction—a hale, hearty and happy company that will stand as an advertisement for the healthfulness of Oregon.

There was one little incident occurred just before dinner was announced, and that was that the ladies all repaired to the parlor and in a few minutes marched out in regular order, and each presented me with a little token of friendship and a word of congratulation and a wish that I may live to see and enjoy many returns of my birthday. After dinner was over and the men who indulged in the use of the weed had had their evening smoke, we all repaired to the parlor, where we were entertained with some choice selections of music on the phonograph by M. S. Wood, that he had brought from home to play on the occasion. Later in the evening some of the ladies asked to see some needlework that Hattie had been doing and that brought out a request to see some needlework, embroidery, etc., that a young man has done who lives with us, and that brought the decision that his work was equal to any that any one of the ladies present could do, and those of us who wished spent the evening in social converse until near 10 p. m., when the company dispersed, expressing the wish that we all may live to celebrate many more of my birthdays.

Well, here I have about a column of matter already written, and no Eaglelets yet.

Mrs. A. M. Thomas, who has a sale tomorrow, Saturday, has rented her horse to Walter Cardwell, who was married to Miss Hattie Riley last Wednesday, March 17, and expects to move to Central Point by the last of next week.

Mrs. Frank Corlies, wife of the foreman of the Alaxista orchard has been visiting her son in Agate last week.

H. G. Meyer, the mailcarrier on the route from here to Lake Creek, took up a lot of fruit trees for his brother, Henry, last Thursday.

Gus and Fritz Peek of Lake Creek were here Thursday after seed grain to sow this spring.

Among the business callers Thursday was Senator von der Hellen.

Morton Berdon, the man who is moving Frank Lewis' confectionery and pool hall, had the grump so that he was unable to work this Friday morning.

Mrs. Henry Conn of Roseburg arrived at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. M. Thomas, Thursday.

F. J. Heath, one of our merchants, has placed a large gasoline reservoir in front of his store, so as to supply the travel.

W. L. Childreth has had a new sign painted for his blacksmith shop, S. H. Harsh has also had a sign painted telling the public that he has an auto to hire. Thomas Riley, Jr., is doing the work.

Court Hall of Medford came out Thursday in his car and brought Mr. and Mrs. John Ashpole and Mrs. Tille Nichols, and he came out Friday morning and took Miss Louise Blass, the proprietress of the Eagle hotel and Miss McClellan to Medford.

Mrs. Fred Dutton was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Harsh, Friday, and Thursday night we had Mr. McArthur here for supper and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Anderson of Seattle, Wash. Mr. Anderson is soliciting for the Crescent Manufacturing company. They went Friday to Trail and McCloud and returned to Medford in the evening.

I should have said in mentioning the names of those invited to the birthday dinner that Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Florey and Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols were invited, but Mrs. Florey had hurt her shoulder so that she could not come, and Mr. Nichols had so many duties to attend as mayor of the city that he did not come.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Frank Garrett returned to the oil fields in the Bakersfield district of California last Saturday, after a long visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrett. His brother Fred went along with him and proposes also to get an insight into the oil business from the ground floor up.

Frank Clark, architect of Medford, was here the last of the week taking in the Elks' festivities. He was a former resident and was greeted by a host of friends both in and outside of fraternal circles. Very opportunely he had with him some fine pictures of the new Elks' temple at Medford and other imposing buildings of that city in the planning of which he had an important part.

Al W. Storey and Wilson Barber, both residing on Granite street, were not only exchanged their respective properties in that locality, but also some other realty involved in the deal which was one on the give and take basis.

Alex Smith of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, was in Ashland last week visiting his cousins in the Beaver and Yockey families, having extended his trip to this valley after spending the winter at Brownsville. This was his third visit to the west, but the first to this particular vicinity, a section with which he is greatly pleased.

Mrs. Martha E. Rapp has sold her property which extends through from Oak street to First avenue, upon which are two residences, to Dr. Fisher, Christian Science practitioner, who will occupy one and improve both. Mrs. Rapp will return to Talent to live.

High school seniors formed in theatrical procession Friday evening, and marched to the Vining, where they witnessed the final performance of "The Million Dollar Mystery." The student body was duly chaperoned and the reel films censored. The effect was dramatic.

Rev. J. F. Hamaker, former rector of Trinity church here, has resigned after a brief six months pastorate of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Visalia, Cal., and has removed to Greensboro, Alabama. The latter place is where the family of F. F. Whittle of this city, came from. The Pickens family, who resided here a year or more and returned south some time ago, have their permanent home at Greensboro. The town affords a flourishing Episcopal church the parish being also equipped with a substantial rectory.

TALK ABOUT A BARGAIN! How's this: 160 acres prime foothill soil, close in, 75 acres in cultivation, spring water piped in, beautiful building site and above all, ten acres of best young orchard in the west, principally Newtown Pippins, yielding in 1914, second crop, more than 1400 boxes extra fancy export apples.

Practical orchardists know this is the time to buy pear and export apple orchards. They know, too, the merits of foothill orchard land.

That isn't the point, though. This entire 160-acre tract, overlooking railroad and town, can be bought for only $6500, on terms that will take care of deferred payments from the product of the orchard. Don't delay about this, or the other fellow will get it.
